

KINGSFORD-SMITH AGAIN CONQUERS PACIFIC, LANDING AT OAKLAND 2 HOURS AHEAD OF TIME

ATLANTAN KILLED, ANOTHER INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

James Earl Rabun, 30, Loses Life on Highway Near Canton in Attempting to Flag Passing Car for Lift.

MAN STRUCK HERE BY HIT-AND-RUN CAR

P. B. Jernigan, 56, Critically Injured Near Home on Clark Street; Police Seek Negro Driver.

One Atlantian was killed and another critically injured in two automobile accidents Sunday.

James Earl Rabun, 30, of 751 Ashby street, died en route to an Atlanta hospital of injuries received when he was struck down near Canton by a motorist he sought to flag for a ride, and P. B. Jernigan, 56, of 292 Clark street, N. E., was struck by a hit-and-run automobile early Sunday night near his home.

Witnesses to the accident near Canton said Rabun attempted to catch a ride with the motorist and got in front of the oncoming car. The driver swerved to avoid striking Rabun but the Atlanta man turned and ran in the same direction. The automobile struck him before wrecking on the side of the road. The driver was not hurt. Canton officers held the accident unavoidable, and no charges were made.

An ambulance was summoned to bring the Atlanta man to a hospital here but he died before reaching Marietta.

A speeding car driven by a negro ran down Jernigan on Clark street near his home as Jernigan started across the street. He had spent the afternoon at home with his wife and left her to go out to buy a package of cigarettes, she said. Two hours later two unidentified negroes called at her home and told her Mr. Jernigan was in Grady hospital.

Physicians said Jernigan's skull is fractured and he was unconscious Sunday night. His condition was said to be extremely critical.

Relatives of Rabun said he had been visiting his mother, Mrs. P. B. Rabun, and his sister, Mrs. Vera Vaughn, in Canton, and was hitchhiking back home when he was killed. He is survived also by two brothers, Robert Rabun, of Atlanta, and Otis Rabun, of Social Circle, and another sister, Mrs. Nina Vaughn, of Thomson, Ga. Funeral arrangements will be announced by the West Side Funeral Home.

The senator referred to charges made by cotton farmers in a poll being conducted by the Commercial Appeal.

The News at a Glance

Clip this page daily and make your scrapbook a thumbnail history. Nov. 5, 1934.

LOCAL:
General election Tuesday to be "free-for-all" in three counties—Gilmer, Pickens and Towns—where republicans are so strong democratic primary passed unnoticed. Page 1.

"Bone-dry" southeastern states lead the nation in the production of illicit liquor, says head of federal alcohol tax collecting unit here. Page 1.

J. M. Morris, 78, and Willie Hester, 38-year-old negro, found dead, apparently struck by trains, at two points on Seaboard Air Line tracks. Page 1.

James Earl Rabun, 30, killed by automobile while attempting to flag it down for lift on highway near Canton; P. B. Jernigan, 56, struck and critically injured by hit-and-run driver here. Page 1.

George Gentry, critically wounded in shooting affray which cost the life of J. L. Lindsay, guarded at Grady hospital after attempt to escape. Page 5.

STATE:
MACON—State headquarters of the American Legion to move to Macon Tuesday. Page 1.

AUGUSTA—Georgia nurses to convene here today. Page 6.

MACON—Georgia Baptist convention asks colleges to surrender

Electors Will Pass Judgment On New Deal in Tuesday Vote

Prohibition and Local Issues Thrust Into Secondary Positions As Fight Centers About Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(UPI)—The average man tonight looked over the cards that have fallen to him in 20 months of the New Deal, trying to decide whether to say "yes" or "no" at Tuesday's election.

At stake in addition to local offices are 432 seats in the house and 36 in the senate. Nineteen states will ballot on 57 proposed constitutional revisions. Only 47 states vote Tuesday. Maine voted last September, electing one republican senator, one republican representative and two democratic representatives. The same party alignment represented Maine in the 73d congress.

Prohibition is an issue in eight states. Voters in Idaho, Nebraska, West Virginia, South Dakota, Kansas and Florida will decide the fate of constitutional amendments calling for repeal of state dry statutes. Retention or repeal of prohibition is the subject of a referendum in Wyoming while Massachusetts is polling its people for an opinion on the sale of spirits, wines and beer.

The national campaign ended last night when democratic and republican party leaders issued statements predicting victory. Chairman Henry P. Fletcher, of the republican national committee, forecast the defeat of between 60 and 70 democratic house members. He said the G. O. P. strength in the senate would not be impaired.

Chairman James A. Farley, of the democratic national committee, expects to make "some gains" in the house and to win at least four more senate seats.

The political alignment of the 73d congress was:

Senate: 60 democrats, 35 republicans, 1 farmer-laborite. House: 309 democrats, 113 republicans, 5 farmer-laborites.

The chief interest in the campaign has centered about the future political complexion of the house. It is customary for the administration to suffer reversals at the polls in an off-year election. The average gain of house seats by the anti-administration party is 49.

New Dealers expect to see more republicans in the lower house in the 74th congress despite Farley's optimistic forecast. No one, however, believes the number of democrats who will fall by the wayside will reach the 60 or 70 predicted by Fletcher.

Thus democratic leaders will consider the loss of as many as 35 house seats as a vote of confidence by the nation in the policies adopted by President Roosevelt.

The campaign has been marked by bitter inter-sectional fights. Once gubernatorial battle of Upton Sinclair, democrat, in California, has attracted national-wide interest. In Wisconsin, Senator Robert M. La Follette Jr., who gave the New Deal active support, is seeking re-election.

Mr. Roosevelt would like to see La Follette returned to the state. Administration inroads of his candidacy was made impossible by the fact that for the first time in years party leaders in the state feel that they have an excellent chance of sending another democrat to the senate.

The administration is confident that Senator Simeon D. Fess, republican, Ohio, will be replaced by former Governor Victor Donahay, a democrat. The democrats have put up a hard fight to defeat Senator David Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, a persistent critic of the New Deal. Republican leaders concede that the G. O. P. majority will be shaved drastically but forecast Reed's re-election.

The gubernatorial campaign in New York attracted considerable interest. President Roosevelt announced before returning to Hyde Park, N. Y., to vote that he would cast his ballot for Governor Herbert H. Lehman, whose capabilities he praised.

Democratic leaders are predicting a party victory in New Jersey, where Governor A. Harry Moore is seeking election to the United States senate. He is battling the incumbent, Senator

Continued in Page 5, Column 4.

G. O. P. POWERFUL IN THREE COUNTIES

Gilmer, Pickens and Towns Paid No Attention to Primary.

By GLENN RAMSEY.
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Three counties in mountainous north Georgia, where republicans are so strong that no democratic primary is held, Tuesday will elect representatives in the state legislature.

Gilmer, Pickens and Towns counties—under the influence of republican, east Tennessee, just across the line, paid no attention to the September 12 democratic primary.

There are candidates of both parties, selected at caucuses, and the decision is left to the general election, a free-for-all contest. Sometimes the republicans and at other times democrats to the state assembly.

Otherwise the republican party does not figure in Tuesday's election. There are no state-wide contests to be decided but there is much interest in the outcome of the fight between Paul Lindsay and Reuben Garland for one of the three DeKalb county seats in the lower house.

2d District Fight Watched.

And, because of one of the men involved, folks who follow politics are watching closely for the outcome of the vote between Roy Tillman, an independent, and John Beasley, in the second senatorial district.

Beasley, the democratic nominee.

Continued in Page 5, Column 5.

Broad Pacific Bows to Airmen

CAPTAIN TAYLOR AND COM. KINGSFORD-SMITH.

REVOLT SPECTER STALKS IN PARIS AS CRISIS NEARS

PARIS, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Renewal of civil strife such as that which took 28 lives last February is the fear of French authorities, apprehensive of the results of Premier Gaston Doumergue's forthcoming challenge to parliament on Wednesday.

The aged premier, guardian of French political truce, has challenged the chamber to a quick finish fight over constitutional reform, the issue which already has produced a dangerous split in the government.

French troops movements into Paris to prevent an outbreak of rioting like that which brought Doumergue into power were circulated tonight despite a denial from the war ministry.

Officials indicated the police would be reinforced with mobile guards from French political truce, since one of the worst political crises in recent French history is forecast if Doumergue is defeated in parliament. It is to be a one-man battle against political opponents for the aged premier.

Challenge.

Throwing down the gauntlet in the form of a proposal that credits for three months be voted to parliament to give all its time to debate on the constitution, Doumergue announced he would face the chamber on this issue Wednesday.

The move was regarded as a mask of parliamentary procedure disguising the real issue, which is the premier's insistence that he and the president be given power to dissolve parliament without the consent of the senate, a demand which his opponents fear may lead to the establishment of dictatorial powers.

He warned that if he loses his first battle he will immediately ask the senate to dissolve the chamber preparatory to general elections.

Solemn warnings of a possible attack on parliament by angry thousands of Frenchmen if the political truce is broken was sounded by Doumergue's supporters.

The premier, his voice losing its accompanying famous smile in a radio appeal to the country last night, was seeking to rally public support in his fight against "the intrigues of politicians."

Pierre-Etienne Flandin, minister of public works, followed the appeal of the chief with a speech calling upon the center group, which he heads, to

Continued in Page 4, Column 5.

17 Smuggled Chinese Found By Raiders in Jersey House

KEANSBURG, N. J., Nov. 4.—(AP)—State police and federal narcotics agents today raided a supposedly vacant house and found 17 Chinese, believed brought here by a smuggling ring, locked in a cell-like basement room.

A negro, armed with two .38-caliber revolvers, was arrested without a struggle when the troopers found him lying on the dining room floor in the darkened house. He said he was Mac Donald Hart, 30, former Trinidad, British West Indies, taxi driver and admitted gambler.

Hart said the Chinese had been placed on guard over the Chinese by the smuggling ring.

A long steel chain ringed through with smaller chains and padlocks was found on the floor of the basement cell. Police believe the prisoners were locked to the chain while being transported by the smugglers.

Hart said the Chinese had been landed from Trinidad at Norfolk, Va., and brought in trucks by night to Keansburg. Federal agents expressed belief the smuggled men were brought ashore from a ship at anchor in Raritan bay.

One of the Chinese who spoke Eng-

'Bone Dry' South Leads U. S. In Activity of Moonshiners

Atlanta District Far Ahead of Nation and of Own 1932 Record, Federal Figures Show; Making of Real "Corn" a Lost Art.

By ROBERT BUNNELLE.
Associated Press Staff Writer.

The moonshiners in dry Dixie lead the nation in the production of illicit liquor, but the stuff that they make isn't corn any more.

R. E. Tuttle, acting supervisor of the federal alcohol tax collecting unit for the Atlanta district, embracing Georgia and Alabama, both with spectacularly strict dry laws, and South Carolina and Florida, also dry states, explained the situation Sunday, illustrating with figures.

Not only is the Atlanta district far in the lead of all other districts in the United States in moonshining, he said, but it appears that there are approximately twice as many stills in operation within it as in any other district.

Tuttle explained that the moonshiners' product is ultra-infected. "The 'corn' liquor for which the southern moonshiner once was famous isn't even a pretense of corn any more," Tuttle said. "It really is a very inferior grade of rum."

"When I came to Georgia 21 years ago Georgia 'corn' was being made of grain with sprouted corn as a malt to bring about fermentation. What we find now in the southeast is made largely of brown and perhaps a little granulated sugar with some bran for cow feed mixed in to give it a little body. The alcohol comes from the sugar and it amounts to a very poor rum."

"Shiners Operations Shown."

Then he brought out charts to show the operations of the moonshiners, comparing the situation in the four southern states with that elsewhere. They were based on the August report of the department. Tuttle explained it was figured that the number of stills captured was in direct ratio to the number in operation. In other words, where the moonshiners operate the federal agents have the best hunting. The more they capture, the more they figure there are in operation. A rough catch means lesser stills in operation to them.

In August this year, the federal official's chart showed, 513 stills were captured in the Atlanta district, compared with 279 stills captured in the same month in 1932. Now, in New York district, a wet region with, however, many times the population of the southeastern states, there were captured only 50 stills in 1934 as compared with 129 in 1932. Thus it could be assumed with reasonable accuracy that there were around ten times as many illicit distilleries in operation in the Atlanta as in the New York district, this year. In the Atlanta district were taken 316,000 gallons of mash in August this year compared with 176,000 in 1932 and 83,000 gallons of liquor in 1934 as compared with 38,000 in 1932.

Huge Daily Capacity.

The stills taken in Atlanta district, Tuttle went on, had a total average daily capacity of 81,000 gallons. "That means," he said, "that operating at a minimum the stills we took in these four states could have produced liquor enough to supply a gallon and a half of liquor every month to every person in them."

"We're taking more stills and bigger ones with fewer men now than during prohibition," he said. He attributed the increase partially to an attempt by moonshiners to invade the wet states and undersell the legal liquor manufacturers.

"But," he added, "we doubt if it worked, for the stuff is so inferior and you can see by the figures that moonshining in every other district but the Atlanta one decreased, with the drop particularly noticeable where legal liquor is being sold."

He said that he was of the opinion that moonshining had been dropping in the southeast during the last two months and added that he believed also that the counterfeiting of federal tax stamps had about been halted.

Legion Transfers Gains Predicted

Atlanta To Lose Headquarters Tuesday; Would Named Committeeman.

MACON, Ga., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Headquarters for the department of Georgia of the American Legion will move to Macon from Atlanta Tuesday and will be located in a local hotel, according to action taken today by members of the executive committee in session here.

The committee took action on many other subjects, including election of James Gould, Brunswick, as national committeeman, and Ed Dunlap, as alternate. The election is to fill the unexpired term of Quimby Melton, Griffin, who resigned from the position to accept the office of vice commander of the national organization.

The Legion headquarters were moved to Macon to centralize activities in the state. Lieutenant Stanley Jones, of Macon, is state adjutant and the home of the department commander, DeLacy Allen, is at Albany.

A number of other appointments were made by DeLacy Allen, Albany, department commander. He also called a meeting of post commanders, adjutants, service officers and historians for November 25 in Macon.

Committee appointments not made at this time will be announced later. Appointments made by Mr. Allen were: A. L. Henson, service officer; Arthur Cheatham, Macon, assistant service officer; Henry W. Davis, Jefferson, judge advocate; Ben T. Line, Macon, membership; Frank Chambers, Atlanta, uniforms; Homer G. Riden, Americus, a service officer; Walter Whitehead, Elberton, community service; Roy Crockett, Atlanta, drum and bugle corps; Frank Mitchell, Athens; M. A. O'Connell, Augusta, rehabilitation; Harry Phillips, Atlanta, fire prevention; Dr. Sidney A. McGee, Milledgeville, foreign relations; Quimby Melton, Griffin, Georgia products; Dan McCarty, Columbus, hospital in Columbus; George McKinney, Columbus, law and order; Jim Maddox, Rome, liaison with auxiliary; B. McWhorter, Atlanta, safety.

Transfer of the Legion headquarters to Macon follows the naming of Lieutenant Stanley Jones, U. S. N., of Macon, as state adjutant. Lieutenant Jones succeeded William A. Sirmion, of Atlanta, who resigned as adjutant some time ago.

Atlantan Is Cleared In Florida Fatality

SEBRING, Fla., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Floyd Garrett, 21, of Avon Park, died here at a hospital today from injuries received Friday in an accident near Lake Placid when his motorcycle collided with an automobile driven by Henry Tenzler, of Atlanta. Garrett received a fractured skull and broken legs. Tenzler was not held, authorities said, when witnesses testified he was not responsible for the crash.

Continued in Page 4, Column 4.

7,365-MILE FLIGHT MADE WITH STOPS AT ONLY 2 POINTS

Last Leg of 2,408 Miles From Honolulu to California City Covered in 14 Hours and 59 Minutes Despite Fog.

EARLY ARRIVAL MARS RECEPTION

Intrepid Australians
Check Speed During Last Part of Journey
But Still Beat Schedule.

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, apologizing for an early arrival from Honolulu, landed his trans-Pacific monoplane here today, rested a few hours and then flew on to Los Angeles.

The landing here at 7:44 a. m., 10:44 a. m. eastern standard time, completed a 2,408-mile flight from Honolulu in 14 hours and 59 minutes, the final hop in a flight from Australia.

The soaring Australian knight, who fought through fog banks to reach here, still retained the urge to fly, however, and hopped another 340 miles for the southern California airport before calling it a day. He said he had a business engagement there.

It was with difficulty that officers opened a lane in the crowd of about 20,000 for the world-famous pilot of Los Angeles, to advance through and make his official welcome.

"I am grateful for and proud of this ovation," said the flyer, but Los Angeles is famed for its reception.

Nearly two hours ahead of his schedule, Sir Charles rocketed in at terrific speed, poked his nose over the face of the cockpit and spoke a grinning apology.

"I am sorry to be so early," he remarked, "but I had to get to Los Angeles before the fog set in. My navigator, Captain F. G. Taylor," Greeted by Friends.

Among the crowd to greet the daring aviators were Harry Lyon and James Warner, who with Charles Ulm flew with Kingsford-Smith from Oakland to Australia in 1928.

Sir Charles, knighted for that daring flight, brushed aside the dangers of the Honolulu-Oakland journey, one of the longest in the world, over which he was the first to fly.

The chief worry of the perilous trip, he said, was the fear that he would arrive before his scheduled time of 9:30 a. m.

The blue and white monoplane, Lady Southern Cross, circled the field once and then landed perfectly at a fast speed.

Sir Charles, wearing a blue denim flying suit with a big fur collar, idled the plane up to the hangar, where the plane's wing flaps fell down.

"I don't remember what our position was at the time, but it was nothing like that 8,000-foot spin on our chasing point over farm families may, in general, be expected."

"Boy, I sure had that fixed that."

Continued in Page 4, Column 6.

GEORGIA	FAIR	WARM	ATLANTA	FAIR	COOLER
The Weather
Georgia: Fair Monday and Tuesday; somewhat warmer in west portion Monday, slightly cooler Tuesday in north and west central portions.
Tennessee: Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, slightly cooler Tuesday in north and west central portions.
North Carolina: Fair Monday and Tuesday, slightly cooler Tuesday in the interior.
South Carolina: Fair Monday and Tuesday; slightly cooler Tuesday in north portion.
Florida: Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, cooler in extreme north-east portion Monday.
Louisiana: Partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday.
Mississippi: Partly cloudy, warmer Monday; Tuesday partly cloudy.
Alabama: Fair, warmer Monday; Tuesday partly cloudy.
Extreme Northwest Florida: Fair Monday; Tuesday partly cloudy.
Arkansas: Fair, cooler Monday; Tuesday fair, warmer.
Oklahoma: Fair, cooler Monday; Tuesday fair, warmer.
East Texas: Partly cloudy, cooler in northeast portion Monday; Tuesday, partly cloudy.
West Texas: Fair, cooler Monday; Tuesday fair, warmer in north portion.
STATION.....Highest 24 Hr. Precipitation
ATLANTA.....	48	46	22
Albany.....	48	32	28
Albuquerque.....	48	32	28
Atlanta City.....	48	32	28
Boston.....	70	32	18
Chicago.....	48	46	12
Cincinnati.....	42	34	12
Denver.....	50	38	00
Detroit.....	54	50	24
El Paso.....	58	32	00
Galveston.....	78	62	00
Houston.....	78	62	00
Kansas City.....	44	42	00
Los Angeles.....	72	44	00
Louisville.....	58	30	00
Memphis.....	68	50	00
Minneapolis.....	62	38	00
Mobile.....	74	58	00
New Orleans.....	74	58	00
New York.....	64	50	24
Northfield, Vt.....	58	32	00
Richmond.....	50	36	00
San Antonio.....	68	44	02
San Francisco.....	48	38	00
Savannah.....	84	66	18
Tampa.....	78	54	00
Washington.....	72	52	00
Wilmington.....	80	68	1.22

ALL WEEK SPECIALS!

This is the Sixth Big Week of Our 75th Anniversary Sale... Special Low Prices Have Been Set Specially for this Week—Buy Now When You Can Save Most!

GROWING WITH AMERICA FOR 75 YEARS

Fancy Blue Rose Rice 5 LBS. 23c

IONA—Tender Cut Stringless Beans 3 NO. 2 CANS 23c

A&P—Fancy White Corn 2 NO. 2 CANS 23c

SULTANA PEANUT BUTTER 2 1-LB. JARS 27c

IONA RED-RIPE TOMATOES 3 NO. 2 CANS 23c

ANN PAGE—PURE Grape Jelly 8-OZ. JAR 13c

RAJAH—PURE VANILLA Extracts 2-OUNCE BOTTLE 19c

RAJAH CANE AND MAPLE Syrup 12-OZ. JUG 15c

SUNNYFIELD Pancake FLOUR 2 PKGS. 17c

QUAKER MAID OR ANN PAGE Baking Powder 1-LB. CAN 15c

DOMINO OR DIXIE CRYSTAL Sugar 5 LBS. 28c 10 LBS. 55c

CAKE FLOUR Swansdown PKG. 29c

BAKING POWDER Calumet 1-LB. CAN 23c

Coconut Baker's Moist 2 4-OZ. CANS 19c

Log Cabin Syrup TABLE SIZE 23c

Maxwell House Coffee 1-LB. 30c

Jell-o Ass'd Flavors 2 PKGS. 13c

Vegetables & Fruits

For Monday and Tuesday

Genuine Canadian RUTABAGAS 4 LBS. 9c

Ga. Yams 5 LBS. 6c

Celery Tall Stalk 6c

Lettuce Cal. Iceberg LARGE HEAD 6c

Potatoes No. 1 Cobbler 5 LBS. 8c

Cooking Apples 3 LBS. 12c

Winesap Apples Small doz. 6c

Yellow Onions 3 LBS. 9c

Carrots BUNCH 5c

Green Cabbage 2 LBS. 3c

Bananas Very Fancy 3 LBS. 14c

At A&P Meat Markets

Prices for Monday Only

HOT TAMALES 6 FOR 28c

BRICK CHILI 1-LB. 19c

Fresh Beef Liver LB. 15c

Sausage Fresh All Pork LB. 23c

Rib Steak Fancy Beef LB. 23c

LEGISLATION DEBATED BY A. B. A. COMMITTEE

Group Discusses Program Submitted to President Roosevelt.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(AP)—A broad and constructive program of banking legislation, frankly discussed with President Roosevelt and other government officials concerned, occupied the attention of the American Bankers' Association committee on federal legislation during the past year, the committee's annual report said today.

Robert V. Fleming, chairman, said the committee took special interest in the federal housing administration's repair and modernization program; in the national securities exchange act "in so far as it handicapped in its original form the management of banks" and in work for the adoption of the federal crime bills sponsored by Attorney-General Homer S. Cummings.

"The national housing act," said

To make fish more-than-ever welcome on your table, let lemon work its magic. Plenty of generous quarter-pieces bring out the real flavor (aid digestion, also).

And a cleverly cut garnish is one sign of an up-to-date hostess.

Dozens of garnish hints in the Free Booklet, "200 Sunkist Recipes for Every Day." Write direct to Sunkist, Box 530, Sta. C, Los Angeles, Cal.

BUY THEM BY THE DOZEN

Ala/County Promises Quick Poll of Votes

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 4.—(AP)—When it comes to counting the votes on election day, the provinces are the same.

The smaller the community the swifter it is to let the nation know how it stands.

It is a matter of civic pride to many of these, scattered from Maine to California, their boast to the nation is "We count 'em first."

Thus, Martin's Station in Dallas county, casting nine votes, invariably beats the remainder of Alabama to the county. It has become a ceremony and all the villagers gather at the opening of the polls, swiftly vote, and in a few minutes the judges announce the result.

Fleming, "established a policy whereby private lending agencies were enabled to make loans to worthy borrowers which were guaranteed by the government, to take the place of the indorsement or collateral banks would otherwise have had to require."

He expressed hope that banks of the country "will recognize the principle involved in this legislation." The movement, he said, "should greatly assist in the employment of labor, the consumption of materials and in putting idle funds to work."

RICKENBACKER TO TRY COAST-TO-COAST MARK

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker will attempt to better the west-east transcontinental flight record both for speed and transport planes, hopping off from here next Wednesday or Thursday, Eastern Air Lines officials announced here tonight.

Captain Rickenbacker, arriving tonight from the east, will be in charge of a (Douglas) 14-passenger plane, piloted by Si Moorehouse, with Captain Charles W. France, vice president of Eastern Air Lines in charge of operations, as copilot.

The ship will carry six passengers and a load of 5,750 pounds, including 800 gallons of gasoline. Captain Rickenbacker plans to make the flight at an average altitude of 17,000 feet. The pilots and passengers will have an oxygen supply.

A. F. OF L. TO BE ASKED TO BACK LABOR PARTY

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor will be asked soon by one of its vice presidents to sponsor in the United States the formation of a national labor party.

David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers' Union, with a membership of 200,000, announced today he would make this request.

He spoke to 2,000 union members at a reception attended by Matthew Woll, also a vice president of the A. F. of L., and Frank Morrison, secretary of the organization.

FOOTBALL ENTHUSIAST HURT IN FIST FIGHT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Dr. Sam Sternberg, 24, of Daytona Beach, was in a hospital here today with a fractured skull which police said he received in a fist fight during the Georgia-Florida football game yesterday.

Physicians who examined Dr. Sternberg shortly after the game said his nose was broken. Complications developed later, and another examination revealed the fracture.

Police said Dr. Sternberg was struck when he attempted to aid a friend in a fight with two other men whose names they had not learned.

Men's—Boys' Sweaters
The Army Store
(DUCKETT, INC.)
79 ALABAMA ST., S. W.

MAJOR PARTIES DEAD, COUGHLIN DECLARES

Socialistic Dictatorship Seen If Roosevelt Regime Fails.

DETROIT, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Asserting that the present federal government is "a combination of the progressives of both parties," the Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin, pastor of the Shrine of the Little Flower, said in an address today that the people are looking to neither the republicans nor the democrats "to rescue our country from this depression."

"These old parties," Father Coughlin said, "are all but dead."

"As happened to Ananias and Sapphira, the hypocritical liars of scriptural fame, the young men are waiting at the doors to carry out their corpses."

"Neither pure republican nor pure democrat is being held responsible for our release from this depression. It is our form of government—our democracy—that is on trial. If it fails, dictatorship stands in the offing with its cruel trappings of socialism."

If President Roosevelt fails, the priest warned, "he will be remembered as the last president of this democratic capitalistic nation."

ROLLINS PRESIDENT TO SPEAK TODAY

Dr. Hamilton Holt, president of Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla., will arrive here this morning for several speaking engagements. He will address the students at Washington, Seminary at 8:30 o'clock this morning, will be at Georgia Military Academy at 11 o'clock, and will go to Girls High school for a talk at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Tuesday morning, Dr. Holt will leave for Rome, where he will speak before the Darlington school student body, and at Shorter College.

DR. HAMILTON HOLT.

Dr. Holt, who was editor of the Independent magazine for many years and founder of the League for Enfranchisement, entered the educational field when he became president of Rollins in 1925. With President Holt's guidance, Rollins has abolished the conventional lecture and recitation system and has adopted in place of it the Rollins conference plan of study. Under this plan, classes have been converted into two-hour "conference" periods. There are no lectures and no formal recitations.

VERDICT LOOMS TODAY IN VANDERBILT TRIAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Lady Furness, twin sister of Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, said today the suspense of her sister's court battle to regain custody of her small daughter is wrecking Mrs. Vanderbilt's health.

"My sister is bearing up bravely," said Lady Furness. "She is very confident she will regain possession of Gloria, but in her present weakened condition, anything might happen to her if there is an undue delay—or an adverse verdict."

It was held possible the trial may end tomorrow afternoon and that a verdict may be handed down immediately.

ADDISON MAUPIN RITES WILL BE HELD TODAY

Prominent Atlantans will pay final tribute today to Addison Maupin, former executive of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, who died Saturday night at his residence at 1041 West Peachtree street.

Rites will be conducted by Dr. S. T. Senter at 3:30 o'clock at Spring Hill and W. A. Ward Sr., Judge Luther Z. Rosser, Robert Lee Avery Sr., R. P. Jarrett, Marshall Twitty, J. C. Wardlaw, Ben S. Read and P. W. Greene will act as pallbearers with other well known Atlantans forming an honorary escort. Interment will be in West View cemetery.

Mr. Maupin, a native of Virginia, was secretary and assistant treasurer of the Southern Bell Company for many years before his retirement eight years ago. He had resided in Atlanta 31 years and was active in church, social and business affairs.

PAUL GINSBERG HEADS JEWISH LEGAL GROUP

Paul Ginsberg, well-known Atlanta attorney, Sunday was elected chancellor of the Alpha Kappa Sigma fraternity, the oldest and largest Jewish legal fraternity. Other officers elected were: Arthur Frieberg, vice chancellor; David Block, recorder; Felix Shapiro, exchequer, and David W. Kramer, bullfinch. The national convention of the fraternity will be held December 9-14 in Baltimore, Md., it was announced.

Decatur Man's Play Presented in Brazil

"White Lotus," play written by Herbert Nellis, of Decatur, is in production in several Brazilian cities this season, it was learned here Sunday.

The drama, which won high recognition in the United States, has been translated into Portuguese under the title of "A Flor dos Sonhos" and was produced last month in Rio de Janeiro by the A. Sociedade Theatral do Brasil, a dramatic organization. It will be staged in many other Brazilian cities this winter when the dramatic club goes on tour. Nellis, who is widely known in Atlanta, won a high award from the Playmakers of Berkeley, Cal., in 1932, with his "White Lotus."

Insult Will Return Today as Witness

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Samuel Insull today prepared to match charts and graphs with the government in his contention that he is not guilty of mail fraud.

The aged erstwhile utilities executive, with 16 co-defendants in the giant utilities trial, who has been on the stand for three days on direct and cross-examination, Monday goes back in the box for a brief redirect examination. It will be an effort to erase any unfavorable impression he may have made upon the jury in the grueling cross-examination he underwent at the hands of Leslie E. Salter, special government prosecutor.

SENSATIONAL Price Reduction on

Family Laundry Service

Discount 20% Discount

from standard list prices

Called for and Delivered

Atlanta's nine ranking laundries, well known for their reliability, dependability and time-proven skill in cleansing methods, put their family wash services (either completely ironed or partially ironed) within reach of every household's budget by reducing standard list prices 20%.

IF YOUR BUNDLE ORDINARILY WOULD BE	IT NOW IS
75c	60c
$1.00	80c
$1.50	$1.20
AND SO FORTH

Have your clothes washed and ironed the RIGHT way—in a plant equipped with marvels of laundry machinery designed to handle everything gently and carefully—in sanitary surroundings. Then you can be SURE that your personal garments and your household linens are beautifully clean, sterilized, smoothly and carefully ironed.

SAVE TIME! SAVE HEALTH! SAVE DOLLARS!

PHONE ONE OF THESE FINE LAUNDRIES

TODAY

"Yours for Excellence in Quality and Service"

AMERICAN MAin 1016	CAPITAL CITY WAlnut 7121	DECATUR DEarborn 3162
EXCELSIOR WAlnut 2454	GUTHMAN WAlnut 8861	MAY'S HEmlock 5300
PIEDMONT WAlnut 7651	TRIO JACKson 1600	TROY-PEERLESS WAlnut 5107

Super-Skilled Launderers—Dry Cleaners

PIGGLY WIGGLY

PRICES EFFECTIVE MONDAY AND TUESDAY

QUALITY AND PRICE ARE ALWAYS RIGHT ON OUR GARDEN-FRESH VEGETABLES and FRUIT

Carrots EA. 5c
Yams 5 LBS. 8c
BANANAS 3 LBS. 12c

Spitzenberg Apples DOZ. 17c
DELICIOUS APPLES DOZ. 19c
WINESAP APPLES 2 DOZ. 25c
JUICY GRAPEFRUIT 2 FOR 5c
GREEN HEAD CABBAGE 1 LB. 2c

LETTUCE ICEBERG LARGE HEADS EA. 6c
EMPEROR GRAPES FIRST ARRIVAL LB. 9c
BROOKFIELD CREAM CHEESE EA. 5c
CANADIAN RUTABAGAS 2 LBS. 5c
VELVO COFFEE BOURBON SANTOS LB. 21c

POTATOES 5 LBS. 8c
QUALITY MEATS IN OUR MEAT MARKETS
Chops or Roast PORK LOIN END CUTS LB. 18c

PURE PORK SAUSAGE FARM LB. 27c
PURE PAN SAUSAGE LB. 19c
SHOULDER LAMB ROAST FANCY WESTERN LB. 15c
LOIN or ROUND VEAL STEAK LB. 25c

CALF LIVER 25c
BACON RIND OFF 29c
BEEF LIVER 14c
BEEF BRAINS 10c

Round Steak FANCY WESTERN TENDER LB. 25c

Engineers Will Hear Speech by Woodward

An illustrated lecture will be given by Sherman Woodward, consulting engineer of the Tennessee Valley Authority, who will be the principal speaker at a joint meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon at the private dining room of the Daffodil tea room. Mr. Woodward, who resides in Knoxville, was for many years professor of mechanics and hydraulics at Iowa State University and has been consulting engineer of many of the largest engineering projects in the country. He is an authority on drainage, irrigation and flood control. He will illustrate his address today with slides.

TRANSIENT WORKERS WILL CONVEKE HERE

More Liberal Work Program Will Be Discussed at Conference.

A more liberal work program and a wider use of enlistment camps for transients, based on federal experience of the last 12 months, are two of the subjects that will be discussed here today and Tuesday, when state transient directors and their staffs meet for a southeastern regional conference.

William J. Plunkert, director of federal transient activities, arrived in

Don't forget the plus in today's marketing

If you're looking for real values, you'll put the name Sky Flake Wafers right at the head of your grocery list today. For these Sky Flakes, slightly salted, offer more in delicate flavor, in flaky light texture, in freshness and goodness. They offer, too, the plus of confidence in what the maker's name stands for. No food concern in the world has a greater reputation to maintain for quality and service to the public than the "Uneeda Bakers," who are cracker-bakers-in-chief to the nation. And mighty proud of their responsibility, too.

P.S. There's another plus in the economy and convenience of buying the big pound package. Order today without fail. Look for this blue package of Sky Flake Wafers.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY "Uneeda Bakers"

Are you planning to leave your family $5,000 OR MORE?

Read below how it can be done at a reasonable cost by means of The Prudential's "Modified 5" policy. It will protect you through the next five years for an annual premium JUST ONE-HALF of the rate payable thereafter. Never more than a few cents for each dollar you wish to provide.

PRESENT AGE	FOR EACH DOLLAR OF INSURANCE your annual contribution would be
Nearest birthday	FIRST FIVE YEARS	AFTER FIVE YEARS
20 to 23	less than 1 cent	less than 2 cents
24 to 39	less than 1½ cents	less than 3 cents
40 to 46	less than 2 cents	less than 4 cents
47 to 50	less than 2½ cents	less than 5 cents

Also issued at ages 51 to 60

MINIMUM POLICY, $5,000

No Better Time Than the Present

Consult Local Agent or Office, or Home Office

F. M. AKERS & SONS, Managers,
Ordinary Dept.
The Citizens & Southern Nat'l Bank Bldg.

G. W. BUTLER, Superintendent,
Mortgage Guarantee Bldg.

ATLANTA

The Prudential Insurance Company of America

EDWARD D. DUFFIELD
President

Home Office
NEWARK, NEW JERSEY

Fair, Colder Weather Forecast for Today

Overcasts will be the fashion again in Atlanta today, the weatherman says, because an 8-degree drop in temperature is expected this afternoon.

He predicts today will be fair and colder than Sunday, when the high point reached by the mercury during the afternoon was 68. Low yesterday was 53 but this morning the thermometer will register about 48 and will range no higher this afternoon than 60 degrees. Sunday was a typical autumn day, Saturday's murky rainfall ceasing early Sunday morning, leaving the remainder of the day clear.

DR. EDGAR T. WHERRY TO SPEAK HERE TODAY

Talk by Botanist To Be One of Highlights of 'Conservation Week.'

Georgia's wild plants and flowers and her natural resources will be discussed this afternoon by Dr. Edgar T. Wherry, noted botanist, whose speech at 3 o'clock at the University of Georgia will be one of the highlights of "Conservation Week," sponsored by the Garden Club of Georgia.

Dr. T. H. Merriam of the University of Georgia, whose wife is president of the garden club, will introduce Dr. Wherry, and Dr. Charles H. Herby, the Georgia scientist who discovered the way to make paper of slash pine, also will speak.

Dr. Wherry is head of the department of botany at the University of Pennsylvania and is an officer of several national botanical organizations. He is thoroughly familiar with the plant life and the resources of Georgia and has visited the state many times on scientific expeditions.

Since Friday the doctor has been searching for rare plant specimens in Georgia and has visited Stone Mountain, where he said flowers grow that are found no other place on earth, and the mountains around Dahlonega.

He is particularly interested in having Georgia establish a series of state or federal-owned preserves to conserve the wild plant and animal life and animals existing in other sections. This week has been proclaimed "Conservation Week" by Governor Eugene Talmadge.

NEED FOR RELIGION STILL UNCHANGED, SAYS DR. D. H. OGDEN

All the changes in the material world have not changed human nature and its spiritual need for Christianity, Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden told a congregation that filled Central Presbyterian church Sunday for the opening of a week's series of special meetings he is conducting there.

Dr. Ogden was assisted at the opening services by Dr. Stuart E. Oglesby, pastor, and Dr. Ben R. Lacey, president of Union Theological Seminary, at Richmond, Va. Both Dr. Ogden and Dr. Lacey are former pastors of Central Presbyterian. Dr. Ogden now being pastor of the Napoleon Avenue church in New Orleans.

Preaching Sunday on "The Changing Christ in a Changing World," Dr. Ogden reviewed the progress of science and invention in creating new physical conditions of life and a new conception of the physical universe.

He quoted the great men of science of the last century as affirming their own faith in a divine power, indicated by their own researches.

Dr. Ogden will conduct services at the church daily at noon and at 7:30 p. m. this week, speaking at noon today on "The Technique of Soul Winning" and at 7:30 p. m., on "Is Life a Gamble?"

3 PERSONS ARRESTED, WHISKY SEIZED IN RAID

City Detectives J. G. Caldwell, F. B. Watson and J. C. Simmons Sunday afternoon raided an apartment at 771 Washington street, arrested three persons and confiscated 30 gallons of whisky, according to police reports.

When police entered, they reported, they found Mrs. W. H. Kennedy, 45, stirring a "batch of whisky." They also arrested James Hardin, 24, of 604 Woodward avenue, who was released on $100 bond, and Roy Roberts, 25, of 625 Highland avenue, N. E., who was released on a bond of $300.

Men's—Boys' Corduroy Pants The Army Store

(DUCKETT, INC.)
70 ALABAMA ST., S. W.

with the Air Mail for 5¢ per mile

BETWEEN ATLANTA AND DALLAS $38.15

Leave at 7:45 a. m. Arrive at 4:43 p. m.

Direct connections at Dallas by American Airlines for the South and Pacific Coast.

Leave Eastbound 7:30 a. m. CT Daily
Augusta * 9:50 a. m. $6.90
Columbia * 10:40 a. m. 10.40
Charleston * 11:52 a. m. 13.40
Leave Westbound 7:45 a. m. Daily
Birmingham 9:09 a. m. 6.70
Meridian * 10:53 a. m. 14.00
Jackson * 11:52 a. m. 18.35
Monroe * 1:15 p. m. 23.70
Shreveport 2:28 p. m. 28.70

*Eastern Time.
For Reservations and Further Information Call AIRLINES TICKET OFFICE
Walnut 6040
or any Telegraph Office or Hotel Transportation Clerk ROUND TRIP—SAVE 10%

DELTA AIR LINES

MOORE MEMORIAL CHURCH OBSERVES 60TH ANNIVERSARY

An impressive program in commemoration of its sixtieth anniversary was held Sunday by the Moore Memorial Presbyterian church coincident with home-coming day exercises.

The greetings of all Atlanta churches were extended to Moore Memorial, which is one of the oldest churches in the city, by the Rev. Robert Ivey, and other speakers were the Rev. R. O. Flinn, the Rev. J. Spole Lyons, the Rev. E. P. Carson and the Rev. J. R. Young, present pastor.

Albert Bellingrath and Martine Harmsen, sons of two of the founders of the church, were present and took part in the program, as did Wilmer Moore, the son of W. A. Moore, who built the present church. Speakers traced the history of the church from the time it was organized November 4, 1870, on Jones street, to Latimer street and on to its location now at 285 Luckie street. The congregation was formerly known as the Third Presbyterian church.

Locked in Back Room, Cafe Owner Is Robbed

Held up and locked in a back room of his restaurant at 900 Peachtree street, E. E. Colquhoun told police Sunday night he was robbed of $135 in cash by three negroes armed with knives and guns.

Colquhoun, who said he was closing his place for the night when the bandits appeared, and a negro employee of the restaurant were locked in the back room while the robbers looted the cash register and escaped. He furnished police a description of the three negroes.

An apple tree in the Ukraine is reported to have flowered for a fourth time this year, while fruits in stages of ripeness hang on the tree from the second and third flowering.

Good Dental Work Is An Investment
Our Artificial Teeth are made to imitate nature—they are not just false teeth. We solicit difficult cases and the fastidious. BRIDGE WORK IN A TOOTH; CROWNS IN PLACE. NO EXTERMINATING. NO YEARS SHOWING. DR. C. A. CONSTANTINE
194 PEACHTREE ST., COR. DECATUR

Fill Your Food Needs From This List of Bargains

If you're a wise shopper these bargains and quality foods merit your attention and a visit to a Rogers Store today. Look them up—you can't afford to miss one of these specials—stock up your pantry shelves today and save.

Fruits and Vegetables

Fancy Florida

Oranges 2 Doz. 25c

Fancy Florida

Grapefruit 3 doz 10c

U. S. No. 1 Maine Mt. Potatoes 5 lbs. 8c

Porto Rican Ga. Yams 5 lbs. 8c

Fancy Iceberg Lettuce LARGE HEAD 6c

Fancy New York Celery STALK 7c

Rutabaga Turnips 3 lbs. 7c

Fancy White Onions LB. 4c

Fresh Tender Spinach LB. 7c

Fancy Winesap Apples Doz. 6c

ROGERS QUALITY FOOD SHOPS

Great Northern Beans 2 LBS. 15c
Valley Brand Raisins PKG. 5c
Large Ivory Soap CAKE 10c
Sunsweet Prune Juice... QUART BOTTLE 25c
Armour's Cooked Brains... NO. 1 CAN 10c
Heinz or Stokely's Baby Food... CAN 10c
Salt Mackerel 3 FOR 25c
Aunt Jemima Buckwheat Flour... PKG. 15c
Swift's Arrow Soap 5 Cakes 10c
O. K. Soap 5 SMALL Cakes 10c
Fairy Toilet Soap 5 Cakes 15c
Comet Rice 3 LB. PKG. 23c
Thinshell Butter Cookies... LB. BOX 15c
A-1 Soda Crackers LB. BOX 10c

Rogers Best—Plain or Self-Rising

FLOUR 24-Lb. Bag $1.05

6-Lb. Bag 31c 12-Lb. Bag 57c

Fresh Bulk Mince Meat 2 Lbs. 25c

Echo-Dri—Golden (Plus 2c Bottle Deposit) Ginger Ale 12-Oz. Bottle 5c

Rogers Best Corn Meal 6-Lb. Bag 15c 12-Lb. Bag 29c

Circus—Plain or Self-Rising Flour 12-Lb. Bag 53c 24-Lb. Bag 95c

Colonial, Deans, or St. Charles Milk 3 Tall Cans 17c

Maxwell House Coffee Lb. Can 30c

Domino—Granulated Sugar 5-Lb. Bag 28c 10-Lb. Bag 55c

RICHMOND MAID—VACUUM PACKED BAKING POWDER Lb. Can 25c and a 1/2-Lb. Can FREE!

Try the half pound can and after using it if you don't think it as fine a baking powder as you've ever used return the pound can and we will cheerfully refund your money.

At Rogers Meat Markets Country Style, Meaty

Pig Back Bone Lb. 22c

Pig Hams, half or whole LB. 20c
Pig Shoulder, whole... LB. 15c
Pig Sausage, bulk... LB. 23c
Southern Mansion Bacon LB. 35c
Fresh Beef Liver... LB. 15c

Ground Beef... LB. 17c
Pork Steak... LB. 18c
Pickled Pig Feet... EACH 5c
Lamb Patties... LB. 19c
Pork Shoulder Steak... LB. 18c

Pork Chops End Cuts 17c Center Cuts 25c

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and President
Vice President, J. R. B. BOWEN
Business Manager

Published at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.
Telephone Walnut 6565.

Subscription Rates:
By Carrier or Mail:
Daily and 1 Mo. 2 Mo. 3 Mo. 6 Mo. 1 Yr.
Single Copies—Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.
By Mail—Daily, 10c; Sunday, 15c.
By Mail—Daily, 10c; Sunday, 15c.
By Mail—Daily, 10c; Sunday, 15c.

KELLY-SMITH COMPANY, national representatives, New York, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had at the New York City office of the publisher, 100 Broadway and Forty-third street (Times building corner).

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments not in accordance with published rates are not authorized. No responsibility for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press. The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

ATLANTA, GA., NOV. 5, 1934.

EUROPE BOILS AGAIN

Featured by a sensational war scare statement of Winston Churchill, former chancellor of the British exchequer, news from London, Paris and Berlin is once more tinged with threats of combat between the chief nations of Europe.

The cause for the new crop of rumors is not new, being a repetition of the report that Germany is arming herself to the teeth, with her manhood being intensively strained for conflict on land and in the air.

Churchill, in predicting that within a year the Germans will have passed Great Britain in preparedness for war, asserts that "a reign of terror exists in Germany in order to keep secret the feverish and terrible preparations they are making."

While the British statesman was making this inflammatory speech, the war scare in France was rising in a rapidly increasing tide, with French troops being massed on the Saar border. Directly as the result of the reported rearming activities in Germany, Minister of War Petain is seeking an increase in the nation's fighting strength.

Meanwhile official newspapers in Germany are warning France that in her troop movements she is "playing with fire."

France began a week ago to mass troops on the border of the Saar, following reports that the Germans were secretly planning a "putsch" to gain control of this rich region.

The Saar is now under the direct supervision of the League of Nations, but a plebiscite has been called for January 13 in order that the inhabitants of the region may decide for themselves whether their present status shall be continued or whether they shall be joined to France or Germany.

Since the majority of the inhabitants of the territory are Germans, it is generally believed that they will vote to be returned to Germany. This belief is strengthened by the intensive under-cover campaigning being conducted by Nazi representatives sent into the Saar.

The reports of the rumored putsch indicate that the plan—if there is such a plan—contemplates the seizure of the Saar by thousands of Nazis on the night of the election, regardless of how it may result. Even should the vote favor return to Germany, this would bring trouble because of the extensive French interests that have come into existence in the region since it has been supposedly neutral territory.

Under the provisions for the election, France is to be paid a huge sum for its investments in the territory if it goes to Germany. The latter nation is without resources with which to make such payments, and it is certain that France will not permit the taking over of the Saar until they are made. In this position she would have the backing of the League and the nations which are its members.

Evidently the Germans hope by the proposed putsch to gain possession of the Saar while the negotiations for the payments to France are under way.

The answer to that hope is the massing of French troops on the Saar border. It is certain that with the advance of the first Nazi forces over the German border into the territory, the French will enter from the other side and sweep them back into Germany.

Honey, says a leading motor magazine, makes a fine anti-freeze in an automobile. Yes, but it's safer to let a third party drive.

A depression is a terrible thing, but who remembers when the "silk stocking vote" meant a small element in the citizenry?

A meteorologist thinks the next 25 years will be wet and cold. Maybe those prayer meetings in the drought country were another case of over-emphasis.

In all fairness, the Irish hospitals ought to open an emergency ward for sweepstakes winners, when the chiselers are through with them.

BACKING UP THE CHIEF

The discharge by the police committee at its last meeting of three patrolmen charged with being drunk on their beats and of another for improper conduct, and the ordering of a hearing in the cases of six officers declared by physicians to be physically unfit, again reveals the determination of the members of the committee to give Chief Sturdivant a force composed of capable and alert officers.

It is regrettable that men who have spent long years on the force must give way to younger and more active men, but the safety of the public requires that these veteran patrolmen be placed on the pension list.

No man who is not physically alert can properly perform the duties of a police officer. A convincing demonstration of this fact has been witnessed during the past month in the revolutionizing of traffic conditions at one of the busiest intersections in the city.

For a long time a veteran officer, personally popular, but long past his physical prime, was charged with keeping traffic moving at this point. When conditions became unbearable a younger, more energetic officer was assigned to the task and under his brisk direction the jams of the past have practically disappeared.

Full vigor and mental alertness is needed even more by the members of the force charged with the prevention and detection of crimes of violence.

Certainly the chief cannot be held responsible for any failure to properly protect the public if he is forced to retain on the force men who are no longer able to render good service. In moving to eliminate those unfitted, either physically, mentally or morally, for the task of enforcing the safety laws and combating criminal activities, the board has shown an encouraging realization of its responsibility.

Chief Sturdivant is proving himself a capable and competent commanding officer and with the fine co-operation being given him by a board that is establishing an outstanding record is steadily improving the quality of police protection being given the city. Both the board and the chief are entitled to the full support and encouragement of the people.

SAFER AUTOS

In the effort to check the staggering losses from automobile accidents, the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters has asked the American Standards Association to assemble manufacturers in a conference to devise a code of requirements for motor cars, with special reference to parts contributing to safe driving.

The insurance association stresses that a large per cent of motor accidents are caused by the unfit mechanical condition of cars and not by carelessness or recklessness on the part of the drivers. The conference of manufacturers is suggested because it is believed that an increase in safety appliances on all machines will result in materially reducing the number of preventable accidents.

The move of the insurance men emphasizes the necessity for better care and inspection of automobiles in use. All the safety appliances ever perfected will not insure the safe operation of a car unless the appliances are kept in order.

During the past decade approximately 290,000 men, women and children have been killed in the United States in automobile accidents, and in the neighborhood of 10,000,000 injured. It is estimated that 36,000 lives will be snuffed out this year, the highest total ever registered in this country. These figures are from careful tabulations made by the National Safety Council.

Recklessness, the mania for speed and the use of cars in improper mechanical condition are the chief causes of the fatal wrecks that have taken such a terrible toll in life. The first two, arising from a mental condition, are difficult to control, but the latter can be easily regulated by the enactment of laws bearing on the manufacture and mechanical upkeep of automobiles.

Because a car is in good enough condition to be operated safely in ordinary traffic does not mean that it is in proper shape to be handled swiftly and surely in case of emergency—and it is as the result of the creation of some sort of an emergency that every crash occurs.

No wise owner of an automobile will operate a car in the condition of which makes its operation dangerous to himself and to others. Those who are willing to do so should be made by law to keep their cars in the proper condition.

Dr. G. L. Wood, Australian educator, is here to study operations of the NRA. We have an ex-cracker-down to spare, if Australia has the blue kangaroo.

Americans considering the Siamese royal crisis must keep in mind that the white elephants are elephants and not recovery bureaucrats.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

King Alexander's Murderers.

There is no longer much doubt as to the identity of the men who had sworn to destroy the Jugo-Slavian monarch, a design which was but too successful. The men arrested in France have admitted that if the king had not been shot at the spot where he died, another assassin would have made the attempt a little further up the road, at the spot where the procession would have been forced to stop.

If this attempt had also been unsuccessful, a third and perhaps a fourth attempt would have been made in Paris. The plotters had for months been studying the routes which the king was to take on his official visit to France. They had planned daily exercises in pistol target-practice.

The entire conspiracy stood under the direction of the notorious Dr. Pavlovitch, a well-known member of the Macedonian revolutionary committee. This committee, which has not the slightest connection with socialism or communism, as some allege, seeks the liberation of the Macedonian people from the domination of Belgrade.

About 2,000,000 Macedonians were gobbled up by Jugo-Slavia after the war. The king, who was a native of Bulgaria, for they claim they are ethnically and racially closer to the Bulgars than to the Serbs.

The men who perpetrated the murder are Macedonians and nationalists and fascists. They have countless murders on their conscience.

Who Is Behind It All?

Investigations have disclosed that the murderers had been plotting and planning in Hungary. Was the Hungarian government aware of this? This question must be answered in the affirmative. The Hungarian police knew the identity of the murderers, and according to the French surety police, Hungarian money financed them. The political motif was to make trouble in and for Jugo-Slavia and weaken the country. Jugo-Slavia was and is a strong ally of the Balkans. Jugo-Slavia is opposed to any and every revision of the peace treaties, but Hungary and Italy are revisionists. Hungary lost half her territory after the war and Italy has always supported the revisionist claims of Hungary.

Of course, no chiefs of state are involved in the murder-plot, at least not directly. The rumor that Jugo-Slavia had already addressed an ultimatum to Hungary to the effect, "Jugo-Slavia is in the position to send ultimatums at the present moment. The country is on edge. The death of the king has wiped out the link that bound the great powers together. The great powers, the Serbs, the Slovenes, the Macedonians, the Romanians, the Hungarians and the Slovenes together. Only the future will show whether the Jugo-Slavia state has not been able to hold its own against the assassination of Alexander."

Repercussions.

King Carol, of Rumania, who was to have come to Paris after the king of Jugo-Slavia, has canceled his visit. The pretext is given that the Rumanian court is in mourning for six months. For Alexander was Carol's brother-in-law. But the real reason is that the Rumanian cabinet considers France too dangerous a place at the present moment. King Boris, of Bulgaria, has doubled his bodyguard. He is, in fact, in far greater danger than Alexander.

Up till recently, the Macedonian revolutionary committee considered Bulgaria as their chief protector. They committed their murders in Serbia and then fled across the border where they found immunity, and were even treated as national heroes. But Boris and Alexander had recently agreed to end the Macedonian question. To this end they held two meetings. The Macedonians threatened to proclaim King Boris a traitor to their cause. In Bulgaria half the army officers belong to the Macedonian revolutionary committee, and practically all the shadow government, at least has power as the government of King Boris. The Bulgars king is therefore in extreme danger.

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

HEALTH TALKS

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY.

THE HORROR IN THE NIGHT.

A mining young lady, to judge by her letter, wishes to be told how to overcome being annoyed and irritated by the following noises: snoring, lip-smacking, shrill or loud voices, stamping of hard heels, loud breathing, spitting and snoring. Oddly enough she wishes to have no great objection against clearing the throat, sniffling, whistling, humming, tapping on the table or the arm of chair, tapping with feet on the floor, snuffing, snoring, in fact she is a remarkably tolerant person—for a crank.

A woman who snores most of the night, and who is a periodic snorer, snoring, followed by catenae and staccato effects and false starts and deep groans, sometimes happens to wake up and catch her husband peacefully sleeping. She just can't endure it, and makes the man wake up and turn over and keep perfectly quiet until she is "off again." Now if he were as temperamental about it as she is, either he would be a raving lunatic or she would be deceased by now.

What is about snoring that so annoys the person? The question and association. They hear the dreadful commotion and to them it sounds for all the world like something more sinister than the snoring of a man whose wife has separated from her husband because his snoring killed her love.

I don't suppose there is any sense in this, but I hope it doesn't betray my lack of taste and my boorish origin when I say that if one regards snoring as a clear indication for a good night's sleep, it loses most of its power to annoy or disturb one's peace of mind or prevent one from sleeping. Each snorer has his own special rhythm, you know. It is amusing to lie there and classify it as to pitch, rhythm, timbre and all that sort of thing. Before you know it you'll be forgetting to sleep. You drop off and hear the snoring more or less until you wake next morning.

Some varieties of snoring are stopped by the proper treatment of the simple chronic or hypertrophic rhinitis or by diathermy treatment of the hypertrophic tonsils. Other varieties call for resumption of a fair degree of physical activity or training to take out the slack, the flabbiness of the tissues. In still other cases the condition is a clear indication for good reduction regimen. Not freak dieting or doping to burn off fat and impair health, but a rational regimen which will improve the general health and well being certainly and reduce or help reduce incidentally.

In these records of more than 2,000 cases where patients (of various ages) have reduced from eight to 30 or more pounds on such a regimen, there are frequent reports of the cessation of snoring as one of the happy

News Behind the News

By Paul Mallon

ELECTION.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—If you want to lay a small wager on Tuesday's congressional election, you may safely hazard a deflated dollar or so that the democrats will lose more than a house seats and gain about five senate seats.

That is a conservative guess, based on public and private reports coming in to Washington from trustworthy sources out in the various states.

The democrats really believe they will gain 10 to 20 house seats and eight or nine senate seats, and they might do it. Too many local conditions are involved in several sections to get any definite advance notion. The republicans are maintaining a rather gloomy silence. Their unexpressed hope is that they will pick up as many as 20 seats in the house, but they know they will lose at least three in the senate.

From that you can see without quibbling that the New Deal is going to come out of the election with top-heavy majorities in both houses of congress, no matter whose figures you take.

OUTLOOK.

A fair and impartial outlook in the most important contests may be thumbed as follows:

New York—Senator Copeland will win by a mile and Governor Lehman by a few yards.

New Jersey—Governor Moore will gain a senatorial seat for the democrats.

Pennsylvania—Fifty-fifty on Reed and Guffey in the senatorial race, but democrats are certain to gain several congressional seats.

Rhode Island—Democrats expect to pick up a senate seat here.

Massachusetts—Democrats seem likely to hold what they have.

Maryland—Your old friend, Governor Ritchie, is in a tight spot, but democratic candidates appear to have the edge otherwise.

Ohio—Democrat Donahy is a clinch in the senatorial race, but democrats will lose possibly two congressional seats.

Indiana—Very close and doubtful.

Missouri—The democrats will pick up another senatorial seat here, defeating Patterson, but will lose several congressional seats.

Michigan—Republican Senator Vandenberg was a certainty until the democrats started pouring relief funds out there within the last few weeks. It may be close.

Wisconsin—An unknown quantity, with most insiders favoring the La Follette by a shade.

Wyoming—Democratic Senator O'Mahoney has been hard pressed and is not as certain as he was a month ago.

New Mexico—There may be an upset here. Good information indicates the republicans may gain one senate seat.

California—Sinclair is apparently sunk, but not as deeply as everyone believes.

Pennsylvania reports less election excitement now than there has been in many off-years. Only one state is considered very important nationally by the insiders. That one is Pennsylvania.

If the republican Keystone state falls, the republican party will have to start all over again.

What is more important, the conservative leadership of the party will be almost completely banished from the Washington scene. Republican rebuilding will be left in the hands of young Turks and mild independents.

CALIFORNIA.

California would be important if there were not such unanimity of opinion about Sinclair's demise. Indeed, a backstage reaction has already set in.

The boys upstairs are beginning to wonder if they did wrong. They have half a notion that the best way to get rid of Sinclair would have been to elect him. He could have done nothing but shout his head off, because the state legislature is safe.

As it is, they say he plans to run a daily paper and continue to ladle out his epics.

COURTESY.

President Roosevelt's meeting with the supreme court some days back was quite unusual in many unpublished respects. Some of the justices still are talking about the extra courtesy and distinction which the president showed Chief Justice Hughes. It annoyed them a little.

At the outset, the president congratulated Mr. Hughes on the 1921 Washington arms conference, saying something about it being the only successful disarmament conference ever held. That seemed to be stretching the compliment. Most people now suspect that we gave up more than we got out of that conference.

Later, Mr. Roosevelt, half joking, asked the court if it would be all right to borrow their chief justice as a presidential adviser for the approaching disarmament meeting.

There was an embarrassing silence before Associate Justice Stone spoke up and said it would be all right after next June.

TENTACLES.

The department of justice will catch Kidnaper Robinson. It is only a question of time. He was smart enough to require that the ransom bills be not in serial sequence, but they fooled him a little. The serial numbers have a detectable relationship. The only trouble is that bank tellers cannot detect the relationship without going through a list, and that takes time.

However, Robinson has no money except the ransom money and has no connection with gangsters who would hide him. Agents have traced him definitely to a Cincinnati railway station, but there all clues were lost.

Incidentally, you should have been around the justice department not long ago when a newspaper came out with a story that anyone who had a finger in the Stoll case would be prosecuted, no matter what his high station in diplomacy or finance or was.

Knowing this to be true, our government makes itself responsible in some degree, for the safety of foreign investments made by its citizens. It is a policy common to all nations.

The result, as you know, is to mix business and politics. Beneath the surface of polite diplomacy there is constant intrigue and more or less roguery in the interest of Big Business.

And because Big Business dictates to government the world over, and the competition for markets becomes ever more bitter and desperate, the peaceful business of barter and trade leads inevitably to war.

Remove the barriers to commerce and find a method by which the business interests of all nations can co-operate and nothing will remain to fight about.

It can be done by men of good will.

A few years ago there was no agreement among nations for the delivery of mail. A letter with a foreign address had little protection and no guarantee of reaching its destination.

Now, thanks to one man's common sense, mail goes around the world as safely and surely as it crosses a county.

Similar co-operation in business will come in time. Business always does the thing that is necessary to its survival.

But the rest of us have a right to insist that it be done soon, before competitors learn to do it.

The best of patriots is reluctant to die to make the world safe for gadget makers.

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

SMUGGLED CHINESE FOUND BY RAIDERS

Continued From First Page.

dwelling in Thompson avenue where the raid was made told police he had rented the house to a man who gave him the name of "Anderson," a month ago. A month's rent was paid in advance, he said.

The prisoners were taken to state police barracks at Keyport and thence to Ellis island.

The tip which led to the raid, police said, came originally from the American consul at Trinidad.

Early arrest of smuggling ring's leaders was held like by Frank Igoe, supervising agent of the eastern division, who led the federal men in the raid.

by-effects noticed by the patients or their friends.

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

Cross Sections in South's Gate City

By Paul Mallon

Baby health centers will be held in the following places this week.

Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, announced: Tuesday, Adair school; Wednesday, John Barclay nursery; Thursday, Capitol View and Forrest Avenue schools; and Friday, the James L. Key school. The clinics begin promptly at 1:30 o'clock each afternoon and are for children under 4 years of age.

Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, Sunday urged that all handlers of food and drinks for public consumption stand physical examination as soon as possible in order to avoid a rush in obtaining health certificates from the health department. The certificates are required by law.

D. K. Lyle, of Sylvauga, Ala., and his brother, Walter Lyle, were robbed of $28 in cash by two white men with clubs Sunday night, they reported to police. Lyle said he and his brother were walking on Ivy street, west of Hill, when the robbers accosted them and made threats with clubs.

Georgia public service commission will resume investigation of gas rates in the state today when the Savannah Gas Company will be called for further hearings. The commission is probing rates in Georgia with the view of reducing them.

Mayor James L. Key will be at his desk in the city hall again today, following a vacation in Savannah, where he went with the "Four Capital" motorcade. Alderman Frank H. Reynolds, mayor pro tem, acted in his stead through Saturday.

Relief problem which faces the city beginning January 1, when Atlanta will have to care for its unemployed, probably will be considered by city council, which meets this afternoon. Other important measures, such as a proposal to tax beer half a cent a bottle instead of licensing dealers, and a new ordinance to prohibit operation of laundries on Sunday, will be introduced.

Conference between city officials and professional bondsmen to determine the debt owed the city by the bondsmen will be held early this week, the commission on the Savannah Gas Company will be called for further hearings. The commission is probing rates in Georgia with the view of reducing them.

Walter McElreath will talk on "Society's Achilles Heel" at 8 o'clock tonight at a meeting of the Men of Justice at the assembly rooms in the Mortgage Guarantee building.

Log of Long Flight By Kingsford-Smith

By the Associated Press. (All Times Central Standard.) Saturday, October 20:

12:20 P. M.—Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith and Captain P. G. Taylor left Brisbane, Australia, for Suva, 1,760 miles away, on a three-hour flight to Oakland, Cal.

Sunday, October 21:

12:05 A. M.—Landed at Suva, Fiji Islands.

Sunday, October 28:

12:05 P. M.—Hopped from Naselai beach, Fiji, for Honolulu, 3,197 miles away.

Monday, October 29:

1:10 P. M.—Landed Wheeler field, 30 miles from Honolulu.

Saturday, November 3:

6:45 P. M.—Left Wheeler field for Oakland, 2,408 miles distant.

Sunday, November 4:

9:44 A. M.—Landed Oakland airport with an apologetic, "I'm sorry to be so early," because he arrived nearly two hours ahead of schedule.

KINGSFORD-SMITH AGAIN CONQUERS PACIFIC OCEAN

Continued From First Page.

time. I had them locked up there where they belonged.

Speed Cut Down.

"The last half of our flight I kept cutting down the speed, throttling down until we almost stalled, trying to get us at 9:30 a. m."

"That was my chief worry on this flight. Neither Captain Taylor nor myself are tired, the flight was so easy."

"I flew at the start at an altitude of about 8,000 feet and then went between 7,000 and 12,000 feet the rest of the way."

"I started out at 140 miles an hour, then hopped the plane up to 180 miles and flew the last quarter of the journey at 125 miles an hour."

"I had Captain Taylor at only one sandwich each during the 15 hours of flying."

No Ukulele Playing.

"And Charles didn't play the ukulele that he got in Honolulu, nor did he have time to sing," Captain Taylor remarked.

"I was with a bottle of liquor in the plane, but it had not been opened."

"We didn't need it," Sir Charles remarked laughingly. "Nothing went wrong, we were tired and didn't need any stimulant."

"But I'm going to the home of my brother," the pilot added with a wink, "and I hope he passes a highball around. I hope I'll get a home-cooked meal at his home."

Sir Charles' brother is E. H. K. Smith, who watched anxiously while his "kid brother" was making the long journey over the ocean.

Worried About Plane.

Sir Charles said he was worried about the safety of his plane, probably because of souvenir hunters, and sailors immediately took charge of it and pushed it into a hangar, where it was to be fueled for a flight to Los Angeles.

Sir Charles left for Los Angeles at 1:17 p. m. on a business trip, saying he would return here by Wednesday. The plane circled the field, then flew over San Francisco en route to Los Angeles.

When the plane roared into the air from Wheeler field at Honolulu yesterday at 2:15 p. m. (6:45 p. m. central standard time) it was loaded with 600 gallons or more than two tons of gasoline. There were still 150 gallons in the tanks when the Lady Southern Cross arrived here.

ROOSEVELT, HOUSE DISCUSS NAVIES

Extension of Limitations Accord Seen by Adviser to Woodrow Wilson.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 4.—(AP) Confidence in an ultimate extension of naval limitations agreements was expressed today by Colonel Edward M. House, foreign affairs adviser and intimate of Woodrow Wilson, after a visit with President Roosevelt.

The 76-year-old adviser declined with a twinkle in his eyes even to intimate what he and Mr. Roosevelt chatted about during the Sunday dinner and early afternoon visit.

He spoke sparingly on his own views at the station as he departed for New York with Mrs. House, but responses to questions did reveal a conviction that the troubled London naval parity would reach an understanding on naval limitations and that business was better.

"Do you think bankers and business men are co-operating with the recovery program?" he was asked.

"Yes," he replied. "Of course they will if they have any sense, and there are very definite evidences that they are, particularly in industry. The president knows that."

Asked about future recovery efforts, he smiled and replied: "The president has a lot of views."

Mr. Roosevelt invariably has a visit with the veteran Colonel House when he is home and this meeting today was treated by the White House as of a personal and social nature.

The president traveled through the rain this morning with his mother and Mrs. Roosevelt to attend services at the family church, St. James Episcopal.

The political campaign just closing apparently received no attention. Mr. Roosevelt came to vote for his friend, Governor Lehman, in Tuesday's balloting.

Asked about the election, Colonel House, speaking entirely for himself, said it might be better if not so many democrats would be elected Tuesday as he expects.

Hoover To Cast Vote At Stanford University

PALO ALTO, Cal., Nov. 4.—(AP) Former President Herbert Hoover will cast his ballot Tuesday in California's election at his home precinct on the nearby Stanford University campus, he disclosed through his secretary tonight.

The former president has thus far issued no statement on the "epic" candidacy of Upton Sinclair as democratic nominee for governor, or on other candidates or issues.

Acting Governor Frank F. Merriam, republican nominee for governor, was an old friend of Hoover's in support of Mr. Hoover's campaigns for the presidency in 1928 and 1932.

GAINS PREDICTED FOR AGRICULTURE

Continued From First Page.

duction are expected to average somewhat higher, at least until June, 1935.

7. The farm credit situation "will continue to show gradual improvement above the bad conditions of the past several years."

8. Next year's wheat crop is expected to result in an export surplus with prices hanging close to an export basis.

9. Substantial advances in prices of meat animals is expected, with no material expansion in live stock numbers sighted before 1936.

10. Next year's wool clip will be the smallest in several years with prices dependent on world production.

11. "A generally favorable" outlook is seen for poultry raisers with prices remaining at seasonally high levels until next summer.

12. An unfavorable outlook is sighted for dairymen because of the shortage of hay and grain.

The bureau predicted some further improvement in the total cash income of farm families available for living expenses, although less than that from 1933 to 1934.

Domestic demand for farm products was reported likely to be slightly higher during the first half of 1935 than during the present year, with conditions in the last half of 1935 dependent of employment and production in durable goods industries.

Foreign demand, the report said, probably will be less because of severe German trade restrictions, deflation of the franc in France, adverse fluctuations of exchange in China, and bilateral trade agreements between foreign countries. Some improvement in demand from the United Kingdom, Canada and Japan was predicted.

With increased farm production in 1935 the bureau expressed the belief that "the average level of farm commodity prices will tend to readjust itself to the increased supplies in the latter months of 1935 but the larger marketings will probably maintain the level of farm income."

Additional aid will be given by emergency expenditures of the federal government, which will "probably" continue large throughout 1935, the report said.

The farm credit situation was expected to be "materially better" than for several years past except in the worst drought areas.

Benefit payments to farmers co-operating in AAA adjustment programs, it was noted, probably will be increased by about $72,500,000 now being paid to cotton growers; $100,000,000 going to wheat farmers; $180,000,000 to corn-hog farmers and $36,193,000 to tobacco farmers on programs now under way. These do not include commitments to be paid next year on new programs.

CHRISTMAS JOBS SEEN FOR 500,000 WORKERS NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(UP)—Employment for more than a half-million additional workers in the nation's retail stores during the Christmas season if the present favorable trend in retail business continues was forecast tonight by the National Retail Dry Goods Association.

George L. Plant, of the store management group of the association, estimated that retail stores through the country directly affected by Christmas shopping, would employ 187,000 extra workers during November and December, a total of more than 540,000, to meet the needs of customers during the strongest buying period in the year.

Family incomes of these extra workers will be bolstered by the payment of at least $30,000,000 in extra labor compensation during the season, according to the group's calculations. This amount probably will be somewhat higher, as the estimate was made on the basis of absolute NRA wage minimums.

In department, dry goods, general merchandise, and women's apparel and accessory stores alone, the field covered by the National Retail Dry Goods Association, whose membership exceeds 5,000 stores, the store man-

Sale of Tickets for 'Her Master's Voice,' By Cook Players, Opens at Erlanger Today

The Charles Emerson Cook players, who launch their season at the Erlanger next Monday, are shown above. Standing, left to right, are Charles Emerson Cook, Francis Swann, Barbara Lumsden, George Taylor Jr., Ruth Bey, Howard Bey, Robert Baldwin and John McKee (director). Seated: Jessica Rogers, Henry Richards, Helen Kingsley and Evelyn Vardon. Staff photo.

The box office sale of tickets for "Her Master's Voice," the Broadway laugh-hit to inaugurate the season of the Charles Emerson Cook Players at the Erlanger theater on Monday night, November 12, at 10 o'clock, opens this morning. The books also are open for season reservations for all the big New York successes which Mr. Cook will present in Atlanta this winter.

At the opening night of "Her Master's Voice," patrons of the Erlanger will see an artistic and a finished performance, since nearly all the cast have appeared in this delightful comedy many times. Mr. Cook has produced "Her Master's Voice" twice before—once in Baltimore, and once on Martha's Vineyard this summer, where it did a capacity business.

Moderate prices prevail regardless of the fact that the members of Mr. Cook's company, which comes direct from 22 record weeks in Baltimore, are all distinguished Broadway actors and actresses, including Helen Kingsley, Henry Richards, Evelyn Vardon, Betsy Davis, Jessica Rogers, Robert Baldwin, George Taylor Jr., Barbara Lumsden, Francis Swann and many others. Nights, orchestra and mezzanine seats are 35 cents; balcony 55 cents and 40 cents; gallery (unreserved) 25 cents. At the Wednesday matinee, all seats are 40 cents; gallery 25 cents. At the Saturday matinee, all seats are 55 cents; gallery 25 cents.

By the Associated Press. Here is an outline, pertinent in the light of Tuesday's election, of senate and house memberships and majorities over 80 years:

SENATE. Republican majority, 30 times. Democratic majority, 9 times. No majority for either party, once, in 1883.

Republican high majority, 50, in 1869; low, 1 each in 1919, 1927 and 1931.

Democratic high majority, 27, in 1855; low, 4, in 1913.

Republican largest membership, 61, in 1869; smallest, 15, in 1855.

Democratic largest membership, 59, in 1933; smallest, 11, in 1861.

HOUSE. Republican majority, 26 times. Democratic majority, 14 times. No majority for either party, 1881; low, 6, in 1917.

Democratic high majority, 196, in 1933; low, 5, in 1931.

Republican largest membership, 300, in 1921; smallest, 88, in 1891.

Democratic largest membership, 313, in 1933; smallest, 42, in 1891. (Statistics based on membership at opening of each congress.)

G. O. P. POWERFUL IN THREE COUNTIES Continued From First Page.

was one of the outstanding leaders in the legislature of 1931, when Richard B. Russell Jr., now senator, was elected governor. He headed the important highway committee and was a leader in the fight against diversion of road monies to meet unpaid state obligations.

Beasley was a candidate for president of the state senate for 1935 until Governor Talmadge, conceding to the assembly, placed his approving hand on Senator Redwine. Beasley withdrew on the eve of the state convention at Macon.

Tongues of the observers started to wagging perhaps there might be special significance in Beasley's close opposition since the governor's close friends at the convention said the governor was being groomed for a race against Russell two years from now.

Talmadge Battle. The Lindsay-Garland affair is an outright Talmadge and anti-Talmadge affair. Lindsay represented Dr. J. M. Sutton, state veterinarian, in the several court fights to prevent the governor from ousting him and has had some things to say about the governor's activities—when he was commissioner of agriculture—on the floor of the house.

Garland, admitting Lindsay defeated him by some 300 votes in the primary, claimed a technicality in his favor because counting of the votes at one precinct was begun before the polls closed. The convention gave Garland its approval when he openly informed the almost solid Talmadge group: "I am a Talmadge man."

Court fights have followed, with Garland seeking to exclude Lindsay's name for the ballot, but Lindsay's home county committee stuck by him and so did the ordinary, so there will be two democratic candidates for the legislature in that county on Tuesday's ballot.

The other independents actively after a seat in the legislature are B. W. Middlebrooks, trying to defeat Congressman Emmett Owen in the fourth congressional district and J. D. Mathis opposing J. H. Swindle as representative from Garretts county, and L. C. Harrell for legislator from Dodge county.

War on Illiteracy. WARSAW, Poland, Nov. 4.—(UP) A national campaign was begun today against illiteracy. According to official statistics showing still 6,000,000 persons in Poland who can neither read nor write. All persons able to read and write were asked to teach someone who can't.

Men's—Boys' Raincoats The Army Store (DUCKETT, INC.) 79 ALABAMA ST., S. W.

TREAT A COLD IN THE FIRST STAGE! A cold ordinarily goes through 3 stages: The Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. The first stage is the time to "treat" a cold—and Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine does it. Don't "mope" with a cold, but drive it completely out of the system. 30¢ and 50¢, all drug stores.

Grove's LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE

Youth, 20, Kills Self After Liquor Reprimand

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Shortly after his mother reprimanded him for coming home intoxicated, Kenneth Worms, 20, was found fatally injured in his locked bedroom today from a bullet wound in his stomach. He died 30 minutes later in a hospital.

Police said the youth shot himself with a .38 caliber revolver. Worms left a note for his mother saying he was sorry.

TVA SALE HEARING CONTINUES TODAY

Alabama Public Service Commission to Resume Contest Case.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 4.—(AP) Alabama's public service commission tomorrow will resume hearings on the application of the Alabama Power Company for sale of 14 municipal systems in north Alabama to the Tennessee Valley Authority, which a group of ice and coal companies are contesting.

The hearing was interrupted for a second time on October 25, since Forney Johnston, representing the protesting ice and coal companies, had to appear in Washington in another matter.

In the hearing two weeks ago David Lillenthal, power director of the Authority; Edward F. Flack, rate engineer, and A. H. Sullivan, assistant chief electrical engineer, appeared for the TVA and were cross-examined by Johnston, who sought to show the "yardstick" on the TVA was not a fair estimate.

Flack and Sullivan both testified that the TVA rates in Tupelo, Miss., and Athens, Ala., had reduced the cost of electric current to consumers and had resulted in increased use.

Anglo-Soviet Accord Ends Gold Argument

MOSCOW, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The long-standing dispute between a group of British investors and the Russian government over the rich Lena goldfields was adjusted in an agreement signed here today.

The settlement was reached by the soviet's chief concession committee and Arthur Marshall, representing Lena Goldfields, Ltd. The Tass (Russian News Agency) reported that "all disputed questions had been regulated" in negotiations which had been under way three weeks.

No announcement was made as to the sum which Russia presumably agreed to pay the British corporation, or of the manner in which former owners were to be reimbursed.

GORMAN URGES QUEST FOR NEW COTTON USES WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(UP)—Francis J. Gorman, first vice president of the United Textile Workers of America, today proposed to George A. Sloan, chairman of the Cotton Textile Institute, that worker and employers get together to create new textile markets.

Gorman proposed conferences with the two groups to work out machinery for joint action.

"It appears to be the case," he said in a letter to Sloan, "that only about 30 per cent of the cotton textile output is used in the making of clothes, while the remaining 70 per cent goes into industrial uses."

"We should like to join in an effort to expand the market in both of these directions. It is obvious that the American people want more clothing than they possess and we must assume that industry can find more uses for textiles than now exist."

The First National Bank of Boston

150th Anniversary 1784 * 1934

A CONDENSED STATEMENT of CONDITION Covering all Offices and Foreign Branches as of October 17, 1934

RESOURCES

Cash and Due from Banks and the Treasurer of the United States $212,127,734.19

United States Government Securities 140,425,265.59

State and Municipal Securities 26,803,198.18

Collateral Demand Loans to Banks and Brokers 27,896,517.45

Loans, Discounts and Investments 263,941,642.17

Banking Houses 14,254,893.60

Customers' Liability Account of Acceptances 11,168,735.40

Accrued Interest Receivable and Other Assets 3,292,122.75

Total $699,912,109.33

LIABILITIES

Capital $44,500,000.00

Surplus and Profits 29,674,872.98

Reserves, including Interest, Taxes, Dividend, and Contingencies 12,797,040.80

Acceptances Executed for Customers 11,431,664.87

Endorsement on Acceptances and Foreign Bills Sold 437,844.62

Agreements to Repurchase United States Government Securities 1,912,000.00

Items in Transit with Foreign Branches 233,682.79

Deposits 598,925,003.27

Total $699,912,109.33

The figures of Old Colony Trust Company, which is beneficially owned by the stockholders of The First National Bank of Boston, are not included in the above statement.

SLAYER GUARDED IN HOSPITAL ROOM

Policemen Watch George Gentry, Who Tried Escape, Though Believed Dying.

Uniformed policemen Sunday night guarded the hospital room of George Gentry, who late Friday night shot and killed J. L. Lindsay, critically wounded Miss Mary Newberry and slightly wounded Patrolman R. E. Floyd, and was in turn shot twice in a pistol battle at 496 Jones avenue.

The guard was established after Gentry, whose condition is so critical doctors at Grady think he may die, attempted to escape early Sunday morning. With a bullet wound in the head and another in the chest, inflicted by Floyd, Gentry succeeded in slipping from his room and almost escaped. Now he is constantly watched by police although he is on the verge of death.

Miss Newberry also is in a critical condition at Grady and physicians said Sunday night they did not expect her to live through the night.

The pistol battle occurred Friday night at the home where Gentry and Lindsay, 76-year-old cripple, lived. Police were called to quell a disturbance and when Miss Newberry, the housekeeper opened the door against Gentry's orders he shot her through the chest. The bullet passed through her body and struck Officer Floyd in the head. Then Gentry fatally wounded Lindsay, whose funeral will be held at 10 o'clock today at the chapel of Harry G. Poole with interment to follow at Kenesaw.

Floyd was stunned by his wound but recovered and shot Gentry twice, in the head and chest.

U. S. Government Southern Municipal Federal Farm Mortgage Home Owners' Loan Bonds

Local and listed stocks and bonds bought or sold on customer's order.

INVESTMENT DEPARTMENT TRUST COMPANY OF GEORGIA

ESTABLISHED 1891 CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $3,500,000.00

MACON ATLANTA SAVANNAH

20% DISCOUNT ON LAUNDRY

PICKED UP AND DELIVERED This Discount applies to all bundles picked up on and after November 5, 1934. Prices subject to change without notice.

PRIMPREST Save 20%

DOMESTIC THRIFF FLAT WORK STARCH WORK

Phone WA. 2372 and have one of our courteous Routemen help you solve your Laundry problems

The Model Laundry Houston at Jackson WA. 2372

The FIRST NATIONAL BANK of BOSTON

150th Anniversary 1784 * 1934

A CONDENSED STATEMENT of CONDITION Covering all Offices and Foreign Branches as of October 17, 1934

RESOURCES

Cash and Due from Banks and the Treasurer of the United States $212,127,734.19

United States Government Securities 140,425,265.59

State and Municipal Securities 26,803,198.18

Collateral Demand Loans to Banks and Brokers 27,896,517.45

Loans, Discounts and Investments 263,941,642.17

Banking Houses 14,254,893.60

Customers' Liability Account of Acceptances 11,168,735.40

Accrued Interest Receivable and Other Assets 3,292,122.75

Total $699,912,109.33

LIABILITIES

Capital $44,500,000.00

Surplus and Profits 29,674,872.98

Reserves, including Interest, Taxes, Dividend, and Contingencies 12,797,040.80

Acceptances Executed for Customers 11,431,664.87

Endorsement on Acceptances and Foreign Bills Sold 437,844.62

Agreements to Repurchase United States Government Securities 1,912,000.00

Items in Transit with Foreign Branches 233,682.79

Deposits 598,925,003.27

Total $699,912,109.33

The figures of Old Colony Trust Company, which is beneficially owned by the stockholders of The First National Bank of Boston, are not included in the above statement.

MONEY for YOU $30 to $300 Plans to suit you and Terms to suit you on a Service that will suit you. Any Amount from

Family Finance Co. 3 Convenient Offices:

208 Georgia Savings Bank Bldg., Walnut 5293 Peachtree and Broad

208 Atlanta National Bank Bldg., Walnut 5494 Whitehall and Ala.

207 Connally Bldg., Main 1311 Whitehall and Ala.

Sound To Be Utilized To Measure Depths WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—A sound so shrill it cannot be heard, which measures the depth of a shallow water almost as accurately as a foot rule, is science's newest aid to sailors and navigators announced today by the coast and geodetic survey.

The new device, called the "Shoal Fathometer," is expected to be an important aid to ships in charting the bottom and in making charts of the bottom in shallow-water areas. It is an adaptation and improvement of the deep-water fathometer, used by the coast survey in charting coastal waters and by ships generally for about nine years.

All the work will be done from a network of steel scaffolding that now covers the monument from its base to its pointed top.

The repair program of the park service includes the replacement of blocks where necessary, fitting in inlays in other blocks and putting lightning rods in first-class condition. Afterward the shaft is to be scrubbed with soap and water.

The monument sways several inches in high winds. Even the sun makes it sway. The expansion of the shaft caused by the sun's shining with full strength on the south side has made the giant obelisk move as much as 2 1/2 inches toward the north.

The repair program of the park service includes the replacement of blocks where necessary, fitting in inlays in other blocks and putting lightning rods in first-class condition. Afterward the shaft is to be scrubbed with soap and water.

All the work will be done from a network of steel scaffolding that now covers the monument from its base to its pointed top.

Sound To Be Utilized To Measure Depths WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—A sound so shrill it cannot be heard, which measures the depth of a shallow water almost as accurately as a foot rule, is science's newest aid to sailors and navigators announced today by the coast and geodetic survey.

The new device, called the "Shoal Fathometer," is expected to be an important aid to ships in charting the bottom and in making charts of the bottom in shallow-water areas. It is an adaptation and improvement of the deep-water fathometer, used by the coast survey in charting coastal waters and by ships generally for about nine years.

All the work will be done from a network of steel scaffolding that now covers the monument from its base to its pointed top.

The repair program of the park service includes the replacement of blocks where necessary, fitting in inlays in other blocks and putting lightning rods in first-class condition. Afterward the shaft is to be scrubbed with soap and water.

All the work will be done from a network of steel scaffolding that now covers the monument from its base to its pointed top.

The repair program of the park service includes the replacement of blocks where necessary, fitting in inlays in other blocks and putting lightning rods in first-class condition. Afterward the shaft is to be scrubbed with soap and water.

All the work will be done from a network of steel scaffolding that now covers the monument from its base to its pointed top.

The repair program of the park service includes the replacement of blocks where necessary, fitting in inlays in other blocks and putting lightning rods in first-class condition. Afterward the shaft is to be scrubbed with soap and water.

All the work will be done from a network of steel scaffolding that now covers the monument from its base to its pointed top.

Sound To Be Utilized To Measure Depths WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—A sound so shrill it cannot be heard, which measures the depth of a shallow water almost as accurately as a foot rule, is science's newest aid to sailors and navigators announced today by the coast and geodetic survey.

The new device, called the "Shoal Fathometer," is expected to be an important aid to ships in charting the bottom and in making charts of the bottom in shallow-water areas. It is an adaptation and improvement of the deep-water fathometer, used by the coast survey in charting coastal waters and by ships generally for about nine years.

All the work will be done from a network of steel scaffolding that now covers the monument from its base to its pointed top.

The repair program of the park service includes the replacement of blocks where necessary, fitting in inlays in other blocks and putting lightning rods in first-class condition. Afterward the shaft is to be scrubbed with soap and water.

All the work will be done from a network of steel scaffolding that now covers the monument from its base to its pointed top.

The repair program of the park service includes the replacement of blocks where necessary, fitting in inlays in other blocks and putting lightning rods in first-class condition. Afterward the shaft is to be scrubbed with soap and water.

All the work will be done from a network of steel scaffolding that now covers the monument from its base to its pointed top.

The repair program of the park service includes the replacement of blocks where necessary, fitting in inlays in other blocks and putting lightning rods in first-class condition. Afterward the shaft is to be scrubbed with soap and water.

All the work will be done from a network of steel scaffolding that now covers

BANKHEAD SPEAKS AT MOULTRE FETE

Cotton-Control Sponsor To Appear at Airport Dedication Nov. 9.

MOULTRE, Ga., Nov. 4.—Senator John H. Bankhead, Alabama, co-sponsor of the Bankhead cotton control act, will speak at the Moultrie airport Friday morning at 11 o'clock. The occasion will mark the opening of a three-day celebration of the formal dedication of the municipally owned landing field. Senator Bankhead's address will be in connection with cotton legislation and the possible ways of increasing the consumption of the state. He will make only one speech in Georgia and will come here on an invitation extended by the local American Legion post and W. J. Vereen, Moultrie banker and manufacturer, who has long been a friend of the Alabama senator.

Senator Bankhead probably will make a similar speech in each of the other cotton growing states. He already has made a number of addresses in his home state.

Congressman E. E. Cox, of the second district, and W. T. Anderson, editor and publisher of the Moultrie Telegraph, will speak Friday. Senator Walter F. George will deliver the Armistice Day address here on Saturday. Delaney Allen, Albany, state commander of the Alabama Legion, will precede Senator George.

More than 50 airplanes will be here during the three days beginning next Friday and an air show will be given daily. Several of the best known stunt pilots and parachute jumpers in the country will have part in the air shows.

The airport has been described by representatives of the aeronautics division of the commerce department as being one of the finest in the state and at this time it is in perfect condition. The site was bought by the city government four years ago, but most of the work in improving it has been done this year. The FEHA put up more than $15,000 for land and material. Moultrie is making preparations to entertain a crowd of several thousand persons on each of the three days.

The biggest of the air shows will be on Sunday, the closing day of the celebration. There is to be no speaking on that date.

The entire program is being sponsored by the local Legion post, but the chamber of commerce and other civic agencies are co-operating.

G.S.W.S. BUILDING PLANS SENT TO WASHINGTON

VALDOSTA, Ga., Nov. 4.—The board of regents has submitted plans for the new dormitory at the Georgia State Woman's College at Valdosta to the PWA in Washington. It is expected that the work will get under way before the end of the present year. The new dormitory will be built at a cost of approximately $70,000. Another project for $15,000 to erect a new gymnasium and swimming pool has also been submitted. The gymnasium will have an assembly room with a seating capacity of 600. Until now the college has no auditorium, it being necessary to use the dining hall for such purposes.

The new buildings were all included in the original plans for the college plant, and each building is located on the blue print according to its relation to the remainder of the group.

URBAN LEAGUE WEEKLY BULLETIN

By REGINALD A. JOHNSON.
With the recent resignation of Dr. Robert Russa Moton, president of Tuskegee Institute, there passes from the field of negro education a personage distinguished for his contribution to the great institution founded by Booker T. Washington. Dr. Moton was born in Prince Edward county, Virginia, in 1867 and graduated from Hampton Institute in 1890. From shortly after graduation in 1890 to 1915, he held the very important position of commandant at Hampton Institute. At the death of that eminent educator, Booker T. Washington, Dr. Moton was elected his successor as principal of Tuskegee Institute. Since that time, in addition to his very exacting duties at Tuskegee, a very busy and eventful life was led by Dr. Moton. He is a member of the board of directors of the National Urban League; has been president of the National Negro Business League since 1919; was chairman of the colored advisory commission Mississippi flood 1927; chairman of the commission on education in Haiti; on the board of directors of the Dunbar National bank, New York city; and the recipient of the Harmon award for his contribution to better race relations in 1932 for the greatest contribution to race relations by a negro.

Virginia Union, Wilberforce and Oberlin universities conferred on him the doctor of law degree in 1916, as also did Williams College in 1920 and Howard University in 1929. A Litt. D. was received from Lincoln University in 1929 and an honorary M. A. from Harvard University in 1929.

Shortly before Dr. Moton was made principal of Tuskegee, the school had 151 teachers, over 1,000 students and an income of approximately $242,000. From a report of recent issue, today, Tuskegee has over 250 teachers, approximately 2,600 students and an annual budget of almost $600,000. For those who have never seen Tuskegee Institute and its 130-some odd buildings, it will be difficult to conceive of the magnitude of Tuskegee and its activities. Aside from the actual academic and trade work carried on, Tuskegee renders a service not only to its immediate environs, but extends its influence throughout the nation. Dr. George W. Carver's famed researches in agricultural research, the department of agricultural research and his work are known by every scientist throughout the nation. Under the direction of Dr. Monroe N. Work, the department of records and research carefully compiles information concerning the negro, which is periodically released through the Negro Yearbook, a volume to be found in most school and public libraries. The Tuskegee farmers' conference, which is an annual effort to assist the negro farmer in meeting his rural problems more effectively, draws its attendance from every part of the south. Under agricultural extension, extensive work is done in co-operation with the United States department of agriculture.

In closing we quote from the Tuskegee Institute Bulletin, the Tuskegee ideal in education which has been the cornerstone of this immense project.

"Tuskegee Institute aims to provide an opportunity for young colored men and women to acquire a sound vocational training so that upon graduation they may be thoroughly equipped for active service and leadership in promoting moral, educational, industrial, and economic betterment in the communities in which they may thereafter live."

Baptist Colleges To Be Asked To Surrender $1,250,000

Committee Report Asks Exchange of Debentures for Convention Aid; Mercer May Decline.

MACON, Ga., Nov. 4.—(P)—Surrender of more than $1,250,000 in debentures against the Georgia Baptist convention is asked of the five denominational colleges in a report of an educational committee of seven released here today by Dr. James Ellis Sammons, chairman, president of the state convention of 400,000 state Baptists.

Recommending the "complete divestment from the convention of the financial affairs of four institutions, but suggesting the continuance of convention interest, activity and support at Mercer University" here, the committee's report will hold intense interest when presented at the annual Georgia Baptist convention in Albany November 13 and 14.

A strong indication that Mercer will decline to surrender its debentures exceeding $500,000 and will reject other provisions were contained in the statement in the report: "Your committee regrets to report no agreement has yet been reached with Mercer University. All other institutions already have accepted the proposals."

A proposed annual convention appropriation of "not less than $300,000" to Mercer is conditioned upon the surrender of the debenture bonds on or before January 1, 1935. The appropriation could not be reduced except by a vote of two successive conventions, the report provides.

Under the provisions of the report, the boards of trustees of Bessie Tift College, Forsyth; Shorter College, Rome; Norman Junior College, Norman Park; and Brewster Parker Institute, Vernon, would "take over and run the college independently without expectation of financial support from convention appropriations."

In exchange for the release of debentures, the convention would give its hearty endorsement to the colleges in an effort to raise funds for endowment, and in the cases of Norman College, Shorter and Brewster Parker, the convention during the next three years would make cash payments toward liquidation of certain obligations.

Although asserting its inability to reach an agreement with Mercer authorities, the committee concludes its printed report with recommendations, which, if adopted by the convention, would require the surrender of $830,492.73 in debentures in exchange for an annual appropriation of $30,000 from the convention.

Members of the committee said the action is "absolutely necessary to lift a staggering debt, virtually impossible of payment, from the convention and will at the same time actually strengthen the Georgia Baptist education program and center it at Mercer University, an institution with more than 100 years of service."

Members of the committee of seven which in the past two years have made an extensive study of Baptist educational program are Dr. Sammons, C. D. Graves, Dublin; Roland Q. Leavell, Gainesville; J. C. Wilkinson, Athens; F. S. Porter, Columbus, all church pastors; Mrs. Ben S. Thompson, Madison, president of the Georgia Baptist Women's Missionary Union, and Dr. Gordon S. Singleton, Macon, dean of the Mercer University school of education and committee secretary.

Supplementing a report which was tabled at the Augusta convention last year, the new recommendations will affect the five colleges, as follows: Bessie Tift—Surrender of $220,000 in debentures held by the college; administration: Miss Jane Van de Vrede, director of women's work for the same national organization; Marianna Ward, of Savannah, Ga., and Mrs. Dorothy Treaskie, of Savannah, president of the association.

Dr. S. V. Sanford, president of the University of Georgia, and Mayor Alonzo Dudley, of Athens; Dr. G. O. Welch, president of the Clark County Medical Association, and Mrs. H. B. Franklin, president of the Clark County Nurses' Association, also are to be speakers.

The Georgia League of Nursing Education and the State Organization of Public Health Nursing are to hold meetings November 5 at noon, along with the private duty section.

A barbecue is planned November 5 at the Athens Country Club. A banquet will be held November 6 at 7:30 p. m. at Dawson Hall, agricultural college, University of Georgia. The three divisions of the general organization plan special programs during the general meeting.

Miss Durice Dickers, of Atlanta, is president of the Georgia League of Nursing Education; Miss Freida Grefe, of Savannah, heads the private duty nursing section, and Mrs. Mabel S. Brown, of Macon, the organization of public health nursing.

Endowment, trust funds and real estate to the boards of trustees. Contingent upon Mercer's release of the debentures, the proposed single appropriation of "not less than $30,000 is the equivalent of a 5 per cent income on a productive endowment of $500,000 plus the equivalent of a 5 per cent interest payment on an indebtedness of $100,000," the report points out.

The further recommendation is made that this appropriation "can only be reduced by a vote of two successive conventions directing that the same be done."

GEORGIA NURSES OPEN MEET TODAY

Three-Day Athens Sessions To Hear Prominent Professional Women

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 4.—(P)—The Georgia State Nurses' Association will meet here November 5, 6 and 7 to discuss the various problems and developments of the profession.

Among the featured speakers will be Miss Meda Marsh, of Okmulgee, Okla., chairman of the private duty section of the American Nurses' Association; Miss Gay B. Shepperson, of Atlanta, director of federal emergency relief for Georgia; Miss Alice Dwyer, Red Cross field representative for Georgia; Mrs. Abbie Roberts Weaver, supervisor of nursing projects for the Georgia emergency relief administration; Miss Jane Van de Vrede, director of women's work for the same national organization; Marianna Ward, of Savannah, Ga., and Mrs. Dorothy Treaskie, of Savannah, president of the association.

Dr. S. V. Sanford, president of the University of Georgia, and Mayor Alonzo Dudley, of Athens; Dr. G. O. Welch, president of the Clark County Medical Association, and Mrs. H. B. Franklin, president of the Clark County Nurses' Association, also are to be speakers.

The Georgia League of Nursing Education and the State Organization of Public Health Nursing are to hold meetings November 5 at noon, along with the private duty section.

A barbecue is planned November 5 at the Athens Country Club. A banquet will be held November 6 at 7:30 p. m. at Dawson Hall, agricultural college, University of Georgia. The three divisions of the general organization plan special programs during the general meeting.

Miss Durice Dickers, of Atlanta, is president of the Georgia League of Nursing Education; Miss Freida Grefe, of Savannah, heads the private duty nursing section, and Mrs. Mabel S. Brown, of Macon, the organization of public health nursing.

Endowment, trust funds and real estate to the boards of trustees. Contingent upon Mercer's release of the debentures, the proposed single appropriation of "not less than $30,000 is the equivalent of a 5 per cent income on a productive endowment of $500,000 plus the equivalent of a 5 per cent interest payment on an indebtedness of $100,000," the report points out.

The further recommendation is made that this appropriation "can only be reduced by a vote of two successive conventions directing that the same be done."

State Deaths And Funerals

GEORGE G. SMITH.
BRUNSWICK, Ga., Nov. 4.—George G. Smith, 20, widely-known south Georgia basketball star, died here today after a long illness.
He served many years as trainmaster and later as superintendent of the Atlantic & Birmingham railroad, now the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic. He was married to Mrs. Douglas. He established the United States Turpentine Company and remained in that business until forced to retire because of ill health four years ago. Surviving are his widow, four children by a former marriage, G. Cameron Smith, Jr., of Birmingham; Mrs. Douglas, of Birmingham; and Mrs. Douglas, of Birmingham. He was the husband of the former Miss Lella Singletary, of Thomasville. Two children, Elizabeth and Herbert Jr., survive with their mother.

H. Y. WATERHOUSE.
THOMASVILLE, Ga., Nov. 4.—Funeral services were held here Saturday for H. Y. Waterhouse, who died Thursday at Reidsport, Conn. Interment took place at the home of Mrs. Gaston Willis, of Reidsport, Conn. He was the husband of the former Miss Lella Singletary, of Thomasville. Two children, Elizabeth and Herbert Jr., survive with their mother.

MRS. IDA PINSON.
THOMASVILLE, Ga., Nov. 4.—Funeral services were held here Saturday for Mrs. Ida Pinson, who died there at the age of 72 years. The services, held at the home of Mrs. Gaston Willis, of Reidsport, Conn. He was the husband of the former Miss Lella Singletary, of Thomasville. Two children, Elizabeth and Herbert Jr., survive with their mother.

She was a member of one of the oldest families of Thomas county, the family having been prominent in the development of the county. She was a daughter of the late John Pinson who is said to have been one of the first settlers in Thomas county. She was a member of the Baptist church, of Ochokechee, and a prominent and popular resident of this city.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Gaston Willis and Miss Marie Pinson, Ochokechee, and Miss Annie Mae Pinson, and by three sons, John Pinson of Ochokechee; Hoyt Pinson, Thomasville, and Robert Pinson, Atlanta.

COAT FOUND IN HUNT FOR MISSING COUPLE

EAGLE LAKE, Maine, Nov. 4.—(P)—A leather coat worn by Mrs. Robert S. Webster, who with her husband, vice president of the American Camp Directors' Association, are believed to have drowned in Eagle Lake, was found by searchers today.

The coat, with a paddle and a man's hat, were found a quarter of a mile from the spot on the west shore of the lake, where yesterday the Websters' capsized and submerged canoe and much of their camping supplies were discovered.

CORN HUSKERS MOVE TO SCENE OF CONTEST

FAIRMONT, Minn., Nov. 4.—(P)—Peg and hook artists from the corn belt packed bags today for a hegira to Fairmont, where gold and glory await the winner of the national corn-husking contest Thursday.

Cream of corn pickers, whether they use a small peg or a hook with which to rip off the husks, will compete for cash prizes in a field that men

SUCCESS ANTICIPATED IN HOUSING CAMPAIGN

$3,000,000 Goal Expected Be Reached When Reports Are Made Today.

The anticipated total of $3,000,000 is expected to have been reached in the Atlanta better housing campaign last week, when final reports are received by campaign officials today, it was announced Sunday.

Due to the fact that much of the work has been done through community civic organizations, a final check could not be made until today, according to campaign officials. Atlanta workers were asked, during the past week, to make needed repairs and to do necessary modernization work in an effort to increase property values and to alleviate unemployment among those formerly employed in the building trades.

It is estimated that one out of every four working men now out of jobs were employed in the building trades. As a feature of the Atlanta better housing campaign, conducted by the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations, a dilapidated shack was moved to the corner of Peachtree street and Linden avenue, and there remodeled into a modern, livable home.

Last week there were more than 25,000 interested visitors. Atlanta building material firms and furniture dealers furnished the materials and furnished the house completely.

NRA COURT DECISIONS ARE 90 PCT. FAVORABLE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(P)—NRA says court decision on the recovery law are running 90 per cent favorable.

Within the last six weeks, NRA's litigation division appeared as counsel in 73 federal court actions. NRA said all but six decisions were favorable to the government.

From the date of creation of the litigation division last March 28, NRA said it had docketed 683 cases. It said 199 cases had been closed and 129 court decisions obtained, all but 10 of which upheld the government's position.

who know their corn say is "nothing to be sneezed at."

The field, owned by the Fairmont Canning Company, will run 60 to 70 bushels to the acre before the season by champions and runners-up from nine states. To the winner of the 90-minute husking competition will go $100, while $10 will be given the man placing fifth.

Hawaiian Weed Hawked By 2 Alert Salesmen

SAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 4.—(P)—Souvenir salesmen got on the job quickly as Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith landed the Lady Southern Cross here today after a flight from Honolulu.

Two men, displaying a weed, went among the crowd which pressed toward the plane and offered sprigs at 25 cents a sprig. "We found the weed on the tail-skid of Sir Charles' plane," one of the salesmen explained. "He unfortunately picked it up at Wheeler field in Honolulu."

Many curious spectators parted with 25 cents for a tiny piece to keep as a souvenir.

Canadian Bank Notes Business Improvement

MONTREAL, Quebec, Nov. 4.—(UP)—General business conditions throughout the world are today well above the 1928 levels in spite of the fact that doubt as to the prospects in the United States is retarding business in other countries, the Royal letter tonight.

The bank statement adds that in almost inverse ratio conditions in the United States have been retarded by unfortunate events in Europe.

"Within the United States excessive pessimism as to world conditions retards improvement, and doubt as to prospects in that country holds back business in other countries," the bank says.

A. & P. PREPARES TO REOPEN STORES

CLEVELAND, Nov. 4.—(P)—The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company today moved speedily to reopen its 300 stores, closed for one week as the result of a controversy with seven local labor unions.

As freight cars of merchandise Men's, Boys' Work Shirts

The Army Store (DUCKETT, INC.) 79 ALABAMA ST., S. W.

DR. E. G. GRIFFIN

113 1/2 Alabama St. Cor. Whitehall. Est. Over 30 Years

Low Prices, High-Class Dental Work

A Good Set Teeth... $4.00
Hecolite Plate... $12.50
Phone WA. 1612

Teeth Cleaned... 50c
Amalgam Fillings... 50c
Teeth Extracted... 50c

rolled into the company's warehouses, a small force of office workers began straightening their accounts and checking the new goods. Bakers fired their ovens and a few trucks made deliveries to stores.

Tomorrow all the 2,200 employees, who had a one-week vacation with pay but feared the loss of their jobs, will be back at work.

YOU FEEL NO YOUNGER THAN YOUR STOMACH

Excessive acidity destroys the activity of the vital gastric fluids which MUST be in your stomach to digest the food you eat. Get the acidity out, quickly, and your trouble will be over. Drink some water with a teaspoonful of Placidin in it. Several times during the day, and especially before retiring. It wipes out the acidity, liquefies the indigested lumps of food and soothes the irritated stomach. Then the vital gastric fluids (which have been destroyed by the acidity) become active again. Placidin is the new preparation which has been doing so many wonderful things for people who thought they would never have another well day. At the new, lower price, the big package of Placidin costs very little. You can get it at any drug store. Just be sure you get Placidin. That's very important. It is not laxative. Does not purge the bowels. Contains no sugar.—(adv.)

If you ever expect to get your strength and vitality back, sleep sound, wake up refreshed, and eat your meals without suffering from heartburn, gas, sick headaches and acid indigestion, you must wipe the excessive acidity out of your stomach.

Excessive acidity destroys the activity of the vital gastric fluids which MUST be in your stomach to digest the food you eat. Get the acidity out, quickly, and your trouble will be over. Drink some water with a teaspoonful of Placidin in it. Several times during the day, and especially before retiring. It wipes out the acidity, liquefies the indigested lumps of food and soothes the irritated stomach. Then the vital gastric fluids (which have been destroyed by the acidity) become active again. Placidin is the new preparation which has been doing so many wonderful things for people who thought they would never have another well day. At the new, lower price, the big package of Placidin costs very little. You can get it at any drug store. Just be sure you get Placidin. That's very important. It is not laxative. Does not purge the bowels. Contains no sugar.—(adv.)

WHEN DETAILS ARE WEARING...

GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

ALL TOBACCO MEN KNOW:

"Camels are made from finer, More Expensive Tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

WALTER O'KEEFE

YOU ARE INVITED TO TUNE IN ON THE NEW CAMEL CARAVAN WITH WALTER O'KEEFE ANNETTE HANSHAW GLEN GRAY'S CASA LOMA ORCHESTRA TED HUSING

TUESDAY 10:00 P.M. E.S.T. 8:00 P.M. M.S.T. 9:00 P.M. C.S.T. 7:00 P.M. P.S.T. THURSDAY 9:00 P.M. E.S.T. 9:30 P.M. M.S.T. 8:00 P.M. C.S.T. 8:30 P.M. P.S.T.

OVER COAST-TO-COAST—WABC—COLUMBIA NETWORK

PRE-MEDICAL STUDENT, Charles Stephens, Jr., says: "There are times when I feel completely 'done in'! But a Camel quickly erases that tired feeling. Camels are a milder cigarette!"

CHAMPION GOLFER, Miss Helen Hicks, former Women's Champion of the United States, says: "I can always restore my energy with a Camel. It's a lift that I enjoy often. And I can smoke Camels constantly without a sign of jangled nerves."

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

THE GUMPS—HOME AT LAST

MOON MULLINS—A GLUTTON FOR PUNISHMENT

ORPHAN ANNIE—THE PRISONERS' SONG

DICK TRACY—Underground

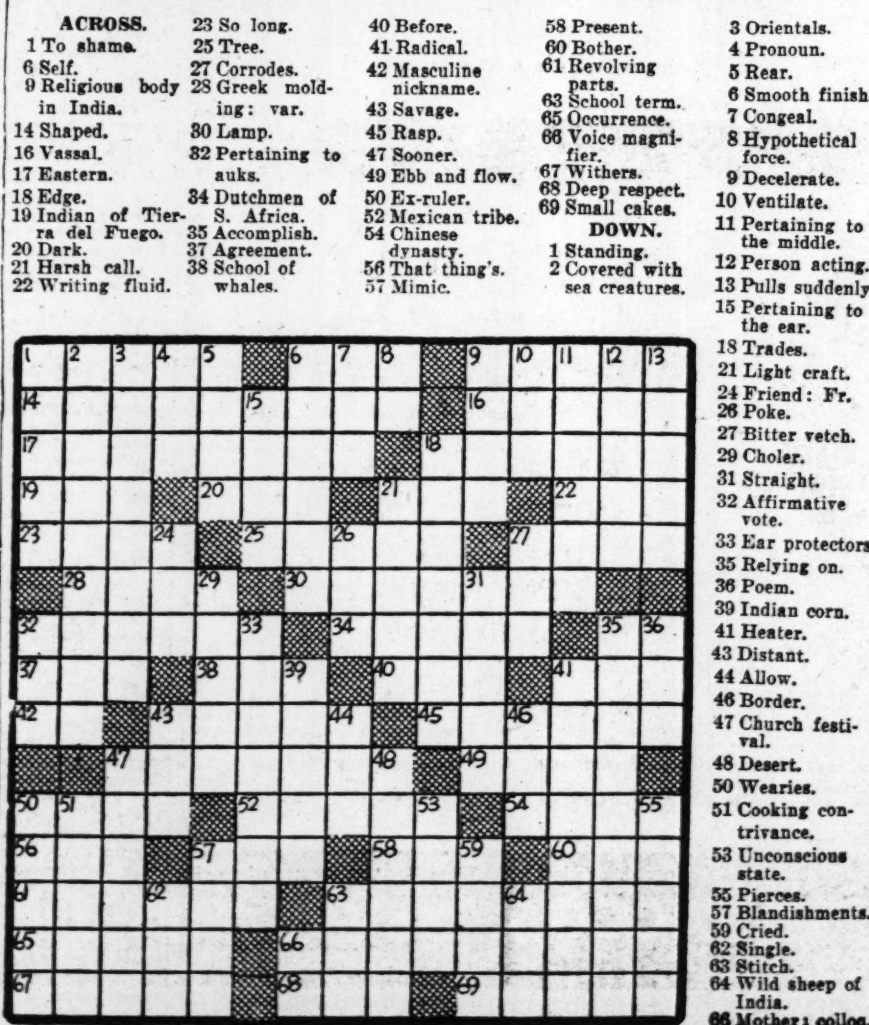

SMITTY—ADVANCE INFORMATION

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER—

Constitution's Daily Cross-Word Puzzle

THE LAUGHING GIRL MYSTERY

By Viola Paradise

INSTALLMENT XXXIII.

"But how'd you guess those boxes were English?" asked Joey.

"For breakfast suggested the idea. And then Mrs. Coggs despite a perfect American accent, frequently slipped into English expressions. 'Fancy you being one to like coziness,' for instance."

"But," Wilcox interrupted, "if you knew yesterday noon that they were guilty, why not have arrested them then?"

"I had nothing a jury would consider evidence. And no motive. That's why," he turned to Dinard, "I had to let the case develop against you. Until your supposed motive should turn up, I couldn't find a counter-motive. Fortunately, with Scotland Yard's swift help, you didn't have to suffer long."

"But I still can't believe," Dr. Coe said, "that Coggs could have been the Marlin Dr. Wellington recommended."

"He wasn't. The real Marlin mentioned yesterday by Dr. Wellington mentioned Marlin's scar, and his hairy wig, but said nothing of his snuff-taking, or his smell; which he would have, had they existed. The addition of an unpleasant odor to a sufficiently marked man indicated that Marlin, like Coggs, like the murderer who sowed clues broadcast, had a habit of over-doing things."

"If, then, Coggs was Marlin, we might be able to find some fingerprints in the museum. I'd have had to arrest Dinard if Joey had identified him as Dennis Swift—but, having him at large instead of in jail enabled him to lead us to fingerprints—our first bit of absolute evidence."

"I still don't see," said Sheridan, "how you knew Coggs would remind me of Marlin."

"I didn't know," said Alby. "Every one who spoke of Marlin mentioned his conspicuous features. No one seemed able to tell me what I wanted to know. So I had a midnight supper with Coggs, and discovered one trait that did help; in nervous or unoccupied moments he stumps on the rungs or the under part of the seat of his chair. That suggested a new place to hunt for fingerprints—museum chairs."

"But I had noticed the way Dinard's mind worked. An unseen laugh had stirred his unconscious memory of Delany. His subconscious mind had noticed something familiar about a chair in the Coggs apartment, a familiarity which came and went. Perhaps it was the placing of the chair? If Dinard could see Coggs, dressed as much as possible like Marlin, sitting in Marlin's chair, which unconsciously he might move at a familiar angle, perhaps we might get a definite recognition of Marlin out of Dinard. So we kept Coggs waiting long enough for him to indulge his habit of strutting on chair rungs. At which moment we sent Dinard down the stairs. Dinard's unconscious mind did its stuff; recognized the gesture—the angle of the chair, and—a moment later—the set of Coggs' eyes—a slantwise set, which his non-Dinard assistant, inherited, and which Coggs' impersonations could disguise. In that moment when Dinard saw through the Coggs disguise to the actual eyescape and slant, his mind made a characteristic short-cut. He recalled that only last Friday Marlin, sitting in that very chair, at that very angle, had folded some mail which hadn't been sent and upon which there might have been—and were—fingerprints."

"Why the anonymous letter to me?" asked Dr. Coe.

"And why was I involved?" added Wilcox.

"Malice is the answer to those questions. He hated you all for the five inkling years as your servant. If he could break up a happy marriage and ruin a career, good."

"We could have arrested him several hours ago, on those fingerprints," Higgins put in. "But we hoped for what we got—fireworks, when we produced Wilcox."

"They threw a swell act," said one of the reporters. "But I'd like the beginning of the story."

"Scotland Yard has just sent us a cable which reveals most of the story," Alby said. "Read it, Harrod."

Harrod read:

"Following is letter received by Gertrude Smiley from Daisy Satterly: Dear Gertrude, I can't even hint where I'm going, because I promised. But I didn't promise not to keep a diary so I'll start one and enclose it, but on your honor don't read it unless something happens to me or it will bring me bad luck. Good-bye for a little while. Your loving Daisy. Enclosed (the cable continues) was a thin note book containing the following:

"Tomorrow I sail for America and fame, happy but frightened, too. 'You—I mean Gertrude—will remember the gypsy five years ago that stopped me outside the theater in Hull and said, 'A great fortune waits you, but tell me one or it will cause delay. Marriage in six years. An earlier marriage would bring disasters.' Well I did tell Gertrude, because I didn't believe in fortune tellers then. But next week I heard of Cousin Asbury's fortune, that I couldn't have till I was 25. I'd have had the money sooner, if I hadn't disobeyed the gypsy. Then six months ago a letter came from America, signed Cousin Victor Salter, who is the husband of my mother's cousin Nan. He wrote that his best friend, a famous producer, had returned from England where he had discovered a dancing genius in a travelling troupe in New York and his name was Daisy Satterly, and after the depression he was going to look her up!!! Cousin Nan thought it might be me. Was my mother's name Janet? If so, say nothing of this correspondence to anyone, but send some family information so outside world would know. So, to prove I was the right one, I wrote him what I've never told anybody, the family disgrace which was that Asbury Sheridan's half-brother Dean died in prison. Cousin Asbury Sheridan fixed his will so Dean's children couldn't inherit. But they all died years ago, except cousin Nan, who went into vaudeville. I met her only once when I was little, but I remember she taught me a dance. So I wrote all this, and promised not to breathe a word. Cousin Victor wrote back saying she had never recovered from the shock of losing their only child, but maybe I could be a daughter to her in her old age, and it would be pleasant to have some one of their own blood to inherit their estate when they died."

"But better than that, he promised me a chance on the stage some day. We wrote quite a few letters. Then Cousin Nan had a dream that when she got back to their New York flat from the doctor's, and opened the door, there was I, all grown up, in an old-fashioned pale blue costume, with puff sleeves and a white wig. And if that dream could come true, she could die happy. So Cousin Victor wrote could I come immediately if he sent money for passage and the costume, and then we'd stage Cousin Nan's dream just as she dreamed it. And he said he'd seen the producer again and as a result I am to be starred almost at once! But the producer thought I needed a catcher name, so Cousin Victor went to a numerologist and they thought up Diantha Sheridan, if I was willing. Of course I was."

"The status I packed. I've made one mistake in my trunk. He asked me to bring them to prove I'm the right person. I'll explain about packing them tomorrow. If you say I mean Gertrude—could come too! But I'll send money for a ticket the minute I get some, which ought to be soon, since I'm a genius."

(Signed) "Daisy Satterly, from now on, Diantha Sheridan."

"There was silence when Harrod finished the long cables."

"But I still don't understand how he planned the whole thing," said Sheridan, "for it must have been his work, that gypsy business with poor Daisy."

"Yes," said one of the reporters. "Give it to us straight or from the beginning, Alby."

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

AUNT HET

"Essie can tell she's gettin' to be an old maid. The family brags on to her."

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

JUST NUTS

"The coal yard burned again today!"

"YOU'D THINK SOMEONE WOULD INVENT A WAY TO MAKE COAL FIREPROOF"

"Cinderella"

"Cinderella" means "Little Cinderella" and we are told that she had to perform the hard rough work of the household in which she lived. She had two step-sisters who would never soil their hands with housework. One day the step-sisters were invited to a ball, which was to be a great affair attended by the prince. Cinderella helped them to get ready. She was sorry that she had not been

FAMOUS STORIES.

I—Cinderella.

We are likely to think of a good old story like that of Cinderella as always being told in the same way; but that is not the case. The tale is told in dozens of "versions" in different lands, and story-tellers have made little changes ever since it was composed, thousands of years ago.

At the time Cinderella was greeted as if she were a princess, and danced with the prince. She did not tell her name, but she was invited to come to another ball.

The next time Cinderella forgot to keep track of the time. The fairy godmother had said she must return by midnight. Hearing the clock begin to strike 12, she ran from the ballroom. Her fine clothing turned back to the poor garments she had worn before—except that she still had one of her glass slippers. The other slipper had fallen off as she ran from the ballroom.

Later the prince found out who she was, when men went through the kingdom to learn which maiden had a foot which would fit the glass slipper. After locating Cinderella, he made her his bride.

The old French story from which our common version was taken said that Cinderella wore fur slippers. There was a mistake when the story was translated from French into English, and ever since English-speaking people have told of glass slippers instead of fur slippers.

(For General Interest section of your scrapbook.)

If you want the free leaflet, "Questions and Answers About Europe," send a 3c stamp, return envelope to me in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

Uncle Ray

Tomorrow—St. George and the Dragon.

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

Use This Coupon to Join the Uncle Ray Scrapbook Club!

To Uncle Ray,
Care of The Atlanta Constitution,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Uncle Ray: I want to join the 1934 Uncle Ray Scrapbook Club, and I enclose a stamped envelope carefully addressed to myself. Please send me a Membership Certificate, a leaflet telling how to make a Corner scrapbook of my own, and a printed design to paste on the cover of my scrapbook.

Name

Street or R. F. D. State or Province.

City

Now, we can make definite wedding arrangements.

TON, YOU HAVE MADE THE HAPPIEST GIRL IN TOWN

WHERE IN THE WORLD DO YOU GET THE MONEY TO PAY FOR THESE GLASS SLIPPERS?

WHEN A FELLOW CREDIT IS IN NEED SO MUCH MONEY.

CREDIT

ALL

SCHNEER'S

64 WHITEHALL ST.

Mary Nolan Sought In $2,000 'Robbery'

HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 4.—(UP)—Complaint of a theatrical booking agent that he discovered the loss of $2,000 after he had been with Mary Nolan, formerly Ignite Wilson, of the stage and screen, tonight caused police to send out a five-star teletype alarm asking authorities to hold the actress for questioning.

The agent, Frank Keftman, of Newark, N. J., asked police to seek Miss Nolan. He told detectives he went for a drive with her early today after she finished her act at the swanky Green Gables cafe.

He said they stopped some place for a drink. After one drink, he declared, he didn't remember anything until he awoke at 7:30 a. m.

Detectives questioned a clerk at Miss Nolan's hotel and learned she returned at 4:30 a. m. and immediately hired a taxi to drive her to New York city. It was reported the former show girl's clothing and other effects remained in her suite.

Entertaining 'Red Head' Shown at Neighborhoods

Hilarious entertainment is provided in "Red Head," a first-run production which opened Sunday at the Buckhead, Hill and Madison theaters. The picture will open today at the College Park theater.

Grace Bradley, a recent addition to the screen colony of featured players, gives a scintillating performance in her role as Dale Carter, the "red-head."

Bruce Cabot plays opposite Miss Bradley as Ted Brown, a ne'er-do-well scion of a wealthy family.

The story deals with the attempts of Dale Carter to obtain a job after she has been publicized by the press as having been instrumental in the death of a prominent artist.

Meanwhile, likewise has been publicized for his wild and costly fun-making escapades.

An accidental meeting throws the pair together, and both bring into the picture the money which they expect to receive from a marriage plan to which Ted's father has agreed.

Much to their surprise, Ted's father refuses to pay him out of his marriage, but instead agrees to remunerate Dale if she can reform the young husband.

They open a lunch wagon across the street from the gates of a factory. Ted eventually gets a job in the factory, and soon, noting the increasing number of accidents that occur, invents an addition to the machine that enable the men to work more efficiently and at the same time protect themselves.

More complications develop, however, when Ted learns of Dale's "bar-gain" with his father, but a happy and surprising finale is reached.

A Grandland Race Spotlight, a Charles Chase comedy and newsreel complete the bill.

—GEORGE HATCHER.

FOX Now ANN WARDING "THE FOUNTAIN"

Extra! "LA CUCARACHA"

PARAMOUNT NOW IRENE DUNNE JOHN BOLES

The Age of Innocence

CAPITOL STAGE "SOUTHERN ROMANCES"

James Dunn, Alice Faye, in "The Sign of the Cross"

25th Grand "The Merry Widow"

CHEVALIER JEANETTE MACDONALD "The Merry Widow"

BUCKHEAD "Redhead"

COLLEGE PARK "Redhead"

FOX "The Fountain"

HILL "Redhead"

LOEW'S GRAND "The Merry Widow"

PARAMOUNT "The Age of Innocence"

MADISON "Redhead"

RIALTO "The Successor to 'Lady for a Day'"

ERLANGER THEATRE "HER MASTER'S VOICE"

CANADIAN RAIL LINE TO RESTORE PAY CUTS

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—(UP)—Thousands of Canadian Railway employees will receive partial restoration of wage cuts during the next few months, it was announced today.

The Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways and representatives of 16 railway labor organizations reached an agreement covering wage rates for the coming year.

Employees now are under a 15 per cent cut and that agreement will continue until the end of the year. Commencing January 1, 1935, the general wage scale will be revised so that the deduction will be 12 per cent instead of 15, and on May 1 a further reduction will be made to 10 per cent.

FT. WORTH TO CHICAGO AIR RECORD IS SET

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—(UP)—A record of 3 hours 52 minutes for passenger plane flight from Fort Worth, Texas, to Chicago at an average speed of 213 miles an hour was set today by an American Airlines ship.

The trip was cut a half hour from the previous record of 4 hours, 22 minutes. The plane, a new Douglas, of the same type as that which finished second in the London-to-Melbourne air race, was piloted by J. G. Ingram, of Fort Worth, and W. B. Lester, of Chicago. The distance was 824 miles.

Mrs. Lewis Entertains Wesleyan Group.

Mrs. W. H. Lewis entertained Group No. 2 of Wesleyan alumnae, classes from 1900 to 1910, at her home on Cumberland road, for the purpose of socializing.

Ed Warner, president of Atlanta alumnae, was present, and Mrs. A. Worth Hobby presented a basic plan for the year's work, which groups will try to follow. She explained the centage plan for awarding the loving cup in May, the cup being awarded each year to the group doing the most outstanding work.

Officers elected for the coming year were: Chairman, Mrs. J. W. Wink; co-chairman, Mrs. Norman Poirer; secretary, Miss Elsie Moon; treasurer, Miss Willie Davis; program committee, Mesdames W. W. Davison, W. T. Asher, B. R. Stallings and W. G. Bryant. The program committee will be expected to present three subjects from which the members will choose one for year's study.

It was voted to have regular monthly meetings on the fourth Saturday, at 3 o'clock, except during summer months, and each member will be presented with a yearbook at the December meeting.

Mrs. Elsie Moon has invited the group to meet with her for the November meeting, at her home on Juniper street.

The reorganization meeting was encouraging, and it is sincerely hoped that members of classes from 1900 to 1910 will attend this November meeting.

Atlantans Attend Macon Dinner-Dance.

A party of prominent Atlantans attended a dinner and dance Saturday night at the Idle Hour Country Club in Macon as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Sparks, of Shirley Hills, Macon.

Included in the group were Mrs. Ewell Gay, Mrs. Emily Robinson Head, Dr. Champ Holmes, Alex. Cloudley and Evelyn Gato, the latter of Hixson, Ga. There were more than 75 guests present.

Hay-Butler.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Nov. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Pinckney A. Hay announce the marriage of their daughter, Agnes Carolyn, to Laurence Eugene Butler on Tuesday evening, at the Grace Episcopal church, with Rev. Jack Walworth officiating. Only the families and a few intimate friends were present.

The bride has lived in Waycross all her life and is the only child. She is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sharps Sr. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Butler, formerly of Lakeland, Fla. He is an alumnus of the University of Florida, where he made an enviable athletic record. He is now connected with the A. & P. Company.

Theater Programs. Picture and Stage Shows.

CAPITOL—"365 Nights in Hollywood," with Alice Faye, James Dunn, etc., at 11:45, 2:45, 4:45, 7:30 and 10:30.

BUCKHEAD—"Redhead," with Bruce Cabot, Grace Bradley, etc., at 2:45, 5:30, 7:30 and 9:30.

COLLEGE PARK—"Redhead," with Bruce Cabot, Grace Bradley, etc., at 2:45, 5:30, 7:30 and 9:30.

FOX—"The Fountain," with Ann Harding, Brian Aherne, etc., at 1:37, 4:37, 7:37 and 10:37.

HILL—"Redhead," with Bruce Cabot, Grace Bradley, etc., at 2:45, 5:30, 7:30 and 9:30.

LOEW'S GRAND—"The Merry Widow," with Maurice Chevalier, Jeanette MacDonald, etc., at 11:00, 2:00, 5:00, 8:00 and 11:00.

PARAMOUNT—"The Age of Innocence," with John Barrymore, Irene Dunne, etc., at 1:30, 4:30, 7:30 and 10:30.

MADISON—"Redhead," with Bruce Cabot, Grace Bradley, etc., at 2:45, 5:30, 7:30 and 9:30.

RIALTO—"The Successor to 'Lady for a Day,'" with Carole Lombard, May Robson, etc., at 1:30, 4:30, 7:30 and 10:30.

ERLANGER—"Her Master's Voice," with Clara Kummen, etc., at 1:30, 4:30, 7:30 and 10:30.

First-Run Pictures

Extension Run

Culbertson on Contract

By ELY CULBERTSON, World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

Smoking Out a Psychic Bid.

All expert players recognize that the redouble of a negative double in no way affects the duties of the doubler's partner. He should respond in exactly the same manner that he would have responded had the redouble not intervened.

The reason for this principle is that the redouble of the negative double is the cheapest bid in the game. It costs practically nothing in the way of present liability or future consequence.

Since it merely asks the partner whose bid has been doubled to leave the next move up to the redoubler, it can be made with impunity many times when the redoubler has no intention of taking any action other than to pass out the opponents at a low contract. Now, if such a redouble is taken as relieving the partner of the doubler from responding to the double, there is a premium upon bluff redoubles. It is only to be expected that the partner of the doubling hand is weak in top cards—after all, a sound original bid and a sound negative double leave very little for the other two hands. The player who finks his duty of responding to his partner's negative double because a redouble has intervened is a menace to society.

The deal given below shows a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

East, dealer. The following is a remarkable outcome of partnership confidence as to doubling procedure.

Things That Make Women More Beautiful

(Posed by Betty Furness.)

For Flabby Muscles and Puffy Eyes.

By MIGNON.

So many ways for something to tighten muscles and flabby chin and puffy eyes. I know of a very marvelous product for just that and it's extremely pleasant to use. It's a sort of jelly with a nice balmy fragrance. It is fine for flabby muscles on those who are traveling along at considerably past their fortieth year.

Men who go fishing and let their boots dry out find when they get them again that they need oiling and need it badly. Our faces are like that. If you give them water treatment, and then don't do anything else, you will find your face is very much dry and resembles dry leather. That's why I preach cream—good cream and plenty of it. You can't make a mistake using plenty of it. Don't be afraid it will grow hair on your face. That theory has long since been exploded. If hair is going to grow, cream won't stop it or start it.

Now about this jelly. If you want to—and I like to use it best that way—you may heat it slightly. That makes it put into the skin easier. It's most effective for an under-the-skin massage where the creases and wrinkles become evident. If you did it every evening, the result would be evident before long. You will like the feeling of it, and the members of my family use it.

Another thing it's nice for is puffy eyes. Of course, if there is an internal disturbance, that causes puffs. I don't believe this would help. I am not a physician and I wouldn't presume to give my opinion on things medical. But if what ails you is only face trouble, it will tighten the muscles.

If you want to know where you can purchase this jelly and its name, telephone Mignon at The Constitution. Do not write unless you live out of Atlanta, and then send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

NANCY PAGE

Hospitality Not Truly Shown by Paying of Social Debts

By FLORENCE La GANKE.

had an idea of what she would say. "I'll tell you what I think, Ida. I may be wrong, but I don't believe we should entertain because we owe money to people who have lent us money. If we do it in that spirit it seems to me that our hospitality is tinged with a sort of mercenary spirit. I ask guests to come to my house because I want them. I enjoy having them there, and I believe that the guests enjoy themselves makes them feel welcome."

"Hospitality is something of the spirit and I don't believe it can be measured or paid out in even reckoning. I know that social debts do mount up for a newcomer, especially one who is as welcome as you have proved to be—now make me a bow, nice child—but even so, I don't believe I would look upon them as duty. Suppose you give me a hand, Ida. You and I have heard you say you owe parties is invited, isn't she going to wonder whether you are asking her because you want her or because you feel you should? See what it does to all your invitations. If you give a person, whether that person be rich or poor I believe you have a right to him to give your guests something, somewhere. Don't let social differences make you hesitate. Be genuine in your hospitality and every guest will enjoy your home."

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

Styles by Annette

TOP YOUR SKIRT WITH VELVETEN BLOUSE

Here's an attractive blouse to make and to wear. The bib-like scarf collar gives it such a young look. And note how attractively it fastens at the back with tiny buttons.

Choose your pattern now! You'll be certain of chic with several blouses in your wardrobe this season. You can easily make two or possibly three blouses with this pattern that will be quite different in appearance. One could be of modish velvet, one of satin crepe and one of woolen.

Style No. 597 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 2 1/4 yards of 39-inch material.

The Guide to Chic.

You can have a very smart wardrobe at little expense of time and effort—our attractive Fall and Winter Book of Fashions is just bulging with ideas that you can turn into chic wearable clothes. Send for your copy today.

Price of book, 15 cents. Wrap cover, 25 cents.

Mail orders to Annette Pattern Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Guests included Misses Nan Kirby, Marie Price, Esie Williams, Maude McClain, Louise Power, Mesdames Jack Stephenson, Julian V. Jones, A. S. Brindley, Andrew Polot, Dan Blair, Emmet Williams, J. T. Gentry, of Newman, and Mrs. Moore.

First M. E. Church Membership Luncheon Features Calendar of Y. W. C. A. Activities

A meeting of unusual interest will be held at the First Methodist church this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

After a short business session led by Mrs. J. P. Womble, the president, there will be a devotional led by Mrs. E. N. Good.

Mrs. C. T. Stewart, from Brazil, who is connected with Emory University, will talk on the work in Brazil.

First M. E. Church Group Meets Today

A meeting of unusual interest will be held at the First Methodist church this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

After a short business session led by Mrs. J. P. Womble, the president, there will be a devotional led by Mrs. E. N. Good.

Mrs. C. T. Stewart, from Brazil, who is connected with Emory University, will talk on the work in Brazil.

Mrs. Ralph Paris and Miss Mary Swan will present the prayer special.

Mrs. Vaughn Nixon's circle will be hostess for the afternoon.

On Wednesday at 10:30 a. m., an all-day meeting for the week of prayer will be held. Among those who will take charge of the program are Mrs. Raymond C. Pate, Mrs. Fred Thomas, Mrs. John Patton, Miss Janet Head, Mrs. A. O. M. Gay and Mrs. Willie Davis.

The spiritual cultivation committee, Mrs. W. F. Trenary, chairman, and others will make special prayers.

The women of First Methodist church cannot afford to miss this meeting and are urged to be present.

A lunch will be served by Mrs. V. F. Hatcher's committee.

Friendly Counsel

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Help is needed to solve a difficult problem. I am a young minister, excessively shy and self-conscious. Reared in a home without other children and having no playmates, I was a solitary young person. As I grew older, I filled my mind with reading and got to be altogether a bookworm.

Finally I went to college and there began to understand that I was different from most of my college mates and to understand that I was different from most of my college mates and to understand that I was different from most of my college mates.

I began to conquer my fear of folks and while I didn't set the world on fire, I did acquire some social poise. Now, serving as pastor of several churches and all my old timidity and fear of crowds is back upon me. I must overcome this weakness, yet don't know how to do so without people and without to help them. But in the confusion of fear I am not certain that I can offer me some helpful suggestions?

ANSWER: The minister has one distinct advantage over every other professional man in that he may find in his textbook—the Bible—problem he faces. There was once a teacher who dared call himself a paragon of perfection, the only teacher who made bold to tell his pupils to do as he did. He was a great psychologist, a learned philosopher and a diagnostician of human heart and mind ailments. He diagnosed the case of the introverted, timid, inhibited creature, he prescribed a specific cure and guaranteed that if his prescription were taken cure would be effected.

Some of course question his authority, some quibble over his point of view, some quarrel with the exactness of his program and flout the possibility of attaining the perfection he described. However, here is a striking fact: He never found a flaw in his philosophy of life nor has anybody ever devised a better one to transform life, to bring order out of chaos and peace to mind and heart.

The central theme of his teaching as far as human relationships are concerned is contained in a sentence often repeated, with the phraseology somewhat changed but with the idea kept crystal clear in each instance. "He who loveth his neighbor as himself shall love his life and his life shall love him." If any human being has the opportunity to test the truth of the idea it is the minister of the church.

In the pulpit, on the street, in the homes of his parishioners, in his study and in his social life he has the supreme opportunity to lose his life in the interest of others. The sick and the sorrowing come to him, the hurried and worried, the afflicted in mind and body. He may be counselor to the young, friend and adviser to the mature, comfort to the troubled, patron to the down and out, priest to the dying. He marries couples, baptizes babies, visits the sick, offers prayers for the dying and says the last words of the grave yard.

One is laid in their last resting place. He touches the lives of his parishioners at every crucial period of their experience. People come to him with problems that they do not discuss with their nearest and dearest. He sees human nature in its most sublime heights and in its most sordid depths.

So he loses his life and consequently finds it. He finds it here and now. This is not a life of pleasure. Indeed he has as much or more of this world's acclaim as other professional men. The irreligious stand a little in awe of him because he represents the thing they admire though they don't accept it. The religious regard him as set apart by a divine call and they accord him the honors that warrants. Regardless of his personal attractiveness he moves in and out of the homes of the high and the humble. He has credit wherever he seeks it at store or bank. He receives consideration at the hands of professional men who know his financial impetuosity. His wife is revered as a saint, on the score of his position, regardless of her charms. His children enjoy social and educational advantages far in excess of his salary.

The requisites for his success are familiarity with his textbook, quick sympathy and willingness to be of service, understanding of human weakness and human aspiration. Not boldness, but meekness and humility make him useful in his parish. Not history, but a broad comprehension of religion makes him forceful in the pulpit. With a mind turned inward on himself, days and hours are wasted. He loses his glorious opportunity to find the thing he searches for and loses the opportunity to help others.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Mrs. Moore Entertains.

A social affair of Saturday was the lovely bridge party at which Mrs. David Moore entertained at her home in Kirkwood, honoring the members of her bridge club.

The home was artistically decorated with vari-colored dahlias and the Halloween motif was carried out. Prizes were won by Mrs. Jack Stephenson, Mrs. Dan Blair and Mrs. J. V. Jones.

Guests included Misses Nan Kirby, Marie Price, Esie Williams, Maude McClain, Louise Power, Mesdames Jack Stephenson, Julian V. Jones, A. S. Brindley, Andrew Polot, Dan Blair, Emmet Williams, J. T. Gentry, of Newman, and Mrs. Moore.

Other phases of vocational selections, such as the more arduous, that all those competing should submit entries to her by December 1.

New members of Girl Reserve clubs will be honored at a tea given Friday, November 16, at 3:30 o'clock, by the Girl Reserve committee, in the Y. W. C. A. parlors. This tea will also be a feature of World Fellowship observance and guests of honor will include foreign students of Agnes Scott College who are invited to meet local school girls and exchange ideas and opinions on various subjects.

"Mother Earth and Her Children," a play by Barbara Abel, will be presented by the North Fulton Girl Reserve, under the leadership of Miss Betsy Springer, Miss Helen Austin and Miss Louise Williams.

Highlights of the Girl Reserve calendar for the coming weeks focus interest on the varied activities sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. for the whole development of the adolescent girl. Monday afternoon the Girls' high cabinet plans a fun and frolic party at the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium, dancing and refreshments will be enjoyed, with Miss Ruth Albion, club president, in charge. She will be assisted by Miss Genevieve Smith, social chairman. Tuesday afternoon the O'Keefe Girl Reserves will enjoy a picnic at the rock garden of the Y. W. C. A. The girls of the whole drive, and the Commercial High girls will hear Dean Sandcraft, of Agnes Scott College, speak on "A Personality Study of a Course."

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Don Moore, new advisor for the Bass Girl Reserve, will give advice on poster making. Mrs. H. Louise Williams, social chairman, will give the girls of the vocational poster contest will have good ideas and helpful suggestions.

Thursday afternoon, November 15, the girls of the Girl Reserve will have a social gathering at the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium, dancing and refreshments will be enjoyed, with Miss Ruth Albion, club president, in charge. She will be assisted by Miss Genevieve Smith, social chairman. Tuesday afternoon the O'Keefe Girl Reserves will enjoy a picnic at the rock garden of the Y.

Mrs. Beard Honors Debutantes, Niece At Buffet Supper

Mrs. Richard Beard entertained at a beautifully appointed buffet supper Sunday evening at her home on St. Augustine place, in compliment to a duo of lovely debutantes, Misses Kathryn Jettison and Juanita Gresham, and her niece, Miss Jean Paulin, of Fort Gaines, Ga., who is a student at the University of Georgia at Athens, and who is the week-end guest of her aunt, Mrs. Beard.

A charming arrangement of garden flowers in brilliant autumn shades adorned the reception rooms of Mrs. Beard's home. She was assisted in entertaining the guests by the mothers of the debutante honor guests, Mrs. James Jettison and Mrs. Irving Gresham.

Invited to meet the honor guests were Misses Louise McIntyre, Rena Candler, Louise Robert, Maudie Thompson, Josephine Clayton and Frank Ridley, John Ridley, Lawrence Hayes, Billy Carver, Charles Yates, Charles Wolcott, Tom Bothwell, Ernest Thorpe, Middleton Fitzsimmons, Dodge Mentzer, Oscar Thompson, Berrien Moore, Dick and Roane Beard.

McWilliams-Powell Marriage Rites

DALTON, Ga., Nov. 3.—Miss Lois McWilliams became the bride of Oliver Byars Powell, the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shelly N. McWilliams, on North Thornton avenue, on Tuesday at 4 o'clock. In the living room, where the ceremony took place, an altar was formed before the mantle of palms and Woodwardia ferns, and white floor baskets were filled with white chrysanthemums. Rev. F. K. Sims, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by a large assemblage of friends and relatives. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. C. L. Hamilton, accompanied by Mrs. W. V. McGhee, sang "Because" and "All For You."

The bride entered with Miss Rebecca Ruth McWilliams, her sister and only attendant. Ice-blue satin fashioned the striking costume chosen by the attractive young bride. Her hat was a becoming model of a dark shade of blue velvet. She carried a bouquet of Joanna Hill roses and valley lilies.

Miss Rebecca Ruth McWilliams wore an attractive model of red-rose crepe with silver trimming. Her hat and slippers were of silver, and she carried a bouquet of rust chrysanthemums, tied with a silver bow. They were met at the altar by the groom and Shelly Morse McWilliams, brother of the bride, who acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams entertained at an informal reception, and Misses Lucy Kirby and Eugenia McWilliams, of Chattanooga, aunt of the bride, poured coffee. Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Harold Ayers, Misses Betty Lin Tratter, Arabella Abel, Sarah McChesney, Frances Trammell and Mary Emma Ashcraft. Misses Mary Lee Abel and Martha Young, cousins of the bride, kept the bride's book.

Mr. Powell and his bride left by motor for their wedding journey. Upon their return they will reside in Jacksonville, Fla. Mr. Powell traveled in a smart blue wool crepe with matching accessories.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Grist, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Abel, Miss Mary Lee Abel, Miss Arabella Abel, Miss Eugenia McWilliams, of Chattanooga, and Miss Martha Young, of Lafayette.

Cliff Wing Union

Cliff C. Wing Union, of the Oakhurst Baptist church, entertained at a wiener and marshmallow roast at Dogwood farm recently. Those present were, Mrs. W. W. Cowart, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Nowell Sikes, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Frazier, Misses Mary Feltton, Alice Freeman, Annie Lee Butler, Mary Rhodes, Ora Wehnt, Marion Fowler, Ina Butler, Lucile Norris, Ruth Womack, Josephine Etheridge, Mary Rowan, W. W. Cowart, Louis Campbell, Thelma Cowart, Charles Padgett, Wilson Jones, Tommy Edwards, Alvin Robertson, Sidney Flint, Fred Sullivan, Cliff Jones, Ed Garrison, A. J. Hyndman, Tom Leavell, Kenneth Hanner, Ralph Vanzant, Almond Davis, Roy Leavell, Earle Sims.

For Miss Plunkett

A group of friends entertained at a breakfast and shower Sunday morning at the home of Miss Catherine Dorsey in the Peachtree Terrace apartments in honor of Miss Jessie Plunkett, a popular bride-elect of this month. A shower of gifts were given to Miss Plunkett. The guests included Misses Margaret White, Virginia Banknight, Antoinette Johnson and Mrs. George P. Moore Jr.

Cherokee Rose Lodge

Cherokee Rose Lodge No. 606, ladies' auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, will meet Thursday, November 8, at 2:30 o'clock, at the Red Men's wigwam.

"Four Bottles Helped Me"

"My four children were born close together. I lived on a farm with lots of work to do and I got all run down so I could hardly go. Four bottles of your Vegetable Compound helped me wonderfully. Twice since then I had to take several bottles to regulate and strengthen me. I take care of my house and children, do all my laundry and do home work for a garment factory, and I feel fine and never get tired. I have also used the Sensitive Wash and it relieved my trouble." — Mrs. Chas. P. Pinkham, 35 Canby Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Feels Fine... Never Tired

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S Vegetable Compound The Medicine Grandmother Used

Lovely Mother and Baby Son

Mrs. William Nixon, an attractive member of the younger married set, is pictured with her handsome young son, Vaughn Nixon II. Mrs. Nixon is the former Miss Betty Matthews, of Thomaston, and is exceedingly popular throughout the state. Photograph by Misses Mead.

WOMEN'S MEETINGS

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 5.

The 1934-35 Debutante Club meets at 10:30 o'clock at the Cornelia Moore Day Nursery on Washington street.

The Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints' church meets at 3 o'clock in the chapel. Evening branch of the Woman's Auxiliary meets at 6 o'clock.

St. Mary's Guild of St. Philip's cathedral meets at 3 o'clock at the parish house.

W. M. S. of the Central Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Woman's council of the Peachtree Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Woman's Missionary Society of Grove Park Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Ladies' Aid Society of College Park Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Woman's Council of East Point Christian church meets at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church meets at the church at 10:30 o'clock.

W. M. S. of Capitol Avenue Baptist church meets at 3 o'clock at the church.

The President's Club of Decatur P. T. A. meets at the home of Mrs. William Keller, president of Glenwood.

Parent study class of Kirkwood school meets at 10 o'clock, at the school.

W. M. S. of Kirkwood Methodist church meets at 2:30 o'clock at the church.

Henrietta Mikkil Jones Auxiliary Guild meets at 3:15 o'clock at the home of Miss Sue Brown Sterne, 132 Westminster drive.

Auxiliary of the Church of Our Saviour meets at 2:30 o'clock at the parish house.

With the exception of Circle No. 3, the circles of Druid Hills Baptist W. M. S. meet jointly at the church at 10 o'clock.

Forrest Avenue P. T. A. kitchen orchestra meets in the auditorium of the school at 1:30 o'clock.

Alathea class of the First Baptist church meets at the home of Mrs. H. D. Kahrs, 673 Cumberland circle.

Mother and father meeting of the Druid Hills Elementary School P. T. A. will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Druid Hills Baptist Sunbeam band meets at the church at 3 o'clock.

A. A. Sisterhood meets at 3 o'clock in the auditorium.

Rose Croix Chapter No. 257, O. E. S., meets this evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the Morningstar Masonic temple, 1582 1-2 Piedmont road.

John R. Wilkinson Chapter, O. E. S., meets at the chapter hall, corner of Bankhead avenue and Ashby street, this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Oakland City Chapter No. 260, O. E. S., meets this evening in the chapter hall at 1171 Lee street, southwest.

The "Win-One" class of the Peachtree Road Methodist church holds social meeting at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. B. Beach, 130 West Pace's Ferry road.

Mary E. LaRocca Grove No. 264, of the Supreme Forest Woodmen

Women Voters Meet Tuesday

The board of the Atlanta League of Women Voters meets on Tuesday, November 6, at 10 o'clock at league headquarters, and Mrs. R. L. Turman, chairman of the board, will preside. Mrs. J. H. Sanders, president and chairman of the membership drive, will give the final report, and Mrs. M. L. Shatzen will give a summary of the convention of the Georgia League of Women Voters.

The class studying international relations which is led by Mrs. Robert Church Jr., and sponsored by the Atlanta League of Women Voters, meets in the right parlor of the Y. W. C. A. on Thursday, November 8, at 10:30 o'clock. The half-hour of current events which Mrs. Church calls "Keeping Abreast of the Times" will be held and Mrs. Church also will give a review of Beverly Nichols' popular book "Cry Havoc." The book has been so favorably received that in Canada it is compulsory reading in the public schools.

Mrs. Church has been asked to speak before the Democratic Women's Club of DeKalb County, Mrs. James Bachman, president, on Thursday, November 15, at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. Church's subject is "Democracy in International Affairs."

The class called "A Bird's-eye View of the League" meets Friday, November 9, at 10:30 o'clock at league headquarters, with Mrs. Charles Conklin presiding. The purpose of the class is to give a comprehensive view of what the league studies and does. Mrs. R. L. Turman will speak on "City Government," and everyone interested is invited to attend.

Mrs. McHatten Speaks Over Radio Today

Mrs. Thomas Hubbard McHatten, of Athens, president of the Garden Club of Georgia, will speak over Radio Station WSB at 11:20 o'clock this morning, central standard time. Mrs. McHatten will speak on "The Conservation of Georgia Plant Life," in observance of Conservation Week, from November 4 to 11.

Decatur Club Plans December Affair

Children are to be the first consideration of the Decatur Woman's Club in the entertainment which will be given in the clubhouse on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, December 12, 13 and 14, with Mrs. Roy G. Jones, former president, as chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Entertainment will include exhibits and programs of educational, competitive and amusement character presented each morning, afternoon and evening throughout the event.

Preceding the pre-Christmas affair will be a voting contest which will open on Thursday, November 8, and run throughout the five weeks intervening. Prizes will be awarded at the Christmas party to 100 children, half of these prizes to be given children having the highest standing in the voting contest, and another half to winners in special competitions.

Included on Mrs. Jones' committee are Mesdames Hugh Trotter, W. S. Elkins Jr., Clyde Walker, Leon O'Neal, George Jones and R. C. Henderson, president of the club.

Woman's Club Asks Use of 'Little House' For Reception

The application of the Atlanta Woman's Club in which a request is made for the use of Atlanta's "Little House" for a reception to be held Wednesday, November 14, has been received by the Atlanta Better Housing Campaign headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce building. The granting of this application of Atlanta Woman's Club marked the second of many requests filed with the Better Housing Campaign for definite dates—the first being the West End Civic Club who will hold open house next Wednesday from 2 until 9 o'clock.

During the first day the little house was thrown open for public inspection 72,000 persons visited it. During last week no less than 3,000 visitors inspected the house each day. The house will remain open as long as sufficient interest is taken by Atlantans. Mrs. Hortense W. Ulmer is on duty as hostess from 10 until 9 o'clock every day to answer questions regarding the Better Housing Campaign and to show visitors through the house.

According to Washington officials of the federal housing administration, a series of radio talks which started Saturday at 6:45 will be given in the interest of the better housing program over a nation-wide hookup. A well known radio personality to be known as the master builder, but who will remain anonymous during the series of speeches will conduct the program.

Miss Park and Miss Mitchell Will Be Honored at Tea Nov. 8

Miss Katharine Park and Miss Ray Mitchell, national field representative of Girl Scouts, will be honor guests at a tea Thursday afternoon, November 8 at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Russell Bellman at 3136 Habersham road. The honor guests will be in Atlanta from November 5 through November 15 and will speak on girl scouting at civic and social meetings held in the city.

Invited to meet Miss Park and Miss Mitchell are Mesdames Lee Ashcraft, Arthur I. Harris, Albert S. Adams, Dugas McCleskey, Charles Palmer, James H. Reeves, George Noble, J. M. Norman, Calvin Prescott, Frank Allcorn, Grady Clay, Joseph Hodgson, Kirk Hancock, J. F. Heard, Edward Lewis, John Miller, Charles V. Minor, Charles Shepard, John Stewart, Oscar Strauss Jr., J. W. Stribling, William F. Talley, R. J. Theisen, B. H. Wagnon, Robert Alston, Louis Elsas, James L. Dickey, Malcolm Fleming.

The court of honor of the Leaders' Association will honor Miss Park and Miss Mitchell at a tea Tuesday, November 13, at 4:30 o'clock at the home of Miss Lucile Cannon at 55 Lafayette drive. Mesdames Marie Parker, Lottie Reed, Mimi O'Beirne and Sarah Bowman and Mrs. John M. Smith form the court of honor, and will be hostesses.

For Miss Weinman

Miss Frances Weinman, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Weinman, was honor guest at the aperitif party given on Sunday afternoon at the Piedmont Driving Club by Edmond Brady. Vari-colored flowers adorned the center of the table placed in a private dining room of the club.

Mrs. Bessie Brady Bellinger, sister of the host, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Weinman, brother and sister of the honor guest, assisted in receiving. The receiving party stood before a background of palms and ferns, and standard of white chrysanthemums flanked either side of the foliage plants. Miss Weinman was gowned in beige satin and her becoming costume was completed by a brown velvet hat, brown suede shoes and a shoulder spray of orchids.

James J. Goodrum, Samuel Imman, Joseph Lamar, Alfred Newell, Perrin Nicholson, Sigmund Pappenhimer, Harry L. Parry, Frank D. Holland and others.

On Monday, November 5, they will be honor guests at a luncheon to be given in Rich's team room, covers to be laid for Misses Katharine Park, Ray Mitchell, Mesdames J. M. Norman, William F. Talley, Russell Bellman, Edward McCarty, Frank Holland, Albert Adams, Misses Lucile Cannon and Bee Turner.

The court of honor of the Leaders' Association will honor Miss Park and Miss Mitchell at a tea Tuesday, November 13, at 4:30 o'clock at the home of Miss Lucile Cannon at 55 Lafayette drive. Mesdames Marie Parker, Lottie Reed, Mimi O'Beirne and Sarah Bowman and Mrs. John M. Smith form the court of honor, and will be hostesses.

Eagles Dance

The Fraternal Order of Eagles, No. 714, entertainment committee announce a scrip dance for November 9 from 9 to 12 o'clock. Refreshments will be served. Members and their friends are invited to attend. Admission is 75 cents per couple.

STERCHI'S $25,000.00 PAINT Sale

Positively the Greatest Paint Sale Ever Held South of the Mason & Dixon Line

OUR ENTIRE STOCK AT LESS THAN WHOLESALE PRICES

WHY THIS SALE?

Because on December 1st, we will become the exclusive distributor for the nationally known FOREST CITY PAINT PRODUCTS. THEREFORE, every can of our PRESENT LABELED paints throughout our entire chain, MUST POSITIVELY BE SOLD before that date.

Because we feel that these less than wholesale prices will greatly assist the government in forwarding their National Housing Program in providing work for the unemployed painters.

Dixie Paste PAINT

At Less Than Wholesale Prices

READY TO APPLY

Dixie Paste Paint is recognized by painters and users as the FINEST PASTE PAINT obtainable! During the last 5 years thousands of homes bear testimony of this. Per gallon ...

$1.76

HOUSE PAINT

At Less Than Wholesale Prices

ALL COLORS

One of the highest grades outside paint manufactured today. Covers 360 sq. ft. 2 coats. Per gallon

$2.39

4-Hour Enamels

At Less Than Wholesale Prices

1 quart (covers 125 sq. ft., 1 coat). Wears Like Iron. Leaves no brushmark. Gallon ...

$3.08

Quart ... 87c Pint ... 48c

FLOOR & PORCH ENAMEL

At less than wholesale prices, gallon

$2.47

An exceptionally high grade floor enamel.

4-Hour Varnish Stain

At Less Than Wholesale Prices

71c

Quart

Wall Finishes

At Less Than Wholesale Prices

Flat Wall Finish, all colors, Gallon ...

$1.79

Gloss Wall Enamel, Gallon ...

$2.47

Other Sizes Proportionately Reduced.

NATIONAL HOUSE PAINT

At Less Than Wholesale Prices

All colors, gallon

$1.69

ROOF AND BARN PAINT

At less than wholesale prices. Supreme Red

$1.43

Gallon

Free Gift Coupon

I am accepting your offer of a free gift yardstick. It is understood that I am under no obligation to buy anything.

Name

Address

City

State

Dealer

Also give me information on

() Enameling Furniture

() Painting a Kitchen

() Painting a Bathroom

() Painting Walls

() Painting Woodwork

() Painting a House

() Painting Floors

() Varnishing Floors

() Varnishing Woodwork

() Housing Act

OUR QUALITY

Sterchi Bros. have no hesitancy in guaranteeing every item in their stock as the equal in quality of any paints manufactured today.

IMPORTANT — —

Positively EVERY can of our present labeled paint, enamels and varnishes are included in this gigantic sale! NOTHING RESERVED.

STERCHI BROS.

A SAFE PLACE TO TRADE

Bargains in Sterchi's Bonded Tires During This Sale.

WALL PAPERS DRASTICALLY REDUCED!

The meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Methodist church originally set for this afternoon has been postponed until Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Adult education classes of the Temple Sisterhood meet at the Temple house on Peachtree road.

Alabama Wins Fifth Straight and Retains High Rating

"Good Old Charley, He's the Guy We Should Have Kept!"

Old No. 21, the last car in the motorcade of last week, has just chugged back into the city from Florida with a story you'll love.

It was just a matter of three autumns ago the Florida alumni had out their hunting knives and were seeking the scalp of Charles Bachman. And they got it, too, and sent him off to Michigan State, where football had never gone very well. Charley Bachman was no good, so they said, and his football teams were terrible and he hadn't used anything new in seven years. And so on.

They put in new coaches, cheering the selection of an all-alumni coaching staff.

And what is happening now down in old Florida? Well, sir, you could have blown me over with a sea breeze to hear the alumni saying Saturday evening that they ought to have good old Charley Bachman back down there. Yes, sir, GOOD old Charley! Get that?

"Look what old Charley is doing at Michigan State," they said to me constantly until about day-break Sunday morning. "Good old Charley. Look what he's doing. He's the guy we should have kept."

And the knives are out for the alumni coaches. They have done a good job down there with what they have. They are in much the same situation as Georgia Tech and any other team taking it on the sidelines. They haven't got the athletes. Maybe one or two. But not more than that. And the supporting cast can't play football.

I giggled right in the faces of most of these fellows and asked them about the Bachman scalping party three years ago and they said, "Oh, we were a little hasty then. Look what old Charley is doing now."

Old Charley is winning. Old Charley is a swell coach. He always was. He is no better than he was three years ago, but the difference is he has some boys who can run with, throw and pass that football. And who can stand up and stop the other guys.

I imagine good old Charley, who had a wife and kids and who had to sit still and take it when they tossed him out down there three years ago, would get a great chuckle out of the talk.

"Look what good old Charley is doing. He's the guy we should have kept."

THE YALE COACHES SCOUT GEORGIA.

Scouts Miltstead and Levering, from the Yale staff, were in Jacksonville on Saturday to scout the Georgia Bulldogs against Florida.

The Bulldogs go east on Thursday to reach New Haven in time for the final contest with Yale, in which the Athens Bulldogs will try to make it four straight over the New Haven Bulldogs.

Miltstead is one of the greatest tackles the game ever had. He was playing at Wabash College before he decided to become educated at Yale and he was good there too. In addition he is a great fellow. Levering was a good halfback and played on two Yale teams which Georgia defeated.

They had given up before going out to see Georgia play. They knew Yale was going to break a record of 50 years and lose to Dartmouth. They were so sure of it they were quite calm.

And when they got back to the hotel and learned the score they were amazed.

"Well," said Century Miltstead, "we will never worry about the Dartmouth game as long as we live. If they don't beat us this year they never will. And that's that."

Scouts Miltstead and Levering said they found Georgia much better than they had anticipated and promptly began to worry about the game next Saturday at New Haven.

THE FOOTBALL OFFICIALS.

In Saturday's game at Jacksonville the officials did not have the game well in hand. Their consultations delayed the game and they permitted the crowd and the players to feel that they, the officials, were not quite sure of themselves.

On the play where Florida, kicking from behind her goal line, was given another chance to kick, the ruling was, I am sure, incorrect. And it was a play which apparently need not have been confusing.

Florida's Chase kicked. He was in the end zone. The kick was blocked. And went out of bounds and was recovered by Georgia at about the 2-yard line.

The referee ruled it had not crossed the line of scrimmage and gave Florida another kick.

The rules seem to indicate clearly that if the ball was blocked and went out of bounds in the end zone it was an automatic safety and Georgia should have had two points. If it did not, but crossed the line of scrimmage and went out of bounds at about the 2-yard line, it was Georgia's ball at that point.

But regardless of the correctness of the rulings the facts were the game was awkwardly handled. Football officiating in the south has been much superior to that of other sections. But this year it seems to be slacking a bit generally. The football officials and coaches should co-operate in seeing to it that there should be no penalty for calling the tough ones. Weak officiating or officious officiating can do more to harm the game than any other single factor. Baseball has kept going because the umpires have always been in control of the game and its rules. I wish it were possible to officiate football games without whistles. The boys do love to blow them.

FOOTBALL POWERS.

Football lines are being changed with this year's results. North Carolina and Duke have given to the Piedmont sector a new standing in football.

Clemson is in the forefront as one of the good teams of the year, despite the fact that it is representing one of the smaller institutions.

L. S. U., in the past three seasons, has gradually established a record of football prowess. Of the old guard only Alabama and Tulane are carrying on. And Tulane treads on dangerous ground next week. Tulane apparently does not have the best defense to be desired.

TECH'S DEFEAT.

Tech's war-weary eleven lost by a larger score than was anticipated when North Carolina came to the city last Saturday. Tech happens to be without enough good players to make a good showing this year. And Tech defeated her foes for so many years that when one of them catches the Jackets down it is just too bad. They don't know when to ease up a bit.

JACKETS' FACE AUBURN 'SOPHS' HERE SATURDAY

Nine Georgians With Meagher's Invading Tigers; Hays Returns.

By Jimmy Jones.

Gathering together all the able-bodied survivors of the carnage perpetrated by the terrific Tarheels at Grant field Saturday, Georgia Tech coaches this afternoon will rouse the laborious task of trying to marshal the Jackets for their next home game—that with the Auburn Tigers.

The fact that Auburn, one of the young but common teams in the conference this year, led Duke for nearly three periods at Birmingham Saturday before bowing, 13-6, offered little cheer to the team at the Flats.

GOTTA RALLY.

One thing is certain and it is that the Jackets will have to show a vast improvement over their performance of Saturday to hope to defeat Auburn, which is next to the last opponent on their home schedule.

Coach Jack Meagher (pronounced "Marr"), of the Plainsmen, like Carl Snavely, of the Tarheels, will be bringing a team to Atlanta for the first time and the Plainsmen are hungry for victory over Tech after the 16-0 trouncing administered by the Jackets on Grant field last year.

Furthermore, there are nine Georgians on Coach Meagher's squad, four of these, including Captain Mike Welch, hailing from Atlanta, and you know how these Georgia boys feel when they are pitted against Tech in the uniform of another team.

NINE GEORGIANS.

The nine crackers now wearing Auburn livery are Captain Welch, guard; Ralph Tolve, tackle; Joel Hayes, end; and Sidney Scarborough, quarterback, all from Atlanta; Harry Whitten, fullback from LaGrange; Fred Black, center, from Macon; Norman Houston, guard, from Sylvester; Frank Gantt, guard, from Lavonia; and Wes Loflin, tackle, from Athens. Most of these boys have played considerable football for Auburn this year and, of course, they will be at their best back on the soil of their home state. Walter Gilbert, the promising sophomore center, an Alabamian, but prepped at Darlington in Rome, Ga.

Tech and Auburn have one thing in common. Each has been able to win only one game this year, the Jackets' 12-7 defeat of Clemson in the opener and the Plainsmen's 15-0 victory over Olethorpe, being their only taste of victory. But it must be said in justice to both teams that they are playing what are undoubtedly the two hardest schedules of any other conference member and with limited material to play it with.

HARD SCHEDULE.

The Plainsmen, however, have played some good, if losing, football against such opposition as Tulane, L. S. U., Vandy, Kentucky and Duke. They dropped their season opener to a veteran Birmingham-Southern team, 7-0; lost to Tulane, 13-0; lost to L. S. U., 20-6; Vandy 7-8; Kentucky 6-0; and Duke Saturday, 13-6. It is about time for the Plainsmen to rise up and thump somebody.

They have two excellent ends in Bernie Fenton, the senior, and "Mutt" Morris, a junior, who recovered the fumble by Alexander, of Duke, Saturday to save the day for Auburn's score. Haygood Patterson, of the Auburn Pattersons, has been an outstanding tackle all season, while Karam, Mitchell, Whitten and the other young backs have developed fast. It was Karam who put over the Auburn touchdown with an 8-yard run around end Saturday. Karam also is a great passer, while Mitchell and Blake are triple-threat backs of much promise.

All are sophomores, in fact Coach Meagher's team is composed largely of sophomores.

Tech, meanwhile, must do a lot of rebounding to get back to the form they showed against Tulane. They will be helped somewhat by the fact that Lawrence says, the sophomore passing star of that game, who was not able to play against the Tarheels, will return to practice Tuesday and will play Saturday.

This is some compensation for the loss of "Pug" Boyd, the halfback who replaced him in the Carolina game and suffered a fractured jaw. Jimmy Moore, the substitute quarterback, was the only other Jacket casualty, receiving a twisted knee, although the Tech lineemen were somewhat banged up from jousting with the Tarheels' rugged forwards.

LAUD BARCLAY.

The Jackets yesterday had nothing but praise for the Tarheels as they reflected on the 26-0 loss to that outfit. They were united on one opinion and that was to the effect that George Barclay, the halfback, and the tackling guard of the Tarheels, is just about the best guard they have seen and that he was all that was to be feared as being an All-American.

They also rated Jim Latham as about the best tackle they have seen this year. Dick Buck one of the best ends and Don Jackson about the best passer.

Coach Alexander praised Coach Snavely's team as one of the best coached and hardest charging and tackling teams he had ever seen. He replaced the ineffectual Notre Dame system that has been installed by Chuck Collins. The Tarheels were a very different outfit from any the Jackets have met in recent years and one certain to give Duke plenty of trouble two weeks hence.

Tech played a game Saturday very much like the one it played against Duke at Durham three weeks ago, when the Jackets were beaten, 20-0. The Jackets were flat, had little charge and blocking and very little of anything that marked their play against Tulane.

ROBERTS STILL GOOD.

But for "Shorty" Roberts, the mid-eighth midget, who totaled 142 yards returning Carolina's punts and the play of some of the reserves on the line, there would be little to reflect credit to the Jackets' side. Roberts continued to play with the zeal that makes him the greatest little competitor that he is and lost little, if any, ground in his bid for the all-conference quarterback job.

"Fee" Williams, Tech's left tackle and other leading All-Star candidate, turned in a fairly steady game at his position.

The Carolina line was simply too big and rugged and charged and tackled too hard for Tech's running game to get going. The Jackets, likewise, appeared somewhat awkward, operating from the single wing system, several of the signals adding to the proneness to fumble. Then, of course, they were being hit from every side and the great little competitor which had the honor of being the first line of the season to outplay Tech's own forwards.

A new world's record for mixed doubles duckpin bowlers was set at Norfolk, Va., by Ida Simmons and Jimmy Wallace when they amassed the tremendous combined total of 1,288 for five games. Miss Simmons had 628 and Wallace 642 in the new world mark.

In the Passenger Club this evening the Merry Marquis play the Texans; Lone Stars vs. Black Diamonds; Overlands vs. the Chiefs.

SPORTS ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

RALPH MCGILL, Sports Editor.

Grantland Rice - Clarence Nixon - Jimmy Jones - Roy White - Jack Troy - Henry McLeMORE - Alan J. Gould

PAGE TEN

THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1934.

Johnny Jones Gains for Georgia

Johnny Jones, pile-driving back for the University of Georgia, played an important part in the Bulldogs' 14 to 0 victory over the University of Florida at Jacksonville. He is shown dashing around end for a short gain.

SOUTHERN LOOP DIRECTORS MEET

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 4.—(AP)—John D. Martin, president of the Southern Association of Baseball Clubs will preside over the annual meeting of league directors tomorrow for the seventeenth straight year.

Martin, lawyer, politician, short story writer, former educator, and general sports enthusiast, has guided the league's general manager, said in advance of the meeting, which is being held at the Hotel Jefferson, Memphis, Tenn. He is expected to be a harmonious one.

LEAGUE SOUND.

Martin did admit, and willingly enough, that the league's financial condition is sound and that last season's 20 per cent increase in attendance was most pleasing to him. He is expected to report that next year's receipts will be still larger.

The possibility of another "split season" very likely will be discussed, as it usually is, but directors would not say whether they would take any action.

Thomas R. Watkins, Memphis president, is opposed to ever splitting the season again, and Larry Gilbert, New Orleans' general manager, said in advance of the meeting, "I'm not so hot for the split season. I'd rather play a straight season of 154 games."

Atlanta also is known to be staunchly opposed to a split.

ASK INCREASE.

The Cracker club, represented by Hughes Spalding, attorney and vice president, will introduce a resolution asking that the player limit be increased from 16 to 17, giving each club one more class A player. If this resolution fails, the club will suggest that the present classification be changed to allow each club 11 class A instead of 10 class B men.

Birmingham will be represented by W. A. West and A. H. Woodard, the latter the league vice president; Chattanooga, by Joe W. Engel; Little Rock, by L. Thompson and H. Grady; Knoxville, by R. G. Allen, and Nashville, F. L. Murray.

President Martin will appoint a committee to draw up a schedule to be submitted to a later meeting. Other games for the league are Pinson-Tire Company vs. Alliance Printing Company; Ansley Hotel vs. Bick's Bowling Center; Walter A. Guest and Belle Isle Garage.

Down the Alleys

The City Duckpin League bowlers settle down to business with a view to higher individual averages and winning games for their respective teams as they go into the initial match of the second round of play this evening.

A particular interest will be centered on the Model Laundry and Friendly and Fortune Shoes match; both teams are turning in some brilliant performances, but the Model Laundry five has proved to be the sensation of the league in topping the team standings at this stage of the game.

Other games for the league are Pinson-Tire Company vs. Alliance Printing Company; Ansley Hotel vs. Bick's Bowling Center; Walter A. Guest and Belle Isle Garage.

A new world's record for mixed doubles duckpin bowlers was set at Norfolk, Va., by Ida Simmons and Jimmy Wallace when they amassed the tremendous combined total of 1,288 for five games. Miss Simmons had 628 and Wallace 642 in the new world mark.

In the Passenger Club this evening the Merry Marquis play the Texans; Lone Stars vs. Black Diamonds; Overlands vs. the Chiefs.

Six Crackers Tagged As Trading Material

Two Surplus Pitchers and Infielder May Be Used in Deals at Memphis and Louisville.

By Jimmy Jones.

With the names of six Crackers marked with an "X," which, in this case, means that they are being considered for use as trading material, Atlanta's baseball delegation departed yesterday for the Southern league meeting at Memphis, where they hope to swing at least one deal that will put more punch in the club.

The names of some of the boys who may be tossed into the bargain as the Louisiana French termed lagniappe, meaning an extra portion, were kept a strict secret by the new club officials, for the simple reason that some of them may not be traded and there is no need of hurting their feelings.

For the sake of the subject, however, it may be stated that a couple of left-handed pitchers, whom the Crackers "leased" out to Tulsa, in the Texas league, Frank Barnes and Art Jacobs, do not figure in the 1935 scheme of things, in view of their mediocre work here in port. And they are least listed among those who may be thrown in with some cash if a good outfielder or second baseman bobs up on the bargaining horizon.

E. TAYLOR RETURNED.

Eddie Taylor, the third baseman who was hired out to Syracuse on an optional agreement, is another who probably will go the way of Barnes and Jacobs, since Manager Moore will play third, himself. Taylor, a Class A man, is still the property of the Crackers, since Syracuse turned him back, as are the two pitchers.

On the roster of 32 players which the Atlanta delegation, composed of Director Hughes Spalding, Vice President Earl Mann and Moore packed along to Memphis in a port, there are at least three other players, including an outfielder and another infielder, who may go on the block, either by sale or swap at the Memphis or Louisville meetings.

Manager Moore is known to be dissatisfied with his outfield and may add at least one, and possibly two, to the roster. He is looking for a player with a little more heft than some of those in the hire of the club showed last. A certain outfielder, belonging to another club in the league, is looked upon covetously by the Crackers.

Charles Sheerin, the young third baseman who showed flashes of real promise last season, is considered a prospect, but Charles automatically becomes a Class A man next season, since he has been two years, or parts of two seasons, in the Southern league. And unless the league magnates see fit to add an extra Class A man, Charley may be used in a deal, also.

PITCHERS PRETTY GOOD.

Moore isn't sure that his pitching staff needs a great deal of tampering with, despite the loss of Harry Kelly in the draft and the optional purchase of Hugh Casey by the Cubs. He thinks that Jim Lindsey, Lynn Nelson, "Dutch" Schmidt, "Lefty" Martin, Cobb, Al Williams, West and young Bud Thomas, who comes back to the club, will form a very good nucleus.

He has hopes of getting Casey back from the Cubs if he doesn't stick, for he is going up on trial. At the same time, Eddie is not averse to talking terms on at least one experienced pitcher. He has very little hope of getting Harry Kelly back, since it is likely that the Reds, if they do not keep him, will turn him back to To-

Continued on Second Sports Page.

WHITE TOURNAMENT WON BY OWENS

Fred Owens Sunday won the annual invitation club championship tournament at the John A. White golf course. Owens defeated C. P. Smith, 9 and 8.

Owens shot a 37 on the morning round and turned 7 up on Smith. He had a 40 in the afternoon, closing out the match on the tenth hole.

The second final-round match was postponed until today for the convenience of both players.

East Lake Enjoys Big Golfing Day.

There was something in the neighborhood of 200 golfers out enjoying the sunshine, trim fairways and smooth greens at the East Lake Club yesterday.

Play was heavy all day. The only match event, however, was the regular Sunday "dog fight," which was divided between two foursomes shooting 142 each.

The leading foursomes included T. J. Stewart, George Randolph, O. B. Duncan, J. E. Van Horn, F. H. Witting, C. E. Weaver, J. C. Thompson and J. H. Harland.

Next in line at 144 were Dr. B. B. Gay, J. R. Cochran, Willard Callaway and J. W. Lundeen. And tied at 146 were two other foursomes, including Dr. W. H. Ridley, Dr. H. F. McDonald, R. F. Mather and E. L. Thompson; Dr. L. H. Kelly, M. Lord, W. F. Hall and J. M. Marshall.

Thrilling and dashing riding by Captain Wing, Major Howell and Lieutenant Clarke, of the McPherson team, and Graham and Christain, of the Horse Guards featured the contest.

Winners were presented with a trophy donated by George Muse Clothing Company, and each player on the McPherson four was given an individual cup. The presentation was made by Miss Lucetta Van Horn, daughter of General Van Horn.

The score:

PORT McPHERSON.
No. 1 Stewart 0
No. 2 Wing 0
No. 3 Duncan 3
No. 4 Howell 3
Total 6

HORSE GUARDS.
No. 1 Williamson 1
No. 2 Graham 2
No. 3 Christain 2
No. 4 Mather 2
Total 7

Charlotte Beats Tulsa Oilers, 17-7

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Charlotte American league football team struck swiftly with two long runs here today to defeat the Tulsa Oilers, 17 to 7.

A Tulsa pass was intercepted by Clary, who raced 60 yards to score late in the first half. Branch dropped the extra point. When the second half opened Willich's punt was nearly blocked. Charlotte recovered on Tulsa's 25-yard line. Branch sprinted 35 yards to score, again droppingkick for the extra point. In the fourth quarter Charlotte blocked a punt by Willich on Tulsa's 8-yard line and Branch booted the ball squarely between the uprights.

Tickets for the matches are on sale at the Piedmont Hatters on Peachtree street.

American Pro league football game here today. About 4,000 fans saw the contest.

The game was witnessed by Miss Glynn Orr, the Dallas society girl who recently took over control of the Rams. The Rams scored in the third quarter after blocking a Tiger punt. "Red" Tobin, former Notre Dame back, picked up the ball and raced 22 yards for a touchdown.

Stars for Tigers

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 4.—(AP)—With two sensational dropkicks by Coach Frosty Peters, former Illinois star, and a safety which netted two other points, the Memphis Tigers defeated the Dallas Rams, 8 to 7, in an

TULANE TIED WITH TIDESMEN, L. S. U. NEXT

Red Elephants Run Up 173 Points in Conference.

By Kenneth Gregory.

Associated Press Sports Writer. Those seemingly unstoppable red-shirted Alabama gridlers remained at the helm of the Southeastern conference yesterday after another round of Saturday gridiron battles.

Running roughshod over Kentucky, the Crimson Tide hung up its fifth straight conference victory, the 34-to-14 triumph over the Wildcats ran its total of points scored to 173, the best offensive showing of any of the Big Thirteen representatives.

Although unimpressive, Tulane shut out Mississippi, 15 to 0, for its fifth consecutive triumph in the championship struggle and was tied with Alabama for leadership of the Southeastern.

Louisiana State, the only other undefeated eleven in the group, continued its winning habit, conquering a weaker Mississippi State team, 25 to 3. It was the third conference victory for the Tigers.

NON-CONFERENCE.

The three leading title-contenders leave the conference ranks this week, deploying against outside opposition, thus precluding any changes in the championship picture. Alabama takes on Clemson at Tusculoosa, while Tulane and Louisiana State move into foreign fields for intersectional battles. The Green Wave invades New York to play Colgate and the Tigers go to Washington for a tilt with George Washington.

Kentucky's loss to Alabama was the first defeat in the loops for the Wildcats, who won the first to score more than one touchdown against the Tide's powerful eleven, although the pair of scores made by the Bluegrass gridlers came while several substitutes were in the game.

After losing three straight contests, Georgia hit a winning stride against Florida, whipping the 'Gators 14 to 0 for its first conference victory. Aided by great play of several sophomores, the Bulldogs displayed power for the first time. The Athens eleven journeyed to New Haven for an intersectional dual with Yale this week-end.

BREAK EVEN.

Southeastern machines broke even in intersectional tussles. Tennessee's hard-fighting squad being nosed out by Fordham, 14 to 13, after outplaying the Rams throughout, while Vanderbilt smacked George Washington with its first defeat of the season, 7 to 0. Although outplayed, the Commodores capitalized on a break of the game, recovering a blocked punt that paved the way for a touchdown. Dick Plasmann, Vanderbilt's accurate-kicking sophomore, booted the extra point for the decision.

The Southern conference carried off the spoils in an intersectional battle, North Carolina swamping Georgia Tech, 26 to 0, and Duke taking a closely-fought 13-6 victory over Auburn. Sewanee soundly defeated a tough customer but managed to win, 7 to 6.

Birmingham-Southern assumed command of the Dixie conference by defeating the Southern States, 7 to 0, in a tight battle. It was the third conference win for the Birmingham gridlers and as many losses for the Chattanooga Chatanogs. Continued impressive, chalking up its second Dixie triumph at the expense of the previously undefeated Mississippi College team, 13 to 0.

INVOLVED RACE.

The Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association race remained somewhat involved with Loyola, Western Kentucky and Millaps out in front with Kentucky, Western Kentucky and Millaps, however, have records marred by one tie game. Centenary, Union (Ky.), Citadel and Miami are tied for second place.

Western Kentucky, the only undefeated eleven in the S. I. A. A., battled Howard to a scoreless deadlock in Saturday's game. Furman lost to Bucknell, 19 to 0; Millaps beat Louisiana Tech, 13 to 7, and Loyola did not play. Centenary took Oklahoma, 8 to 0, while Citadel was held to scoreless tie by East Tennessee; Citadel trounced Wofford, 18 to 7, and Miami and Stetson tied, 6-6.

Four Southeastern battles are on this week's program. Georgia Tech entertains Auburn at Atlanta; Florida and Mississippi clash in Gainesville; Mississippi College travels to Knoxville to play Tennessee; and Sewanee and Vanderbilt renew their ancient rivalry at Nashville. Kentucky invades Memphis to play Southwestern.

MERCER PLAYS.

The Dixie conference schedule calls for a pair of tilts, Mercer and Spring Hill at Jackson, Miss. and Chattanooga and Mercer at Chattanooga.

While Millaps and Loyola, the latter again in an intersectional tussle with Texas Christian at New Orleans, compete with outside foes, Furman and Western Kentucky raise their sights to play Tennessee and Citadel and Eastern Kentucky, respectively. Other frays on tap in this league include:

Newberry-Presbyterian; Louisiana College-Union U.; Mississippi College-Louisiana Tech; Middle Tennessee-Murray; Transylvania-Louisville; Tennessee Tech-Howard; Union College-Georgetown and Mississippi Teachers-Louisiana Normal.

How They Stand In Southeastern.

Standings in the Southeastern conference, including points scored in all games, follow:

TEAM..... W. L. Pts. Opp. Pts.
Alabama..... 5 0 173 0
Tulane..... 5 0 150 0
Louisiana State..... 3 0 25 3
Vanderbilt..... 1 1 110 39
Kentucky..... 1 2 88 47
Mississippi..... 1 2 88 47
Georgia..... 0 3 0 73
Florida..... 0 3 0 180
Furman..... 0 3 0 180
Sewanee..... 0 3 0 36
Mississippi State..... 0 3 0 36
Auburn..... 0 4 0 35 66

Richmond Passes Beat Georgetown

STADIUM, RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 4.—(AP)—University of Richmond Splendens rallied in the fourth period to hurl a dizzy passing attack in the air and defeat Georgetown University, 14 to 13, after the Hoyas had led the way to the final few minutes with a 13-0 shutout lead. It was the first time Georgetown had been scored on this year.

Football Title Battle

ARMY, CHICAGO AND DARTMOUTH MEET IN CONFERENCES

'Birthday Shoot' Is Big Success At West End

By Jack Troy.

Minnesota, Alabama, Rice and Princeton Bare Scoring Power.

By Alan Gould.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Despite a few heavy casualties along the college gridiron battle front in the first November onslaught of the shock troops, the campaign for championship recognition still carries all signs of being a fight to the finish, with no favors asked and the aerial bombardments intensified. In fact, today's survey of the latest football warfare reveals a number of fresh challengers for national recognition, even though the ranks of contenders in most of the sectional title scraps have been narrowed down.

Close, heart-breaking defeats yesterday knocked Army, Chicago and Dartmouth from the ranks of unbeaten teams but on widely scattered fronts the main developments served notice that the nation's main supply of scoring power is by no means the exclusive property of such pace-setting dynamos as Minnesota, Alabama, Princeton and Rice. The outbreak of heavy cannonading echoed from opposite sides of the country as these four outstanding "national" American football "colts" rolled inevitably over more or less stubborn opposition.

ARMY BEATEN. West Point's soldiers bogged down in the mud and rain, fell to 7-0 to an undefeated band of Illinois opportunityists but the Navy's great scoring army delivered a booming broadside, sinking by 20-0 the team that came so close to topping Princeton two weeks ago. Pittsburgh, beaten only by Minnesota's maulers in one of the most desperately fought games, plunged back into the thick of the battle by walloping the "Fighting Irish" of Notre Dame, 19-0 before a packed crowd of 40,000.

On the west coast, sensational triumphs by Stanford and Santa Clara, who battled each other in an early season tie, projected both of these unbeaten teams into the national spotlight again.

Both turned on a blast of power as Bobby Grayson, All-American back candidate, led Stanford to a crushing 27-0 conquest over U. C. L. A., while the Broncos of Santa Clara walloped the California Bears, 20-0.

TULANE, L. C. U. WIN. Meanwhile, Tulane and Louisiana in the south, Michigan State as well as Illinois in the middle west, Syracuse and Temple in the east, all pushed forward triumphantly, their states clear of all but a scattering few of the teams which are still in the hunt for a fresh series of decisive engagements.

To help clear some of the foggy atmosphere next Saturday, Stanford will take the Washington Redskins, 14-0, who may prove the decisive test of the Pacific Coast conference race. Syracuse and Michigan State, two of the teams with potent records, will collide in the world of the Orange upset, while Tulane's unbeaten march will be challenged by Colgate's Red Raiders on the neutral ground of the Yankee stadium.

In addition to settling some big arguments, the latest batch of gridiron hostilities included a number of noteworthy encounters. Princeton celebrated the renewal of relations with Harvard, after an eight-year break, by overpowering the Crimson, 19-0, in a game which was the first of a series of non-combatant gestures until Tiger cohorts, like their football team, were down opposing resistance and splintered the good fight.

Minnesota, coming back after a scoreless and precarious first half to slaughter Michigan's Wolverines, 34-0, continues to dominate the Big Ten as well as the entire middle west. The Gophers seem to have found the key for the Western conference championship but for the time being at least they are locked in a three-cornered fight with Illinois and Purdue, who were shown in the football world's southwest no less than 51 forward passes, close to a record for major competition, were hurried during a barrage that saw Texas Christian down Baylor, 34-12.

MINNESOTA RALLIES. Minnesota, coming back after a scoreless and precarious first half to slaughter Michigan's Wolverines, 34-0, continues to dominate the Big Ten as well as the entire middle west. The Gophers seem to have found the key for the Western conference championship but for the time being at least they are locked in a three-cornered fight with Illinois and Purdue, who were shown in the football world's southwest no less than 51 forward passes, close to a record for major competition, were hurried during a barrage that saw Texas Christian down Baylor, 34-12.

Rice, partaking of a "breather" Saturday at the expense of Texas A. & M., should settle the Southwest conference championship in its next engagement by beating Arkansas, the defending titleholder. Arkansas was held to a 7-7 tie by Texas A. & M. and is not expected to have more than a long-shot chance to stop the ram-raging Rice outfit.

FOR MEN
Who Prize Manhood?
Tired glands... take the rest of life... are responsible for many failures in marriage... take the rest of life... are responsible for many failures in marriage...

Belton Clark Also Will Play; Petrels Work on Pass Defense.

By Jack Troy.

Hark back, if you will, to a November day a year ago. Time is valuable and all that but just think what a feeling of satisfaction it is to take a year of your life for a brief spell. You're not out at the West End Gun Club but that's where it happened anyway. A small number of the faithful, meaning skeet shooters, gathered and shot 15 rounds. It was the opening of the club. And what an opening. Fifteen rounds fired. At any rate, was considered a good start by the club officials, if for no other reason than the spirit and enthusiasm shown by those present.

That spirit and enthusiasm was reflected yesterday when the West End Gun Club celebrated its first anniversary. Those same club officials looked back with satisfaction from the start to yesterday. They recalled the steady growth, week by week, of the sport. Only recently a second field was added. Before that electrical pull, the latest thing in skeet, was installed.

160 ROUNDS. And yesterday, on the first anniversary, there were 160 rounds fired by 50 shooters. It was one of the largest crowds the club has had all year.

No wonder the officials—S. W. Roper, president; L. B. Draper, vice president; C. L. Davis, secretary, and J. B. Duke, the old professional—felt good. There is no feeling in this wide, wide world, no satisfaction, no satisfaction that the feeling of conscientious effort substantially rewarded.

The shooters remembered Secretary Draper for his great work in behalf of the interest of the club and the shooters themselves. They presented him with a fine pair of shooting glasses. And there was the noble presentation speech by Benson Freeman Jr. They remembered Mrs. Davis and presented her with a box of candy, a token of what they described as her "good work."

CONGRATULATIONS. There was a wire of congratulations from Henry E. Ahlin, secretary of the National Shooting Association. He lauded the club for its great work in the past, expressed hope for a successful anniversary shoot and urged that the club continue its rise through the coming season.

It was a successful anniversary shoot. It was more than that. Triumph over obstacles and advancement of the club were the main things that were accomplished. The club had exceeded in the south was what it amounted to.

Tom Cassels, a pro returned amateur, smoked out the scratch division with a 34-0 victory. He was followed by Clyde King, who won with 32-0, and 42, and P. M. Gilbert with 40.

POPULAR VICTORY. What was probably the most popular victory of the season was recorded in the handicap division. Luther McDonald, age 12, showed his seniors a thing or two by posting a score of 56. He won the leather jacket. H. O. Davis, age 10, won with 55 and won a wool sweater.

Little Luther McDonald is one of the finest sportsmen in gun-shooting circles. He is a natural. He has been shot by him a deadly shot. He deserved to win. Once before he seemed to have a shoot ahead of him and he came late and beat his score.

Other leading scores in the handicap division: Bill Holbrook, 54; S. W. Roper, 52; R. E. Draper, 50; C. L. Davis, 50; A. G. Smith, 49; Hugh Nunnally, 48; William Healy, 48; Joe Wofford, 48; Oliver Healy, 47; W. H. Williams, 46; Healy, 45; and Mrs. Lamon, 45.

SIX CRACKERS SET FOR TRADES
Continued from First Sports Page.
ronto, their International league club which drafted him by proxy.

Henry Lamon, an outfielder, who hit only .285 but drove in over 100 runs, is counted on for a big year next season, having become acclimated so to speak and he is one outfielder who will be retained.

Joe Palmisano, the peppery "eye-talian" sits Moore as a receiver, but Hayes said he will be retained.

Auburn Is Fortified At Terminal Positions

Fenton and Morris Are Valuable Players and Chief Dependables of Tigers.

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 4.—No Southeastern conference football team is any better fortified on the terminals than Coach Jack Meagher's 1934 Alabama Polytechnic Institute eleven. A senior, Alternate-Captain Bennie Fenton, and a junior, Millard (Mutt) Morris, take care of the flank duties on Auburn's first team.

The famous Fenton electric words of praise from coaches after each of his weekly performances. He does all of his chores to perfection and both his coaches and rival mentors are superlatives in speaking of him. As he is a marvel at left end, possessing a fleet pair of feet, brains, strength and courage, his name has already been written in Auburn's Athletic Hall of Fame as one of the Tigers' greatest all-around ends of all time. He ranks alongside Gump Frazier, Porter Grant and other superb Plainesmen winners.

Acclaimed the past two seasons as a wizard on the defense and as a pass catcher, the illustrious Fenton has blossomed out this year as a fine ball carrier. He is used on reverses and is a speed demon with the "apple" tucked under his arms. A sterling run against L. S. U. for recording ability were main factors in Auburn scoring against Vanderbilt. Fenton is a senior from Lakeland, Fla., and was a member of the 1933 All-Southern eleven. Opposing players have been unanimous in saying he is the finest all-around end in the Southeast.

Probably the leading blocking end in Dixie, Morris, who hails from Blountville and stood out as tackle in the 1933 Southeastern championship game, is a senior from Lakeland, Fla., and was a member of the 1933 All-Southern eleven. Opposing players have been unanimous in saying he is the finest all-around end in the Southeast.

TAKE IT EASY. However, Mutt will be able to practice with the squad this week, although he will be held out of the rough work. There won't be a great deal of the latter anyway. Oglethorpe has a small squad and the coaches will steer away from anything that carries risk of injury.

So far no one has come forth with an accident policy for football players. That is, nothing that will compensate them being out at a time when they are needed most.

Belton Clark, the other casualty of the Erskine game, slipped and injured a shoulder. But he, too, has been checked and double-checked and pronounced well on the road to recovery.

Oglethorpe stepped out against the flying feet of Erskine last Friday and won its fifth straight victory of the season, 13-0. The team, coached by Chas. E. McCallum, is the only team in the Southeast that has won five straight games. The team is the only team in the Southeast that has won five straight games.

FLYING CARDINALS. Well, this Saturday the Stormy Petrels will engage the Flying Cardinals of the Catholic University. They have been doing quite a bit of extensive flying across opponents' goal lines, according to the season's record. The Cardinals have been very strong in this department in the last two games. Howard completed on three passes and Erskine managed to slip over but one.

EVEN IN LINE. Catholic hardly has a better line than Howard, whom Oglethorpe played to a standstill. This is obvious because Howard beat Ole Miss, a Southeastern, and the Ole Miss line almost wrecked Tulane Saturday.

But Catholic probably has a better offensive line than Howard. This is obvious because Howard beat Ole Miss, a Southeastern, and the Ole Miss line almost wrecked Tulane Saturday.

Minsk Is Chosen Leader of J. P. C.'s
The Jewish Progressive Club basketball team held its first practice yesterday under its new coach, "Dudy" Spielberger, and 16 players reported for the drill. They are: Captain and alternate captain.

"Pony" Minsk, veteran guard, was named leader of the Pryor street team, while Hank Browdy, star center, was made alternate captain.

ARIZMENDI WINS. MEXICO, D. F., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Baby Arizmendi, New York state featherweight champion, won a 10-round decision over Henry Armstrong, former champion, in the national stadium tonight.

65,000 Excited Japs Greet Babe in Opener
By Glenn Cobb.
TOKYO, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Babe Ruth, America's retiring Bambino of Swat, is still baseball's king in Japan.

The magnet of the home run name that has thrilled a generation of Americans packed 65,000 excited Japanese into Meiji Shrine stadium today to watch the Babe and his major league teammates overawe and rout the Tokyo Club All-Star 17 to 1.

Although the Japanese outfielders, who have announced his retirement as a player, made the crowd roar with practice drives into the stands before the Babe failed to contribute a circuit walk to the Americans' 1934 Japanese debut. In his first appearance on a foreign diamond, the Babe singled, once walked three times, grounded out twice, scored twice, drove in one run and heaved a wild throw from the outfield.

OUR ACQUAINTANCE GILBERT SUCCEUMBS IN LONDON

Famous English Sculptor Dies at 80 After Long Illness.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Sir Alfred Gilbert, England's most famous sculptor and often called the poorest businessman, died today at the age of 80.

He had been ill since June, and barely retained consciousness during the last few days.

Sir Alfred became famous over his disputes with British public works authorities concerning his famous statue of Eros in Piccadilly Circus.

As a result he went into self-imposed exile on the continent in 1907, vowing never to return. He then won several valued commissions, quit the Royal Academy, where he was an instructor, and went to live at Bruges.

Knowing he was in need, the Royal Academy granted him a $1,500 annuity, but he never touched the money.

After the express wish of the king, Sir Alfred returned to England 20 years later to finish his masterpiece, a memorial to the king's brother, the Duke of Clarence, at Windsor. Later he resigned the academy and in 1932 was knighted by the king.

Sir Alfred once called his statue of Eros "both my crown of thorns and my crowning glory."

His extravagant methods and his waywardness prevented him from ever becoming wealthy.

He once produced the winning design for a South African war memorial, but never produced the monument. Another time he smashed up a highly prized statue entitled "The Enchanted Chair," because he considered it unworthy of him.

REV. C. A. TAGE. LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Rev. Charles Allen Tague, 70, former president of Morris-Harvey College, Barbourville, W. Va., who died here Friday night, will be buried at 10 o'clock at Park, Ky., where he had resided in recent years. He was a superannuated minister and former missionary to Japan of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

Survivors include two sons, Mitchell A. Tague, Atlanta, Ga.; Lieutenant J. Robert Tague, now stationed on the U. S. Lexington, and a daughter, Mrs. D. W. Hardin, Boston, Mass.

LUTHER McCALLUM. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Luther McCallum, Memphis sportsman and widely known in the south for 25 years as a cotton man, died today of pneumonia. He was 50 years of age and had been ill for eight weeks. Mr. McCallum was president of the McCallum & Robinson, cotton pickery.

FREDERICK W. PALMER. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Frederick William Palmer, former president of the National Bakers' Association, and for more than 30 years a master baker here, died today. He was 77 years old, and a native of Kingston, N. C.

MARTIN L. BRADISH. CALAIS, Maine, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Martin L. Bradish, 92, believed to be the oldest citizen auditor in the United States, died here today.

DR. G. FORREST MARTIN. LOWELL, Mass., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Dr. G. Forrest Martin, physician and surgeon for more than 40 years and chairman of the board of trustees of the Massachusetts state hospital at Tewksbury, died today at his home here. He was in his seventy-fourth year. He was a fellow of the American College of Surgeons and past president of several local and state medical groups.

FRANKLIN SCHNEIDER. HOLLYWOOD, Fla., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Franklin Schneider, 71, retired president of the Van Dier Trol Company, of Cleveland, died in his winter home here early today after a brief illness.

MRS. ALDEN A. BURR. FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Alden A. Burr, 84, who came here 12 years ago from Lincoln, Neb., died today after a long illness.

TWO MEN ARE BURNED IN ACID EXPLOSION. BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 4.—(AP)—Two men were burned, one critically, today as a large tank of acid exploded at the National Aniline Company.

RETURN OF PROHIBITION PREDICTED BY PICKETT. WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The return of prohibition "within a very few years unless some policies are offered which will curb the liquor trade and contribute to temperance" was predicted today by Deets Pickett, research secretary of the National Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals.

STARLING. The starling has been described as a "naturalized American citizen of questionable character" in a recent book on bird life. This phrase, terse and to the point, sums up precisely the general opinion of the bird held by most of its acquaintances. From a publication issued in 1928 by the United States department of agriculture we find that starlings have been imported from Europe not once, but many times. From 1872 to 1880 there were half a dozen or more attempts to establish the starling in this country, but the two attempts of 1890 and 1891 are given the credit—or in this case, the blame—for being the first successful attempts. At that time 40 pairs were liberated each year in Central park, New York. The spread of the bird from that point, it seems, was slow, but as they became abundant, more and more individuals began to explore more distant places. In 1927 they were reported for the first time in Georgia, and in that same year they were sighted in Kentucky, Alabama, Florida, Michigan, Wisconsin, Kansas, Texas, Louisiana, as well as Ontario, Quebec, and Nova Scotia. It is not yet as well known in Georgia as it will become. Every few days someone brings in or sends me a starling, with the statement that it is something new in their experience and requesting a name for it. I wish it might be a rare bird. In fact, I wish it might become extinct. That is impossible, unless the gods of natural law send a scourge of parasites or an epidemic disease to sweep them from the American scene. They are extremely rare, I fear, in contrast with what might be coming.

There is another starling becoming established in America. In this case it is an oriental species called the Chinese Starling or crossed Myioph. Little is to be learned about how this species landed in this country, but it was recently reported to be moving westward from Vancouver, British Columbia, through Oregon, and probably by now in the state of Washington as well. It is to be hoped that conditions on the Pacific coast may be so much to their liking that they will never brave the great plains to visit their quarrelsome relatives on this coast. Some California chamber of commerce is certain to sell them on the idea of staying west so we need not worry about this great deal. Two starlings and the English sparrow are enough to condemn imports of birds.

On the Radio Waves Today

336.9 Meters	WGST 890 Kilocycles	405.2 Meters	WSB 740 Kilocycles
6:00 A. M.—Tweedy Brothers.	6:15—Cook's String band.	6:30—Morning Devotions, NBC.	6:45—Morning music, NBC.
6:45—Musical Sundial.	6:50—The Starline orchestra, NBC.	7:00—Breakfast Club orchestra, NBC.	7:10—Hooters, NBC.
8:00—Modern Minors, CBS.	8:15—Christie Connell.	8:20—Modern Minors, CBS.	8:30—Press Radio News and the Constitution, CBS.
9:00—Harmoneum, CBS.	9:15—Cliff Newton, "The Song Reporter."	9:30—Savitt Serenade with Dianne, CBS.	9:45—Harmoneum, CBS.
10:00—Marjette Hall.	10:15—The Old Philosopher.	10:30—Connie Gates and Jimmy Briely.	10:45—The Old Philosopher.
11:00—The Old Philosopher.	11:15—Concert Miniatures, CBS.	11:30—Dick Messner orchestra, CBS.	11:45—Concert Miniatures, CBS.
12:00—Allan Leifer orchestra, CBS.	12:15—P. M.—Mar in the Street.	12:30—Stanley Malotte, news rhymist, NBC.	12:45—Stanley Malotte, news rhymist, NBC.
1:00—The Old Philosopher.	1:15—Concert Miniatures, CBS.	1:30—Bill Gatin's Jug band.	1:45—Morning music, NBC.
2:00—The Old Philosopher.	2:15—Concert Miniatures, CBS.	2:30—The Old Philosopher.	2:45—Morning music, NBC.
3:00—The Old Philosopher.	3:15—Concert Miniatures, CBS.	3:30—The Old Philosopher.	3:45—Morning music, NBC.
4:00—The Old Philosopher.	4:15—Concert Miniatures, CBS.	4:30—The Old Philosopher.	4:45—Morning music, NBC.
5:00—The Old Philosopher.	5:15—Concert Miniatures, CBS.	5:30—The Old Philosopher.	5:45—Morning music, NBC.
6:00—The Old Philosopher.	6:15—Concert Miniatures, CBS.	6:30—The Old Philosopher.	6:45—Morning music, NBC.
7:00—The Old Philosopher.	7:15—Concert Miniatures, CBS.	7:30—The Old Philosopher.	7:45—Morning music, NBC.
8:00—The Old Philosopher.	8:15—Concert Miniatures, CBS.	8:30—The Old Philosopher.	8:45—Morning music, NBC.
9:00—The Old Philosopher.	9:15—Concert Miniatures, CBS.	9:30—The Old Philosopher.	9:45—Morning music, NBC.
10:00—The Old Philosopher.	10:15—Concert Miniatures, CBS.	10:30—The Old Philosopher.	10:45—Morning music, NBC.
11:00—The Old Philosopher.	11:15—Concert Miniatures, CBS.	11:30—The Old Philosopher.	11:45—Morning music, NBC.
12:00—The Old Philosopher.	12:15—Concert Miniatures, CBS.	12:30—The Old Philosopher.	12:45—Morning music, NBC.

Shrine Mosque WJTL 1370 Kilocycles.
7:00 A. M.—Sign on, Oglethorpe chimes.
7:05—Devotional period.
7:10—Morning music, NBC.
7:15—Morning music, NBC.
7:20—Morning music, NBC.
7:25—Morning music, NBC.
7:30—Morning music, NBC.
7:35—Morning music, NBC.
7:40—Morning music, NBC.
7:45—Morning music, NBC.
7:50—Morning music, NBC.
7:55—Morning music, NBC.
8:00—Morning music, NBC.
8:05—Morning music, NBC.
8:10—Morning music, NBC.
8:15—Morning music, NBC.
8:20—Morning music, NBC.
8:25—Morning music, NBC.
8:30—Morning music, NBC.
8:35—Morning music, NBC.
8:40—Morning music, NBC.
8:45—Morning music, NBC.
8:50—Morning music, NBC.
8:55—Morning music, NBC.
9:00—Morning music, NBC.
9:05—Morning music, NBC.
9:10—Morning music, NBC.
9:15—Morning music, NBC.
9:20—Morning music, NBC.
9:25—Morning music, NBC.
9:30—Morning music, NBC.
9:35—Morning music, NBC.
9:40—Morning music, NBC.
9:45—Morning music, NBC.
9:50—Morning music, NBC.
9:55—Morning music, NBC.
10:00—Morning music, NBC.
10:05—Morning music, NBC.
10:10—Morning music, NBC.
10:15—Morning music, NBC.
10:20—Morning music, NBC.
10:25—Morning music, NBC.
10:30—Morning music, NBC.
10:35—Morning music, NBC.
10:40—Morning music, NBC.
10:45—Morning music, NBC.
10:50—Morning music, NBC.
10:55—Morning music, NBC.
11:00—Morning music, NBC.
11:05—Morning music, NBC.
11:10—Morning music, NBC.
11:15—Morning music, NBC.
11:20—Morning music, NBC.
11:25—Morning music, NBC.
11:30—Morning music, NBC.
11:35—Morning music, NBC.
11:40—Morning music, NBC.
11:45—Morning music, NBC.
11:50—Morning music, NBC.
11:55—Morning music, NBC.
12:00—Morning music, NBC.

On the Air Today

VOTES—Responsible leaders of the two major parties will put their cases to the people in two broadcasts today over the nation-wide Columbia network and WGST. Columbia microphones at Los Angeles and San Francisco will also bring a pre-election survey of the Sinclair-Merriam contest to an anxious people.

Campaign summaries will be made by Democratic Chief Farley and Republican Fletcher in 15-minute addresses this evening. Fletcher will speak at 9 o'clock, to be immediately followed by the postmaster-general.

CBS outlets in California will send announcers into the streets to interview passing citizens (through a lap microphone) on their political views. This broadcast may be heard this afternoon from 12:15 to 12:30 o'clock.

PONSELLE—Franz Schubert's "The Erl King" will be sung by Rosa Ponselle during her broadcast with Andre Kostelanetz' orchestra and chorus over WGST this evening from 8 to 8:30 o'clock. Her other selections are Strauss' "Tales from Vienna Woods"; "Go to Sleep, My Dusky Baby"; Dvorak's "When I Have Sung My Songs"; by Charles.

1,000TH—What is probably Columbia's most popular serial dramatization, "Mystery and Magic," will be on the air for the 1,000th performance tonight during the broadcast over WGST at 10 o'clock. Last Friday marked their third microphone year.

"MORAN"—The original Moran of "Moran and Mack," Bert Swor, will become "end man" of the "Modern Men's—Boys' Overalls."

The Army Store (DUCKETT, INC.) 79 ALABAMA ST., S. W.

DO YOU KNOW
Chinese law prohibits red automobiles because of religious reasons? . . . You are not prohibited from keeping CAMPHO-PHENYQUE, the soothing antiseptic, in your home because of cost. It sells for 30 cents everywhere and leading physicians unhesitatingly recommend it for treating cuts, burns, insect bites and scratches. Ask your druggist for CAMPHO-PHENYQUE—today.—(adv.)

WIN $1,000
More Than $2,500.00 Cash To Be Paid In Prizes
First fully qualified winner gets $1,000.00. If prompt a latest model Chevrolet Sedan as an Extra Prize. Second fully qualified winner gets $500.00. Third fully qualified winner gets $250.00. All winners will receive a $100.00 cash prize. Some are in going to win. It might as well be you. BE PROMPT! Mail your answer NOW!—Don't delay—and be sure your name and address are written plainly on your answer sheet.

H. G. MILLER, Editor Puzzle Game, The Constitution Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA
The Buying Center of the Southeast

ROUND TABLE OF BUSINESS

Edited by Jack Tubbs

ATLANTA
The Headquarters of Diversified Industry

Baxter Maddox Agency Reports Large Increase in Life Insurance Sales

RECORD IS LAUDED BY J. L. LOOMIS ON ATLANTA VISIT

Connecticut Mutual Chief
Personally Congratulates Local Executive on Achievement.

The Baxter Maddox Agency, of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company had the signal honor recently of a visit by James Lee Loomis, president of the company, for the purpose of personally congratulating the agency on its splendid achievement during the past 10 months.

Mr. Maddox reports that the business from January 1 to November 1 this year has been two and one-half times the volume for the same period of 1933. The October paid-for business was more than three times that for last October and was the best month in a number of years.

During the visit of Mr. Loomis he was the honor guest at a luncheon held in his honor at the Capital City Club, attended by all the agents in this territory.

The remarkable increase in business was attributed by Mr. Maddox to several factors.

"Improved business conditions," he asserted, "of course, played a considerable part. The public appreciation of the value and stability of life insurance was responsible in a large measure—no other form of investment institution having come through the recent depression with such outstanding results as the life insurance companies."

"Another strongly contributing factor is the attractive forms of policies offered by the Connecticut Mutual. The retirement idea is very prominent in the minds of people—both men and women—and increased sales result as people learn the sure, easy and systematic way of making the future absolutely secure. These plans for future guaranteed income are success."

Luncheon for Connecticut Mutual Head

The above photo was taken at the luncheon tendered by General Agents Carlton E. Stevens and Baxter Maddox, on October 15, at the Capital City Club in honor of President James Lee Loomis of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company. Front row, left to right, Miss Carrie Lee Waddell, Atlanta; Miss Martha Strother, Perry; George D. Bell, Tignall; Mrs. Emaline Neilson, Atlanta; Carlton E. Stevens, general agent, Macon; President Loomis; Baxter Maddox, general agent, Atlanta; Paul Byrley, Atlanta; Albert Erwin Jr., Atlanta; B. L. Hollis, Crawfordville. Back row, left to right, M. L. Harper, supervisor, Atlanta; Spurgeon Stoneypher, Winder; Spencer Waddell, Columbus; G. Clisby Clarke, Macon; James Holland, Savannah; V. W. Helmly, Savannah; George F. Weyman, Atlanta; N. Anonovich, Atlanta; Pat H. Rice Jr., Augusta; A. Peniston Smith, College Park; Horace R. Cole, Carrollton; Johnnie Selser, cashier, Macon.

available at attractive rates, both with and without insurance, in a large variety of forms to suit individual needs."

Last, but by no means least, Mr. Maddox gives credit to his high-type sales organization. All salesmen are carefully selected and given individual comprehensive training, emphasis at all times being placed on a superior organization, each member functioning properly, rather than on a large, loosely organized agency.

Mr. Maddox says he expects to add some high-type men to the agency force during the present year, to be selected on the strict qualifications that he feels will practically assure their success.

Economy Auto Stores Distributes New Catalog to Atlanta Motorists

Automobile owners, long forced by economic stress to sacrifice minor auto needs, are seeking again to give their cars the trim appearance of pre-depression days, according to E. S. Walkley, of Economy Auto Stores, which maintains headquarters at Whitehall and Mitchell streets, with three branch stores.

The business success met by this recently established concern is indicative of a steady upward trend. Mr. Walkley declares, adding that Economy Auto Stores sales volume in recent months has been unusually good. As a result of this business improvement, the organization recently opened a new unit—its fourth—in Macon.

Economy Auto Stores, Mr. Walkley states, has just issued its new catalog for the coming year, which has been mailed already to many thousands of automobile owners, and which may be obtained by others upon request. Economy Auto Stores are perhaps more completely stocked than any similar concerns in the southeast to serve the motorists' needs. Every type of auto accessory is included in its displays, and the automobile owner who demands quality as well as economy, will do well to visit one of these stores.

Mr. Walkley states his concern has just taken over a new line of bicycles—Rollfast—and other wheel goods, in anticipation of a considerably increased demand for such goods during the holiday season. The Rollfast bicycle, he asserts, is one of the sturdiest made, and would make a splendid Christmas gift to any boy or girl.

In this connection, he calls attention to the company's special lay-

SOU. GARMENT CO. ENDING 10TH YEAR, OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Season Bids Fair To Be Best in Several Years,
Stock House Executive Declares.

Business prospects for the coming season are better than in several years, declares E. H. Bach, president and secretary of the Southern Garment Company, 112 Mitchell street, S. E., which is nearing the close of its tenth year.

It is but natural, says Mr. Bach, that the Southern Garment Company should be riding the crest of the incoming business tide, for it is a concern which, despite the depression pitfalls, has kept faith with its steadily growing circle of customers. Throughout its existence, it has effected constant enlargement of its facilities and stocks, with a consequent "steady improvement" in its splendid service to the retailer.

The Southern Garment Company is the oldest ready-to-wear jobber and stock house distributor in Atlanta, specializing in ladies' and misses' coats, suits and dresses, and since its establishment nearly a decade ago has achieved the steadfast confidence of countless retailers throughout the southeast.

Much of the company's success, Mr. Bach points out, is due to the fact it employs no road men, saving money in that respect and being able to pass this saving on to the customer. Many retailers within a 100-mile radius of Atlanta, he states, who make frequent visits to the Southern Garment Company's spacious sales and showrooms, effect additional savings by carrying their purchases with them.

The Southern Garment Company maintains at all times an ever-changing stock of several thousands of garments, including hundreds of styles from which the buyer may make instant selections. All colors, styles and sizes are available for immediate delivery—a considerable advantage over the former procedure of buying in the east, with delivery dependent upon manufacturing contingencies.

away plan, by which one may insure the holding of any bicycle for future delivery by making a small down payment. Suitable terms may be arranged.

Finest of Steaks and Chops Served at Seven Seas Cafe

At the popular Seven Seas cafe, at the corner of Forsyth street and Williams, discriminating Atlantans have discovered a pleasing luncheon or dinner rendezvous where the finest of chops, steaks and sea foods are served. The pleasing marine atmosphere of the Seven Seas has a tonic effect on the jaded appetite.

The mere mention of "steaks, chops and seafoods" means but little to the average diner, but when mentioned in connection with the popular Seven Seas cafe it conjures up pictures of epicurean masterpieces.

When the Seven Seas cafe was established several months ago, at the heart of downtown Atlanta, it was designed by its far-seeing management to fill a long-felt need in Atlanta—to be a place where the choicest foods available could be served, at reasonable cost, to discriminating diners. In this aim it has succeeded far beyond its expectations.

A large part of the reason for this success is found in its featured cuisine—steaks, chops and seafoods. Theo Athen, the genial and popular manager of the Seven Seas, through long experience in catering to the appetites of discriminating persons, resolved first to specialize in seafoods—an aim quite in keeping with the marine atmosphere of the Seven Seas. As a result, daily shipments of the choicest and most select fish, oysters, shrimp, lobsters and other seafoods are received daily by fast express direct from the Atlantic and Gulf coasts—he placed before the diner within but a few hours after they are caught. Freshness and quality are the prime considerations, and the popularity of Seven Seas seafoods has been their reward.

No less care is taken by the man-

BROWER CANDY CO. OFFERING FINEST HOLIDAY VALUES

Gift 'Deal' Includes Four-Quart Enamel Dutch
Oven and $5 Hat With 100-Pound Order.

Despite "hard times talk" evident on every hand, declares William M. Wallace, president of the Brower Candy Company, 187 Edgewood avenue, S. E., never before has the retailer been assured of such high values and of such certain profits as at this season.

To back up his assertion, Mr. Wallace cites two "deals" now being offered to retailers throughout the southeast in anticipation of the Christmas trade.

The first is the Red Seal 100-pound mixture of high-grade Christmas candies, including French creams, hard candies and chocolates. As a feature of this "deal," the Brower Candy Company is giving therewith, free of charge, a fine, four-quart, double-bottomed, porcelain enamel Dutch oven, with patented heat-resisting knob handle. And for good measure, Mr. Wallace states, "for the old man himself," a handsome Shelton fur felt, valued at $5, will be included without additional cost.

The company again this year is featuring the long popular five-pound Palm Scene box of assorted chocolates. The Palm Scene box, Mr. Wallace states, has been in annual demand in the past not only because of the fine grade of candy but because of the value of the beautiful box.

LOANS ON HOMES

AT INTEREST RATE AS LOW AS

6%

MONTHLY PAYMENTS AS LOW AS

$7.50

FOR EACH $1,000, INCLUDING PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST.

FIRST FEDERAL

SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION

(Formerly First Mutual Building & Loan Ass'n)

23 AUBURN AVE. EST. 1924. WA. 7524

ERNEST G. BEAUDRY

Authorized Dealer

169-175 Marietta St., N. W. Est. 1916. JA. 0445

ELLIS ROOFING
GENUINE
RU-BER-OID
ROOFS
RIGHT FOR OVER
40 YEARS
APPLIED BY
Ellis Roofing Company
686 Greenwood Ave., N. E.
HE. 1131

STORAGE
Est. 1891
Our 43rd year of satisfactory service.
Our estimator will call without obligation to you.
Better Service at a Low Cost.
258 Edgewood Ave., S. E. Phone JA. 2036

SPECIALIZED SPRING SERVICE
FRONT AXLE AND WHEEL ALIGNING
DRENNON & ZAHN, Inc.
AUTOMOBILE SPECIALISTS
449 MARIETTA ST. JA. 4381-2
Fenders, Springs and Other Things

BUY LIFE INSURANCE NOW
He, Who Has a Wife and Children, Has Given Hostages to Fortune—Bacon.
WITH life's increasing responsibilities comes the corresponding need for adequate Life Insurance Protection.
HAVE YOU ENOUGH?
UNION CENTRAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
THOR E. DANIEL, GENERAL AGENT
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BLDG.
NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
LUTHER E. ALLEN, GENERAL AGENT
PEACHTREE ARCADE BUILDING.

THE NEW 'CATERPILLAR'
OIL BURNER FARM TRACTOR
Saves Fuel Cost
"CATERPILLAR" Diesel Power Units
YANCEY BROS., Inc.
634 WHITEHALL ST. ATLANTA, GA.

MCCORMICK-DEERING FARMALLS
Will Do a Better Job
INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY OF AMERICA

HOLLAND TIRE CO., Inc.
Exclusive Distributor
KELLY SPRINGFIELD TIRES AND TUBES
28-30 Ivy St. WA. 0700
Ivy St. Garage Bldg.

Chrysler-Plymouth
Harry Sommers, Inc.
Distributors Since 1924

Superior Quality WIPING RAGS—POLISHING CLOTHS
Guaranteed Washed and Sterilized ROTHSCHILD & CO.
329 DECATUR ST., S. E. WA. 0533

YOUR INCOME!
Are you getting the maximum income from your real estate?
We represent property owners living in 31 states and foreign countries. 70 per cent of them live in Atlanta.
Consult us regarding your real estate!
Ask the owners we represent!
Sharp-Boylston Co. REALTORS
WA. 2930 39-41 Forsyth St., N. W.

THE Model Laundry
DRY CLEANERS—LAUNDERERS
Houston at Jackson. WA. 2372
"There Is No Substitute for Quality"

HOLIDAY GOODS
Toys, Dolls and Novelties
THE LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF WELL-SELECTED HOLIDAY MERCHANDISE IN THE SOUTH.
Wholesale Only—Usual Holiday Terms
C. E. ALLEN & CO.
234 Mitchell St., S. W., Near Terminal Station ATLANTA, GA.

FOOTE & DAVIES CO.
PRINTING
LITHOGRAPHING ENGRAVING
BRIEFS
FORMS
OFFICE SUPPLIES
PLANT AT CAPITOL AND HILTON AVES., S.W.
PHONE WA. 4600
15 EDGEMOOR AVE., S.W.

MILHOUS, GAINES & MAYES
Southern State, County and Municipal Bonds
BOUGHT—SOLD—QUOTED : : : INQUIRIES INVITED
RHODES-HAVERTY BUILDING
ATLANTA, GEORGIA WEBB CRAWFORD BUILDING BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

EAST POINT CHEVROLET CO.
NEW CARS — USED CARS

FUEL OIL
FOR
All Makes of Oil Burners
WE ARE JOBBERS FOR AMERICAN OIL COMPANY PRODUCTS
NATIONAL PRODUCTS OIL CO.
1010 MARIETTA, N. W. HE. 1000

COMFORTABLY COOL
Good Food!
enjoy it every day
The Harvey Way
Charcoal Broiled Steaks, French Fried Potatoes, Head Lettuce 55c
HARVEY'S RESTAURANT
OPEN ALL NIGHT
98 LUCKIE, N. W., WA. 7159

ATTENTION MERCHANTS
ON THE RACKS—IMMEDIATE DELIVERY
NEW FALL
COATS — SUITS — DRESSES
POPULAR PRICES—TERMS 8-10 EOM.
ALL SIZES—ALL COLORS—ALL NEW STYLES.
SOUTHERN GARMENT CO., Inc.
110-114 MITCHELL ST., S. W. ATLANTA, GA.

Build Your Driveway on the Deferred Payment Plan
Emulsified asphalt driveways are made from the latest scientific materials. Cheapest and most durable new driveway you can build—excellent for resurfacing and patching old driveways. Estimates and full information without obligation.
Emulsifide Asphalt Co., Inc.
Office Phone CHeese 3017 740 HORNADAY ST., N. W. Z. O. BOX 4—STA. D. Plant Phone XEmlock 9787

DINE AT THE 7 SEAS
Special Luncheon 35c to 55c
Special 7 Seas Dinner 55c and 75c
A Rendezvous for After-Theater Parties
THE 7 SEAS CAFE
104 FORSYTH
Opposite Rhodes-Haverty Bldg.

100,000 Sq. Feet
MORE THAN TWO ACRES!
FLOOR SPACE
Greater Selection
STERCHI'S

BRAKE SERVICE
AXLE AND WHEEL ALIGNMENT — SPRING SERVICE
FACTORY TRAINED MEN
HARRIS RIM & WHEEL CO.
404-406 WEST PEACHTREE ST.

NOW OPEN
Atlanta's Leading Cafe
SHIP-A-HOY
TO FEATURE SEAFOOD, STEAKS, CHOPS, CHOP SUEY
LUCKIE AND FAIRLIE

Economy Auto Stores
WHITEHALL AT MITCHELL ST.
"EVERYTHING FOR THE CAR"
ASK FOR OUR CATALOGUE

MONEY ROOF
WHEN YOU BUY A ROOF
Consider the Reliability of Your Roofer
FLINTKOTE Distributors
Georgia Roofing Supply Co.
52 Mangum St. MA. 5429

